

Communist Party of New Zealand
People's Voice / New Zealand Communist Review

Sketch of organisational developments in New Zealand

Socialist Unity Party 1966
 Pro-Soviet supporters led by G. Jackson and Alexander Drennan

Socialist Party of Aotearoa 1990

Communist Party of Aotearoa Formed out of a group who split from the CPNZ in 1974. It stopped functioning later in the 1970s and is not related to the CPA founded in 1993.

Marxist-Leninist Organisation 1970
 Formed when NZCP Wellington branch leadership were expelled.
 Merged in 1980 with the Northern Communist organisation to form the Workers' Communist League
Published: Unity
 Dissolved 1991

Preparatory Committee for the Formation of the Communist Party of New Zealand (Marxist-Leninist) 1978
 Those pro-Mao elements, including Wilcox, Alec Ostler and Don Ross. Absorbed those associated with the Struggle magazine formed around 1976

NZ Red Flag Group 1980-mid-1990s
Red Flag

Organisation for Marxist Unity 1988
 new name for Preparatory Committee. Active in Campaign Against Foreign Control of Aotearoa - ACFCA.
Struggle

Marxist-Leninist Collective 1993 -1997
 pro-Albanian elements.

Communist Party of Aotearoa 1993
 pro-Maoist opposition to the development of a state capitalist analysis under CP General Secretary Grant Morgan, and its adaptation to trotskyism. Online presence to about 2006
Red Flag

Workers' Party of New Zealand 1991
The Spark

Socialist Workers Organisation 1994
 CPNZ merger with International Socialist Organisation from the Trotskyists tradition.

International Socialist Organisation formed by former ISO elements in 1995 critical of practices within SWO.
Socialist Review

Anti-Capitalist Alliance 2002
 Electoral broad front with The Revolution Group. Merge with the WPNZ saw formation of the Revolutionary Workers League 2004
Struggle

Fight Back 2013
Fightback

Renamed: Socialist Workers / Aotearoa
 Dissolved 2012

Socialist Aotearoa 2008
 Auckland-based