WORKERS OF THE WORLD. UNITE

IV

Weekly Organ of the Communist League of America [Opposition] Entered as second class mail matter, November 28, 1928 at the Post Office at New York, N. Y. under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOLUME NO. 21 [WHOLE NO. 80]

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, AUGUST 29, 1931

THEMILITANT

PRICE 5 CENTS

The End of the Labor Cabinet 34 Kentucky Miners Framed; 18 On Trial In Pennsylvania

Wall Street Cracks the Whip and MacDonald Jumps

...

The second Labor party government of garchs. Only the humble, plebian, christ England has pased into limbo, and its ian MacDonald is low enough to execute departure will not be marked by the so menial and humiliating a task. It is slightest feeling of regret by any class too debasing a job for the high-born Sir conscious worker. For twenty-six months, Neville Chamberlains, aristocratic Lord it limped along on the unsteady crutch Irwins and Sir Samuel Hoares, or even supplied it by the sufferance of the Libcountry squires like Baldwin. A fine eral party votes. The unemployment role for the socialist statesman of the problem which it undertook to solve new order! Yet why not? If one must when it assumed office has not only been act as a footstool to imperialism, why left without solution, but has increased not crawl under the feet of the mightiest in magnitude and acuteness. The workimperialism in the world?

ers' standard of living which it so nobly promised to preserve, has sunk to a lower level-no struggle of resistance to wage cuts met with anything but a frown and implicit sabotage from the statesmen of the Second International. If the Indian workers and peasants did not suffer more than they did under an imperialist regime of blood and iron, it was not for lack of willingness on the part of his majesty's most loyal socialists-Laborite bullets and police clubs were distributed just as freely among the Indians striving for freedom as they were in the wildest days of any Tory government

If anything, the second appearance of the MacDonald minstry surpassed the tish labor movement. Every rogue, evfirst only in the vileness of its servility can be said about its record in power is that it was just one shade less revolting than the praises sung for it in the United States by Norman Thomas, Oswald Villard, and the refined gentlemen of the same kidnev.

MacDonald and the Dole

The Labor government was shivered on the reef of a distinctly class issue. The doubt that these Left wing I. L. P. ex- the 34 coal miners to the electric chair. perts in radical talk and timid inaction official register for unemployed on August 10 showed a figure more than double that registered when "laber" came to power. Far from diminishing in bulk, unemployment has come to stricken English economy to stay. Canute could easier command the waves of the sea to recede than MacDonald could decrease the number of jobless or figure out a "good" way of solving the problem. Out of the $600,000,000 deficit estimated for the next budget, some $200,000,000 was calculated as the sum the government would have to advance, nominally as a "loan" to the unemployment insurance fund-the dole-but actually as a sub-The dole, which was originally sidy. conceived as a "self-sustaining" institution has been met for almost nine years by a permanent government contribu-Entirely unwilling and unable to tion. cut the Gordian knot with a socialist sword, the idol of the social democracy of Stalinism. . . tionary a manner as any "objective"

Unity of Conflicting Defense Movements Needed to Strengthen the Struggle

Before the echoes of the big strikes in, their betrayals of the coal miners for Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky have died out, and while the rumblings of new anti-starvation rebellions are being heard again in the coal fields, miners by the dozens are being dragged into coal operators' courts to be rail-

It will not be for long. Four weeks roaded to the electric chair or to long or four months, and MacDonald's day is done, perhaps never to return to that terms of imprisonment. The coal barons position again. Feeling is running high thirst for vengeance upon the miners who against him in the ranks of his own dared to fight against the dreadful exploiparty. The men whom only yesterday he tation to which they were submitted. threatened with expulsion from the Labor Their thirst will be slaked only when party are now joined with others to the corrupt judges have put through the threaten him, MacDonald, and Snowden frame-up charges and send the mine with the same measure. The mood of militants to death in the electric chair the working masses is unmistakable. or to a living death in prison. Nothing but a high tide sweeping towards

In Harlan, Kentucky, the grand jury the Left could wash so inveterate a re is still in session and continues to turn actionary as Hendreson away from his out one indictment for murder after anmoorings. From now on and for a long other. The thirty-four miners who are time, every day will be field day for his up for trial in connection with killings demagogues and windjammers in the Brithat occurred last May at Evarts with four fatalities, now have more than a ery former henchman of MacDonald, to imperialism. The kindest thing that every clever artificer of phrases will hundred indictments issued against them. A new legal assassination is being planseek to capitalize on the growing disned by the Kentucky barons of coal and contentment of the workers. Far and their judical serfs. This time it is to away in the lead in this despicable game be executed with dispatch and on a --- it is not difficult to foretell---will be mass scale so that there may be less the Maxtons and the Wheatleys and the opportunity to arouse a powerful work-

(to say nothing of outright treason at the "proper time") will reap the rich

Citrines who themselves crawled out of ers' protest movement in time. The CHICAGO .the MacDonald swamp only the day beprosecution is fully determined to send fore. A tragedy, too. For there is no

18 on Trial in Washingtion

In Washington, Pa., the trial of another 18 miners has begun. Were it harvest of proletarian dissatisfaction, of working class antagonism to MacDonald not for the tragic implications of the case, its farcical aspects would assert and his "new economy", of working class desire and demand for militant actionthemselves. In this principality of coal and steel, the jury was selected secretthe rich harvest which the Communists should reap, but which they appear to be ly. The defense attorney was not even given the right to question prospective still incapable of even approaching. jurors. Defense representatives who Over this whole vast canvas of events which will still unroll before us in all merely attempted to copy the names of their enormous economic and political the jurors, were run out of the courtroom. consequences for England and the rest Press representatives, at least of the of the world, the Communist party is Daily Worker and the Federated Press, not to be found occupying the place are refused admittance to the court ses-which logically belongs to it. Its name sions which are held in virtually star chamber style. The most despicable feais not even mentioned. It lies some ture of the whole trial, which may end where in an obscure corner-groggy, crippled and bleeding from the thousand with five years terms for each of the wounds which a cruelly irresponsible defendants involved is the fact that loombureaucracy in the Comintern has inflicting directly behind the prosecution are property. One can imagine an ignorant the two principal officials of the Pitts- worker or a hypocritical politician deed upon it for six years. What a horsword, the hole of the social demotracy rible price is being paid for the victories burgh district of the United Mine Work- manding that the capitalist judges give ers of America, Pat Fagan and Phil Mur- the "death penalty" to those who are which stand out most prominently in the years gone by. class war in the coal fields. They are It was at a meeting in Canonsburg not the only ones, for there are dozens about a month ago that striking miners of smaller cases being fought in almost came to a Fagan meeting at which he every section of the active mining terwas trying to act his role of scab herdritory. But they are the most dramatic er as best he could under the circumstances. Surrounded though he was by barons and their court to railroad fighthis armed thugs, Fagan got the short ing workingmen to the electric chair or end of the stick in a struggle that took to years of imprisonment.

place. As a result of the fight, the eigh-And unless the whole working class teen defendants, led by Leo Thompson, is immediately aroused to a comprehenone of the most active strike organizers have been indicted for conspiracy, unlaw ful assembly and inciting to riot. not to speak of assault and kattery. They will have the "consolation" of knowing that besides the coal operators standing behind the prosecution, the official spokesmen of the A. F. of L. bureau cracy is giving all the aid and comfort it can to the state's forces.

Harlan and Washington-these are the rising protest movement. Such a move

tions that it will destroy the malevolent sion of the imminency of the danger to these fighters, the records will contain another victory for capitalist class justice. Every minute lost now is a minute that cannot be regained. In both cases, the plan of the prosecution is a swift trial, swift execution of sentence They are dominated by the fear of a ment must really swell to such propor

two group cases of frame-up victims plans of the prosecution.

Bureaucrats Sabotage United Front in Chicago Jobless Conference

The objective conditions have forced Immediately after the latest terroristic the party officials to accept certain of the campaign (murder of four unemployed) Opposition's unemployment proposals, as of the Chicago bosses and landlords to witness the United Front Unemployment crush the growing unemployment move- Conference held August 16th at the Peoment, two leaflets came out. One was ple's auditorium in Chicago. This Unfrom the Chicago district committee, the employment Conference was a prelimin-Communist party; the other issued by ary one, so to speak, having two purthe Chicago branch of the Communist poses: (1) to organize all possible forces in preparation for the September 13th Conference so that delegates are present The party bureaucrats' utter inability from all possible working class organito analyze a struggle correctly, and correctly to lead the workers in times of ztiaons in Cook County and (2) to elect tense situations, showed itself very cleara delegation of 25 to present the demands of the Unemployed Councils to ly in their leaflet-their main demands heing "We demand death penalty for the murderers of the workers" and "arrest This is what happened. Rybicki who had physically forced Hugo Ochler away from the hall entrance but a short time before, opened the United Front Unemployment Conference in the name of the T. U. U. L. and assisted in electing the chairman, vice-chairman and secretary Slips of paper were passed around with

The protest movement must have the widest possible foundation and scope. Throughout the country, the Left wing must be in the fore to assemble all the workers' organizations on a united front basis so as to spike the game of the examples of the determination of the coal judical assassins. Anybody who places the separate interests of one group above the interests of the united movement is playing directly in to the hands of the prosecution. Unfortunately, there is more than a tendency to pursue such a disastrous course, particularly in the case of the Harlan miners. The press of the I. W. W. on the one hand, and of the I. L. D. and the official party on the other, are filled with mutual denunciations. Each claims the exclusive 'rights" to the defense of the Kentucky victims as though the case were a piece of private property. Each makes extravagant charges against the other's alleged endeavor to make sectarian capital out of the case. The anti-Communist phobia of the present leaders of the L W. W. is no secret. Just as well-known is the sectarian policy which the I. L. D. has followed under its present leadership. But to allow such a scandalous situation to last for even another day is to compromise hopelessly the cause of the endangered miners and the movement for them that must be built forthwith No mass movement will be built upon the basis of petty bickerings between the rival defense organizations in the interests of a fantastic prestige. The urgent, unpostponable need of the hour is a joint defense movement of the I. W. W. Defense Committee and the I. I. D. We feel it our duty to say that those who stand in the way of this joining of forces, are imperilling the favorable outcome of the defense!

In the meantime, defense funds are desperately needed. Money for the I. L. D. should be sent to its headquarters at Governor Emerson's fake Relief Commit- 80 East 11th St., Room 430, New York, N. Y. The General Defense Committee of the I. W. W., which is also collecting funds for the Kentucky miners, has its office at 555 W. Lake Street, Chicago, Ill. Give generously, and more than that, act swiftly to forge a well-joined iron ring of solidarity around the frameup victims of Washington and Kenutcky. Do not permit our fighters to burn in the chair or to rot in the masters' dun-

(Continued on page 4) geons.

Tory would endorse: Cut the wretchedly inadequate dole by ten percent. Cut the paltry wages of the civil service employees. Erect a reactionary tariff wall stuffs which the worker pays for and consumes. That will balance the budget and cover the deficit.

And balanced it had to be, for the potentates of Wall Street had cracked the whip! Gone is Britannia's pride and power and glory. When Wall Street cracks the whip, the MacDonalds dance, even if the prouder and more aristocratic Chamberlains only shuffle around stiffly. Since July, the gold withdrawals from England to France and the United Staes have taken on serious proportions. To meet the pressure thus created upon it, the Bank of England was compelled to borrow a quarter of a billion dollars, equally divided between the Bank of France and the United States Federal Reserve Bank. But these credits advanced to sustain the price of sterling bills has been almost completely exhausted. More credits must be secured to maintain the fragile par quotation for sterling. And where are they to come from if not from the United States? But the New York Federal Reserve Bank, already deeply enough involved politely referred its humble client to "private bankers". Under this term is concealed the name of the House of Morgan, Britain's fiscal agent in the United States for decades. But before another penny is to be advanced to England, the American bankers demanded guarantees Balance the budget! To make it plainer, if it were not plain enough, the British banks elucidated: Cut the dole, cut wages-cover the deficit with the stripped hide of the proletariat.

The Collapse of the Cabinet

But the hide of the proletariat is not so lightly stripped. How strong the resentment of the British proletariat is against MacDonald's brutal "economy plans", proceeds clearly from the split in the Labor party's ranks. Labor cheapjacks of every description, from the "Left" wing leaders of the trade unions to the reactionary Henderson, cut loose from MacDonald only out of fear that the workers might cut loose from them so violently as to end in the camp of Bolshevism. Unable therefore, to stand pat with a united cabinet, the MacDonald ministry has fallen, cut to pieces by American imperialism. A new cabinet has been patchedup, composed of all the parties, from Baldwin to MacDonald. Why does the latter remain prime minister instead of turning the office over to the fo ner? Because the tenture of new cabinet is confined to office of cessary for executing the the periou

eremptor

who have grown fat on

Half-Hearted Stalinist About Face On Issue of Credits to Soviet Union

For the first time since the leader of whole Left wing movement must say so the Communist party, Earl Browder con- openly and loudly. We are not so much demned as "social fascism" the proposal concerned with having Mayor Walker and of the Left Opposition that the Com- Co. "recommend to the Federal Governmunists demand long-term credits to the ment" the execution of this plan. What Soviet Union as an aid to the Fiye Year the Communists must do is to initiate Plan in Russia and to the unemployed the most extensive movement possible for here, we find an obscure, shame-faced the plan, throughout the ranks of the and devitalized adoption of the idea by working class, in unions, among the unthe Stalinist bureaucracy. According to employed. That is the way to make the the Daily Worker of August 25, 1931, the demand powerful. There is an opporlast of 12 demands presented to the tunity to connect the needs of the un-

New York City administration by the Unemployed concretely with the Soviet need employed Councils of Greater New York for credits and machinery. There is a is the following: "The city administramagnificent opportunity to have the tion shall recommend to the Federal Govworkers demand that at least some of ernment establishment of more favorable the hundreds of millions of dollars advanced by the U.S. to bolster up the collapsing capitalist systems of Germany, England, etc., shall be diverted as credits to the workers' republic.

third of the idea distorted at that, into the official movement, by the back door The proposal of the Left Opposition will never do. What do "more favorhas been sabotaged by Browder and Co. able trade relations" mean? They mean first of all the demand for Soviet re-| for two reasons: first, it involves a recognition by the U.S., and even more futation of their fantastic theory of nathan that, the immediate extension of tional socialism; secondly, it originated hundreds of millions of dollars, in the with the Opposition. No other argument form of long-term credits, to Russia, enhas even been advanced against the idea abling it to purchase machinery badly and the need for a national (and interneeded at the present time, which will, national) campaign for it. The obscure, in turn require the opening of numerous factories for work on the machinery timid demand of the New York Unemand the Unemployed Councils and the right direction.

you would think that even a Pioneer

League of America (Opposition).

of the policeman and Lieutenant Hardy

Verily, verily, verily. One can imagine muddle-headed person demanding that the capitalist policeman arrest themselves for carrying out their duties as blue-coats in upholding the rights of capitalist who shot the workers."

would know better-let alone a Communist a party official, or the District Committee.

The Chicago branch of the Communist League (Opposition) immediately came out in leaflets (quoted verbatim in Aug.

15th issue of the Militant) and open air of the St Louis branch of the Communmeetings pointing out the urgency of imist League of America (Opposition). mediately organizing a genuine united front movement of all Chicago working the meeting and broke it up. Comrade class organizations in order effectively to Payer, who was on the platform, was protest against the boss' murders, in orarrested and is now being held for trial der to resist the bosses terrorism, to in police court. expose the smoke-screen of the "Red

The local Opposition comrades intend meetings and in particular to help build scare" and in order to wage effectively to make a strong free speech fight to and strengthen a movement in St. Louis the struggled of the employed and the unemployed for the six-hour day, im- compel the St. Louis police to back down against the police hounding of militant

Anti-Communist Arrests in Canada

Communism in Canada is to be sub- September Assizes will determine wheth- physical injury to person or property, or jected to its first major political trial. er the Communist party continues its threats of such injury, in order to acpletely underground.

.

tion 98 of the Criminal Code, federal, Originally enacted by order-in-council provincial and city police officials comin 1919, the section in question was inbined forces August 12, to raid the party corporated into the Criminal Code in 1927. It reads as follows: "Any associaheadquarters and effect the arrest of several leading members of the Central tion, organization, society or corporation Committee. Among the comrades for whose professed purpose or one of whose professed purposes is to bring about any whom warrants had been issued were Tim Buck, secretary of the Party, M. governmental, industrial, or economic secretary of the Workers Unity League | violence or physical injury, or which ordered. They can mean nothing else, ployed Councils is one small step in the John Boychunk, Tom Hill and Sam Carr. teaches, advocats, advises or defends Bail has been set at $15,000 each. The the use of force, violence, terrorism or complish such change, or for any other purpose, or which shall by any means prosecute or pursue such purpose or professed purpose, or shall so teach, advocate, advise or defend shall be an unlawful organization." Anyone convicted of being a member of, or defending such an organization or having its literature in his possession may suffer a penalty of twenty years imprisonment.

N. Y.

Canada in the Crisis

Governmental resort to section 98 marks the culminating point in a policy of sharpened police repression. Involved in the common crisis of world capitalism, economic conditions in the Dominion have grown progressively worse. Exports have suffered a catastrophic decline, multitudes of Western farmers are literally destitute, industrial unemployment has reached unprecedented dimensions. At the Federal elections that carried him into office, the millionaire leadeof the Conservative party promised to "take such measures as will provide for the giving of work to every man and woman in this country prepared to work", But in the nature of things, the Bennett Government could as little solve the problems of capitalist anarchy as the preceding Liberal regime. Higher customs tariffs in a world of capitalist states all engaged in raising trade bar-

Increase the Spanish Press Fund to 200

From our comrade Henri Lacroix in lots from a neighboring locality but in ernment which, after having stated from | Maurinist confusion on the other, and Madrid, we have received the following these ballots were inscribed only four the lips of its minister for foreign affairs additional details on the "Trotsky vote" names, whereas the number of candidates that it would give Trotsky authorization our last issue:

"The Executive Committee of the Spanish Communist Opposition, receiving the adherence of a group of comrades from Astillero (Santander), received at and guide the only labor union in Astilthe same time the information that some of the workers voted for comrade Trotsky in the last elections to the Constituent Cortes. The news reaches us after some delay, for up to this time we had no friends in Santander.

trade relations with the Soviet Union."

Such a pitiful attempt to smuggle a

"Trotsky received 78 workers' votes. How did this happen? The C. P. had presented no candidate in this district lands of the Yankee oli and the local Communists demanded bal- sky. The Republican reactionary gov- syndicalist poison on the one in Santander about which we spoke in from the district should have been five. to live in Spain, has come out against The Communists and sympathizers of the request for a visa made for our com-Astillero decided to write in the name rade and will have to listen to the voice of the workers. . . .

of the founder of the Red Army in the Communist list. 78 workers who lead tomatic. It is a straw in the wind. The lero, who voted for Trotsky, told the future is with the Left Opposition-but Stalinist bureaucrats that Trotsky is only if it can measure up to the tasks considered by them the soul and the of the present. Handicapped by lack of guide of the world revoltuionary movethe necessary funds, our comrades have ment. Trotsky, the red soldier of the appealed to the revolutionary militants proletarian revolution, upon receipt of throughout the world to lend their aid the news, hastened to send a friendly letter of greetings to these comrades.

"The Spanish workers vote for Trot- peratively needed antidote to anarcho- vious total: $144.76. Grand total to date: in mutual insults. The masterly stroke finally, to Stalinist irresponsibility and calumny. We are anxious to send from the United States a minimum of two hundred dollars, and we are confident can be raised. The need is great and must be met. Funds should be forward The Santander incident is highly symped immediately to A. Gonzales, c-o The Militant, 84 East 10th Street New York, that with a little extra effort the sun

> Additional contributions received since the last issue are as follows:

(All New York): A. Gomez: .10-Un Comunista: .50-D. B.: 1.00-A. Brand- riers, can only accentuate the general in the efforts to issue a weekly organ mark: .25-John Justin: .25-Sympath- chaos. The Imperial Conference which of the Spanish Left Opposition, an im- izer: 3.95-W. H. Hermann: 5.00. Pre- Mr. Bennett sought to instruct resulted enforcing the bosses' laws and main-taining capitalist order. But certainly M. Payer Arrested in St. Louis Just as we go to press, a telegram from effort will be made to assure the Left comrade H. L. Goldberg of St. Louis an- Opposition and all other labor and revnounces the break-up of an Opposition olutionary organizations the right to meeting in that city and the arrest of hold public meetings without the interthe speaker, comrade Martin C. Payer. | ference of the police. The meeting was held on the corner of

As one of the steps in the free speech Broadway and Park under the auspices fight, comrade John Edwards of Chicago is to speak on Sunday, September 13, in the Central Library of St. Louis at During its course, the police set upon 8 P. M. On the same day, at 2 P. M., Edwards will speak in Staunton, Illinois, one of the rebel mining sections. Workers in both Staunton and St. Louis are urgently invited to attend the Edwards from their high-handed methods. Every labor meettings and agitators. mediate relief, etc.

Communist Party Leaders Seized and Held by Dominion Authorities under Sedition Act

Proceeding on the instructions of the semi-legal existence or is forced com-Attorney-General of Ontario under sec-

THE MILITANT

SATURDAY, AUGUST 29, 1931

Draft of the Thesis on the Trade Union Question which, in its immediate sense, means the talist system, become glaringly manifest. possibilities and perspectives of the new It has alternated, in conformity to this ist course with particular conclusiveness. industrial union movement. But a cor- position, between the deceptive policies rect approach to this problem must equal- of class collaboration and that of out ly take into account the present position right treason to the workers. of the American Federation of Labor and similar types of existing unions as well F. of L. type of unions warrant a per as their future perspectives. The prob- spective of their uninterrupted deterior lem of the former is closely bound up ation and decline until their passing ou with a correct attitude toward the lat- of existence? Does it warrant even a ter.

trade union movement and its militant ership? On the contrary! To preclude struggles during the immediate post war prospects of revival, expansion and stage of 1919-22 witnessed a change to growth of the A. F. of L. unions, both severe downward curve lasting in influence and in an organizational throughout the period of bourgeois pro- sense, in the face of a period of coming sperity up until the most recent devel- struggles, would be false. Such pro opments. Strikes decreased progressive- spects can easily materialize by pressure ly, both in actual numbers and in num- from two directions. First, by the dir bers of participants. The trade unions ect pressure of the employers upon the deteriorated ideologically, decreased workers to lower their standard of liv numerically and became weakened. The ing, compelling these workers to seel workers were lulled into a false sense organization. Many will undoubtedly of security. The unions failed entirely join the ranks of the A. F. of L. unions to take advantage of the bourgeois pro- as their first step while in turn the sperity to strengthen their position. With A. F. of L. unions will be compelled the advent of the present world wide at least formally, to adapt themselves crisis, the heavy unemployment and the to these new requirements. Secondly consequent slashing capitalist offensive prospects for expansion and growth can upon the working class standard of liv- materialize by outright resurrection at ing the A. F. of L. unions had reached the lowest ebb.

The Prospects for the New Militant Unions

The prolonged crisis now the out agents of imperialism. standing feature of capitalist economy, the misery of unemployment and the drastic reduction of the working class standard of living is reaching a degree of pressure which compels the workers to begin to seek the ways and means of resistance, and for those who are unorganized, to begin to seek organization. In this direction, the first manifestations are today visble in the mining and textile industries. And it is not at all accidental, as it is precisely here that the pressure upon the workers has been the heaviest. Therefore, similar manifestations may soon be expected in other industries as the pressure increases Thus the first half of 1931, despite the prevailing growing unemployment commences an upward curve in working class resistance and in militancy within the labor movement. It records an increae in strike movements. While these workers are still fighting entirely on the defensive, what is particularly new is the fact that, to an increasing degree Communist leadership in these developing struggles is being accepted by the workers so often betrayed by reactionary leaders. On a whole the present objection situation marks the possibilities for the revitalization of the munism, will seek to attract the worknew union movement and the prospects their reactionary policies. In this sense for its attaining a mass basis. A factor wontributing to these prospects is the dusteites within the A. F. of L., who more rapid narrowing of the proletarian are certainly typical of only the forebasis within the A. F. of L. unions in recent years, the almost complete de-this character. But it emphasizes furstruction of the United Mine Workers. ther the need of the Communists earn-Similarly, the continued absence of estly directing their attention to organvitality within these unions; their utter stry anecting their utter stry anecting the genuine Left wing sentiment. failure to undertake any actual organ-It is necessary to emphasize again that ization whatever among the unorganized industries; the proclamation by Green for the organization of the automobile industry, which never even reached a serious discussion stage; the feeble attempts at organization in the South which came to naught. The organization of the unorganized through building the new industrial unions stands today more than ever as the center of gravity. To the Communists, it must become a serious duty and an imperative task, with the further deepening of the economic crisis and the wage-cutting campaign the present trends of resistance will develop into definite prospects for sharpened class batles. Even a possible early revival of capitalist economy could not seriously alter this perspective. On the contrary it will make more certain the coming workers' offensive for a revival can be accomplished only at the cost of heavier burdens upon the workers. Thus, the of Schlesinger and his agents, is today Fearing the radicalizing effect on the prospect for a rising movement is on the order of the day. In that particularly group. On a similar plane was the call grees, the possessing classes view the lies the favorable objective possibilities for the new industrial unions. Should the Communists fail to utilize these possibilities, or to apply the correct tactics and methods which can insure successful developments of the new industrial unions and establish revolutionary leadership, such unions will be built without the Communists or in opposition to them. This problem still hangs in the balance between the alternative of revolutionary or reformist leadership. The former spells progress; the latter, defeat to the working class. In this sense the coming period will become a crucial one.

perspective of a progressively diminish-

The vigorous growth of the American ing role of their type of reactionary leadtempts, by deals with employers who may even give certain concessions in appear ance to A. F. of L. unions, out of fear of actual growth of the new industrial unions. That also would spell increasing force to the role played by the labor

> A possibility of expansion and growth of the A. F. of L. unions embodies the possibilities of growth of genuine pro gressive sentiment and of radicalization within the membership. For this the pressure of the slashing capitalist offensive is already laying the basis. The increasing pressure and growing resistance throws to the forefront a multitude of problems demanding increasing mili tancy to approach a solution. Simultaneously, it also terrifically deepens the chasm of the already great contradictions between the vital needs of the masses of the membership and the obstinate reaction of the leaders. Some results have already been shown in rank and file revolts, which prove the absolute need of, and excellent possibilities for the organization of the Left wing within these unions and for conducting the struggle for Left wing leadership.

However, with the growth of coming struggles there will also be increased manifestations within the A. F. of L and similar unions of the appearances of pseudo-progressives. Even the agents of imperialism in labors' ranks, in order to strengthen their bulwark against Comers by creating "Left" coverings for central task of organizing the unorganized workers and building the new industrial unions.

organizing the unorganized industries concerned with the interests of the capi- the workers. In the trade union field, ber 1929 and the later Philadelphia the Right wing discloses its liquidationwaterfront strike. Often strikes were called without a clear objective or demands, as was the case of the more re The Status of the New Industrial Unions

> A survey of the present status of the new industrial unions will reveal the following particularly notably factors: First, there are the most recent signs of great prospects available for the development and strengthening of these unions, their possibility of actually attaining a union basis and : mass basis. Secondly, it is necessary to note the general decline both of organization and in influence of the T. U. U. L. unions, with the exception of some recent limitspects. ed forward developments. This decline reduced some of them to virtual non-existence, despite its occurrence in a period of objective possibilities for growth Thirdly there is the development alongside of the T. U. U. L. unions of other new independent unions having their origin either in a revolt against and a split off from the A. F. of L., or in opposition to it—unions with a new type combination and later under the Edmon of leadership, distinctly reformist or son leadership, could come into existence pseudo-progressive, as for example, the miners unions of Southern West Virginia They are the first example of new unand Illinois. The main reasons for the first factor mentioned, the prospects of growth for the new industrial unions, have already been indicated.

The reasons for the general decline of culties which had to be overcome, although there were such. No! The main reasons are very intimately connected with the false concepts and methods of Communist leadership as practiced by ings for the A. F. of L. reactionaries the Centrist regime of the party and of all to record and condemn the false concepts of revolutionary unions in practise built on a basis which really left room within it only for revolutionists: and only of a certain type, excluding all rev olutionists and Left wing workers not willing to accept the Centrist views of the party leadership and unable to submit to its arbitrary factional control Some of these unions were merely minority sections withdrawn from the conservative unions which had the decisive bulk of the workers within their ranks. In the second place, it is necessary to record and condemn the false tactics and blundering methods pursued by the party leadership in the new union field. Even the barest semblance of union democracy disappeared from the new unions dominated by the party leadership. They were not granted the least measure of autonomy necessary for unions to operate as such. Functionaries were arbitrarily replaced for reasons of party apparatus interests, without even as much as an explanation given to the membership. Such replacements were made in the National Miners Union and the National tial conditions for its success is the nec-Textile Workers Union. Abortive strikes essity of removing all of the false narwere launched without a consultation or rowing concepts, all of the factional bur-

LETTER FROM TORONTO

The question of trade union policy ship of the A. F. of L. type of unions become a part of the anti-Communist a vote of the membership, as for exam-today involves primarily the problem of as agents of imperialism, first of all front, part of the machinations to deceive ple the Illinois miners' strike in Decem-industrial unions have been subjected. They must be allowed to develop as acworkers in a given industry. They must be allowed to develop as mass unions. cent New York needle trades strike of the industrial union. Generally they all wound up in certain defeat. There was a complete absence of activities within devotion. the reformist or conservative unions whose members were simply read out 2. It is essential and as a process of consideration by phrases about "com going hand in hand with the organizapany union" and "social fascism". But tion of the unorganized industries, to above all, the party leadership's failtake up seriously the work of developure to apply the united front policy ing and organizing the potentially grow counted heavily in the decline of the new ing Left wing sentiment within the A unions of the T. U. U. L. and is today F. of L. and the new independent unions endangering seriously their future pro under reformist domination. Not in order to split off minority sections from These are also the very important these unions but to win their members reasons for the rise of new independent for Communism. One of the important unions alongside of the T. U. U. L. un duties of this potentially developing Left ions. It was precisely because of the wing must be to defend the objects and failure of the N. M. U., under party principles of the new industrial unions which are under revolutionary leader direction, that the separate sections of new miners unions like the Southern ship. Not only to defend them but to work actively for unity in struggle for West Virginia union and the Illinois class objectives jointly with the new inunion, first under the Howat-Walker dustrial unions. There can be no objec tion in principle to splits but the fundawinning the majority of the workers for situation, it becomes a duty of the Comions organized without the Communists, the revolutionary objects. Under condiwith a pseudo-progressive and reformtions where the reformist unions embrace ists leadership, but also anti-Communist the decisive bulk of the organized workin their make-up. Their role is, while today in opposition, to endeavor tomorers it is the task of the Left wing to the T. U. U. L. unions are not in the row to strike a bargain with the reachelp build and strengthen them but with main to be sought in the objective diff.] tionaries, deceive the workers and again, the avowed object of winning the members and the new recruits for the policies of the Left wing. Such pseudo-progressive leadership, whether it be at the head of new unions or merely functioning as "Left" coverfield are there now rich possibilities as trade union policy but unsparingly and well as an imperative need for a genu- intransigeantly against the false maneucannot be combatted by the futile hurline united front policy. Its correct ap- vers and blunders of the party leaderthe Comintern. It is necessary first of ing of epithets of "social fascism" or plication is a serious duty devolving upon ship. We decisively condemn and will by the worse method of alliance with the Communists. The recently develop- continue our fight unrelentingly against them behind the backs of the workers. ed situation in the mine fields and in the essentially reformist views of the The Centrist party leadership swings be- the textile industry testify eloquently to Right wing Lovestone group, which, in tween these two extremes. Its recoil this need as well as to its practicality the name of unity, proposes to harness from the isolation of the "Third Period" of execution. It can, however, not be the developing revolts against the A. F. antics conceal the danger of repetition carried out under the maneuvers of try- of L. bureaucracy within reformist chanof the shameful alliance of the Anglo- ing to fool the workers or inviting them nels, to bring about their defeat by pleas Russian Unity Committee. Both exto desert the unions to which they belong to return to the old unions. The policy tremes only weaken Communist leader- to enter a so-called "united front from of the Lovestone group is the liquidation ship and further strengthens the "Left" below" under the narrow banner of party of the new unions, the liquidation of the coverings for the reactionaries. The lat- controlled unions. Much less can the Left wing-and the strengthening of the ter can be effectively combatted only by united front be established by maneu- reactionary imperialist agents. Our polvers behind the backs of the workers icy is the building of the new militant unmasking their role of coverings for the reactionaries on the basis of actual of alliances or deals with "Left" come unions under revolutionary leadership experience of the worker through a corons. Both methods defeat the very ob- and the developing and strengthening of rectly applied policy of united front jects and purposes of the united front, the Left wing wherever the masses are struggles, embracing the workers under weaken Communist influence and streng- grouped. reformist influence as well as those under then the hold upon the workers by the agents. An honest united front policy implies a recognition of the existing unby side, actually to unite and, in the process, to defeat the deceivers and betrayers and thus to demonstrate the superiority of the revolutionary program, objects and leadershin. Translated into practical action it the trade union field.

would mean, for example in the miners situation, that the National Miners Union recognize the unions of Southern West Virginia and Illinois as bona fide bodies of workers who have rebelled against and split off from the imperialist agents of the Lewis machine. The N. M. U. should, upon the basis of such recognition, take the initiative in calling them tual unions, ready to embrace all the together to find the best ways and means for a united struggle and to hammer out the common objectives of the strug-But serious care should be taken that gle. In the textile workers' situation, they retain their militancy. their class an approach to a solution should proobjectives, and a revolutionary leadership ceed on a similar basis. Such a united founded upon revolutionary service and front policy, correctly applied, can become a real source of strength to the revolutionary section and contribute toward the defeat of the reformists. The united front policy must become a means to the ultimate establishment of trade union unity. 4. With the further progress of the slashing capitalist offensive, it is to be expected that there will to an increasing degree be a resorting to the most brutal suppression of all the elementary rights of the working class. It is to be expected not merely as a preventive against the workers' resistance but also as a means of continually keeping them on the defensive. Where, in a rising movement, deception and treason may not serve the capitalist employers so well, it will be substituted by open brutal force-increase of injunctions, police persecution, deportations, evictions, denial of political rights, etc., etc. In this munists particularly to raise the slogan of "fight for the democratic rights of the workers"; to unite the workers' forces and to organize the fight so as to bring out fully its political character and completely connect it with the trade union issues.

5. The Left Opposition will continue its fight fraternally to assist the party 3. Particularly in the trade union toward correct views and practises of

6. The Left Opposition proposes this reformists and reactionary imperialist policy to the party, to the Communist movement and to the Left wing trade union workers. Our members wherever ions as bona fide bodies composed of they are in the trade union, be it the workers whom it becomes the duty of the new industrial unions or in the A. F. of Communists to bring together to fight side L., will work as a Left Communist fraction fighting for the application of this policy. Continuation of the party leadership in resisting our proposed policy can only urge our members and supporters to intensify their efforts throughout that their methods would only create | ough-going social and political crisis and more Bolshevism. But the capitalist the sufficient degree of demoralization of press with few exceptions virulently the ruling class necessary but a majority urged a holy war of "Christendom" of the workers at least must have acagainst "Soviet dumping". The pillars cepted Communist leadership. of Business and Finance, including the A Trial Out of the Past Chief Justice of the Province, gave The Attorney-General must know as Draper's faith and works their heartiest well as we do that the party in Canada approval. Liberalism could only emit its cannot yet boast such a following and odor of decay. that there is no immediate revolution-

The Position and Perspectives of the A. F. of L. Unions

Since the beginning of the crisis, the position after another. The very backbone of the craft unions, the building maintain their contracted wage scale. of L. hierarchy. To an ever increasing degree the workwhere the A. F. of L. has its main footprivilege due to advancing machine technique and other causes. But the reason

The Trade Union Policy of the Lovestone Group

The restatement of a correct policy for Left wing activities within the A. F. of L unions has nothing in common with the proposals of the Right wing Lovestone group for a return to the old unions via the route of desertion of the Left wing. This has been so much more clearly demonstrated in their recent "practical" proposals for such return. trades their call upon the workers to quate. return, if followed, would mean the out-Left wing and their return to the bosom the actual role played by the Lovestone by this Right wing group in the coal approaching winter with uncertainty and miners to cease building a new union uneasiness. Shortly before prorogation and to return to the U. M. U., in the of Parliament, the Cabinet rushed through face of their growing revoit against the a bill in terms unparalleled since the Lewis machine and their growing struggles against starvation conditions. To return to the Lewis union could mean nothing else but the betrayal of the miners' revolt and struggle.

But it is particularly in the recent developments in the Paterson textile workers' strike that the Lovestone group earns for itself the ineradicable stigma of absolutely shameless renegacy. Already so deeply involved in the cunning schemes of the A. F. of I. bureaucrats, working here in joint partnership with the social reformist Musteites who function as their "Left" come-ons, the Lovestone group has completely adopted the A. F. of L. unions, as well as the inde- latters' views toward the Communists pendent unions of the Railway Brother- and toward the official party. It sees in hood type, have been utterly unable to the party's direction of the N. T. W. maintain their gains of the past-mostly nothing but a series of "anti-working gains easily won. They retreated all working class acts", and charges the along the line and have given up one party with nothing but disruptive and splitting activities in the same tone and spirit that has always characterized the trades, are facing a growing inability to assaults upon Communism by the A. F.

The Lovestone group does not at all ers in this and in similar industries, see the Communist party as a party of the working class whose interests are inhold, are losing their position of craft separably bound up with those of the working class, whose role, despite all the blundering mistakes of the leadership for deterioration and decline is not only still is the one of leading sections of the to be sought in these objective conditions, workers in struggle for their vital needs. since particularly during the most re- Hence it is natural that this group in cent period has the role of the leader- the Paterson strike situation, has already return to the reactionary camp.

The Red Raids in Canada

Communist influence.

Conclusion

ion policy today is the organization of the unorganized industries through the building of the new industrial unions.

With the prospects of coming serious battles, the possibilities for this work is enhanced. However, among the essen-posal amounted to a scheme of public to be singled out especially.

Police Terror in Toronto

1. The center of gravity of trade un-

(Continued from page 1) of a complete embargo on trade re- works, road construction, etc., to which lations with the Soviet Union may possi- the registered unemployed will be draftbly satisfy the Archbishop of Canter- ed to work at such wage-rates as the bury but scarcely contribute to indus- government sees fit. It is a choice betrial revival.

throughout the country have shown the or outright starvation. In plain words, temper of the jobless victims of the system to be rising-they have not always been ready to disperse submissively at the first threatening gesture of the bility for the crisis on capitalism, every For example, in the New York needle police. Relief has been pitifully inade- movement of industrial or political opsocial insurance Bennett replies that measures of the government, will be right liquidation of the Left wing; the never, never, will he undermine the met with censorship suppression, imdenial of the right to existence of the sturdy independence and pioneering spirit prisonment and deportation. And the of Canadians with the infamous "dole". masses of starvation in its several de-War Measures Act conferring dictatorial powers "upon the governer-in-council [that is, itself] in respect to unemploy> ment and farm relief; and for the maintenance of peace, order, and good government in all parts of Canada".

on every occasion by police clubs, speak-In explanation of this measure Bennett declared that "we will take such ers were cruelly man-handled and beataction as in the judgment of the exen. Hall owners were prevented from ecutive of this country . . . will free renting out their assembly halls by the this country of those who have proved fear of losing their license. A few pacunworthy of our Canadian citizenship". ifists and professors uttered a feeble He referred to the Immigration Act as protest for free speech in the name of already enabling the denaturalization of "British justice". The "labor leaders" a naturalized citizen, and of course his and social-democrats either maintained a subsequent deportation. His relief pro- cowardly silence or warned the police

TWO NEW PAMPHLETS For the Pre-Conference Dicussion by LEON TROTSKY THE SPANISH REVOLUTION IN DANGER Special Rates in Bundles 64 pages — 15c per copy PROBLEMS OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE U.S.S.R. 48 pages - 15c per copy PIONEER PUBLISHERS 84 East 10th Street New York City

The latest stage of the persecution of ary crisis. If there were such, he must Upon the comrades selected by circumthe Government gave notice that every manifestation of class consciousness, every attempt to bring home the responsi-The Ontario provincial authorities have of the workers against unemployment, quickly taken their cue. Not that their against wage-cuts, against capitalist miliaction will be entirely a new departure. Ever since the advent of General Draper Union, for freedom of speech and asto the police administration in Toronto, so-called civil liberties have been conspicuous by their absence. Draper proceeded to give the most convincing ocular ploitation and the class-character of the demonstration of Lenins thesis that State.

bourgeois democracy is a sham and a The Communists make no secret of lie. Open-air meetings were dispersed their aims. Our program is dictated by an objective consideration of the motive forces of history and capitalist society. We are well aware that the government regards the use of "force and violence" whether for the prosecution of war or the suppression of strikes, as its exclusive monopoly. The "democratic" state is the executive of the capitalist class and an organ of exploitation and coercion > of the proletariat. If bourgeois democracy is based on consent, it is the "consent" of the victim who has been stunned or drugged. But constitutional problems are in the first place questions of power and legal institutions change with the social structure. The Communists do not "create" revolutionary situations; they only organize the workers to reap the advantage. Revolutionary explosions must occur when the contradiction between the character of the from rallying to the party in every crisis property relations and the mode of pro- and emergency and for a united strugduction of a given society becomes un gle against the reaction. We ask today bearable. In this sense it is true that on a world scale capitalist economy is bership rights and we are prepared to ripe for social revolution. But the submit our dikerences to be resolved by workers conquest of political power is the processes of party democracy. not a simultaneous act. It is fought out Toronto, August 1931.

the party is by far the most serious, further know that the methods of a jury tween a form of industrial conscription since it attempts to place the Commun- trial would by mutual consent be alto-Meanwhile unemployed demonstrations at the lowest possible standard of living ist program itself under indictment. gether inadequate. He has apparently not learned, however, that he cannot for stance to represent our doctrine rests a long time hope to stem the tide of revtherefore a great responsibility,--to util- olutionary agitation, propaganda and orize the occasion despite the technical ganization by proscribing the revolutiondifficulties of court procedure, as a forum ists. Bismark's anti-socialist legislation from which to appeal to the working failed ultimately to prevent the expansion To proposals for a system of position in the working class to the class. It is capitalism that must be of the social democracy and in our day, placed under indictment. The Commun- the Communist movement. Attorney Genists must show that they have no in- eral Price may not have heard of the terests separate and apart from the rest trial, following the revolution of 1905 Communists, as the militant leaven, are of the workers. If they are on trial of 52 delegates to the Workers Council at this moment, it is for no "advocacy of St. Petersburg. They were arrested of force or violence" but because they and tried under section 101 and 102 of are leaders in the immediate struggles the Czarist Criminal Code as having "attended and participated . . . in an association which knowingly set itself tarism, for the defence of the Soviet the purpose of violently overthrowing the legally established form of government of sembly, etc., and because in the course Russia and replacing it with a democratic of these struggles the Communists must republic". The proportions are different expose the mechanism of capitalist ex. but the example is instructive. The 52 were condemned to long terms of imprisonment and Siberian exile. With what results?

> There can be no question of the position that every class-conscious worker must take up towards this trial-absolute, militant, intransigeant struggle against the forces of reaction. The workers must organize in a broad united front, whatever their political or industrial affiliations, to protest against the wave of terror which the eapitalist authorities have let loose against the militants of their class. Every ounce of energy must be thrown into the defense of the comrades and the right of the party to continue above ground. We Communists of the Left Opposition have serious internal differences with the Centrist leadership of the party touching policy and principle. We do not minimize the importance of these differences for a correct revolutionary Marxian development of the party, but that cannot deter us as before to be re-instated in our mem-

in national forms. Not only is a thor-

-MAURICE SPECT

THE MILITANT

PAGE 3

DISCUSSION ARTICLES

2. The Meaning of the American Crisis

(Continued from Last Issue) D. The thesis does not show clearly not solve its problem by increasing its whether its perspectives are for a long or a short period, in politics or in economics. The political perspective of increased sharpness of the class struggle for the next few years, even in the face of some revival in capitalism, is sound because it proceeds from the sound premise that this revival will be based on wage-cutting and the consequent aggravation of class contradictions. A long-term perspective of revolutionary upsurge, however, is not compatible with a longterm economic perspective which includes the possibility of a complete recovery of American capitalism, over a period of time, from the depths of the present crisis to the heights of 1929. On the long-term perspective the position of the thesis appears to be ambiguous, as it fails to exclude the possibility of a "Victorian age" of American imperialism, parallel to the development of British imperialism in the nineteenth century.

The second conclusion which we shall attempt to prove is that there are differences between the position of American economy at the present time and the economy of England in the nineteenth century of such a far-reaching kind that the methods which proved successful for England cannot be successful for America, and that therefore American imperialism cannot restore a high level of prosperity.

A. The first of these basic differences is the existence of contradictions in in which America is notably strong, may America's world position which no Eur- solve the American crisis. Finance capiopean power has ever had to face. England developed markets on the basis of selling them finished goods and buying sembling and attacking force of capitheir raw materials and foodstuffs, America is a major exporter of both raw materials and manufactures, and its internal economy is built on a certain equilibrium between the two.

When England developed raw material production in foreign backward countries colonies or semi-colonies, it had little home production of such commodities, and after the decisive defeat of the agricultural Conservative interest in 1923 willing sacrificed its limited home agriculture. In the United States, nearly half the population is still agricultural, and a much larger proportion is engaged in the production of 60% of the world's copper, 55% of the world's iron ore 44% of the aluminum, 67% of the eign bourgeoisie and a foreign proletarpetroleum etc., that is, in the extractive iat. In no way however, can such exindustries producing industrial raw materials. Development of production of home economy, which are contradictions such commodities in foreign countries would simply aggravate the competition of the world at large with American ex- such a parasitic element among the Amports of raw materials. Unless production of such goods in backward countries were increased, exploitation of such countries would be impossible.

There is therefore a contradiction between America's position as the world's greatest producer of raw materials and its need, forced by the pressure of excessive productive facilities, for exploitation of foreign markets. This contradiction did not exist for the older imperialist nations, who produced relatively little raw material.

American capitalism as a whole can sales to India and China and reducing its sales to England and Germany; the standard of living of the Indian or Chinese worker is and must be kept lower than that of the European or American worker for capitalism to make a profit on the former, but this means that the new markets must be narrower than the old. The problem can be evaded for a short time by increased exports of productive goods such as rail-material, mining machinery, etc., but this cannot be a serious factor in comparison with the actual displacement of raw material production by America to similar production abroad. E. By the end of 1929, it was estimated on the basis of a questionnaire that American "direct" investment: abroad, meaning factories, mines, plantations, etc., owned outright by American and not in the form of bonds or stocks (finance capital), amounted to over 71/ billions of dollars. To this extent the American bourgeoisie is profiting by the direct exploitation of a foreign proletariat, and to this extent is shifting the scene of its contradictions from at home to abroad. Such a shifting solves the problem of the individual capitalist, in realizing a larger surplus value, but aggravates the contradictions of American capitalism as a whole, directly as reflected in unemployment and indirectly by stimulating imports.

F. It has been suggested by some comrades that exports of finance capital tal, as Lenin pointed out, is the spear head of imperialism, the directing, astalism. But finance capital in itself is not a primary factor in production-it regulates the relations among the exploiting classes. A foreign loan (export of finance capital) unaccompanied by exports of goods, is merely a means of displacing the bourgeoisie of the borrowing country by that of the lending country. This is the difference between such investments and the direct investments just mentioned. American loans to Germany tend to shoulder out the German proletariat, in favor of the American bourgeoisie. Such exports of finance capital favor the growth of a parasitie class of bondholders, obtaining their subsistence from the exploitation of a forports solve the contradictions of the of productive relations.

F. On the contrary, the growth of erican bourgeoisie creates another contradiction-the necessity of a large surplus of imports over exports, with which the surplus values represented by the exported finance capital may be realized. Every mature imperialist power has in the past developed on "unfavorable" balance of trade, that is, the rest of the world produces more goods for it than it has to produce for the rest of the world. The difference represents largely, the interest on its exported finance capital. England at the present time, exports about 60% of the value of its imports; the difference represents the proceeds of imperialist exploitation. For the United States, however, such a perspective conflicts sharply with its ambition, forced on it by economic necessity, to increase exports to the maximum and reduce imports to a minimum. Clear expression to this ambition was given in the Hawley-Smoot tariff of 1929. When a Czechoslovak shoe manufacturer. for instance, began flooding the American market with cheap shoes, the tariff was promptly raised on him and his markets greatly reduced. A country such as England, with an atrophied agriculture and little raw material production, has no contradictions to face in developing its import trade. InI America, out of 1930 imports totalling $3,061,000,000, the main items were raw silk 263 millions; newsprint (based on the partial exhaustion of American forests) 132 million: coffee, 209 millions; rubber, 140 millions; sugar 130 millions; burlaps, 54 millions; wood pulp, 74 millions; petroleum and gasoline (of which America produces an enormous surplus herself), 122 millions; copper ores (for refining not a genuine import) 92 millions; and tin. 60 millions. These were all the commodities imported to the extent of 50 millions or more apiece, and together they totalled 1,284 millions, or 42% of total imports. Exports of finance capital by America therefore create more contradictions rather than solve old ones, unless way can be found of increasing American imports of silk, sugar, coffee and the like.

talism is profit, such imperialist conquests, by war or peace, will be carried out, because it is still possible to extract surplus value from backward countries. They will have a different meaning however, from that which similar conquests had for England on the upward swing of capitalism. They will mean for America an increased sharpness of contradictions at home. The development of cotton-growing in India would mean the economic devastation of the South, its retrogression to a pre-capitalist economy based on small self-sufficient farms, and the loss of a great section of the home for American capitalism to reach the market to American industry, which still operates to the extent of over 90% for the home market. On these grounds we deny the possibility of a "Victorian age" for American capitalism. We believe that a revival in the near future, when and if it basis of the foregoing perspective, howcomes, will be limited in scope, will not be the beginning of a great upward swing laid out for the next year or two on that will recover the ground lost since 1929, that the stabilization so achieved will be temporary and that the next crisis er-range outlook of increasing militancy will start from a lower plane than the present one. Politically, we believe it the labor party the thesis presents a position of correction compared to the previous analysis and although the main points are correct, there are, nevertheless, a couple of points that need further clarification. The thesis says, "Add to this fact that American bourgeoisie is still powerful enough to grant 'concessions' as the growth of reforms, and we not only have an explanation of its expansion but also to calculate upon its growth (not its 'narrowing down') in the coming period." Considering this in relation to, "Abstractly considered to be sure, were there a mass movement which would organize a labor party, the Communists would have to take up the question of working within as a revolutionary nucleus." If we can "calculate upon ferent, just like some material gains of its growth" then how can we calculate that the labor party "is a matter which while other material gains favor the has less timely significance today-even revolutionist, the Communist. In other abstractly-than in years past, since there is no substantial movement at all talism and social reforms of decaying for a labor party in the 1932 elections?" If we consider the crisis and all the they both serve the same erds and same economic implications that go with it, as well as the future trend, we can agree that the degree of exploitation is increas- at present as they were in the past, being and the standard of living declining. Also considering the weakness of the unions and the Communist party, we can say the trend is toward a narrowing ECONOMIC base of social reformism. In other words, the trend of the economic factors favors the revolutionist and not the reformer. Such could not be said (except historically) of capitalism in its growth stage when "granting" crumbs could be well afforded for "peace development" while today these concessions are for breathing spells of decay capitalism. In this sense, the economic base for social reformism is narrowing but from this we cannot conclude, as the Stalinists do that reformism is done for-nor can we, by seeing actual growth of reformism, dismiss the problem by saving the base is not narrowing but has ability to widen, as the thesis says.

Social Reformism and a Labor Party

In dealing with social reformism and | many is not faith in the leadership but lack of faith in the Communists.

In realizing the historic limitations of reformism in America (as Trotsky future than in the past (to a large ex-

Since the driving force behind all capi- correct to infer that the attempt to stab- his first article by considering the mar- ment of new masses of workers in these ilize capitalism on a lower level will resut in greater militancy, and will usher in a period of years of increasing revolutionary upsurge based on increasing economic contradictions and increasingly evident inability of capitalism to solve its problems. Imperialist conquests by America during this period of decline will not result in sufficient restoration of economic health to slow this development up materially. How long such a period can last until a true revolutionary crisis is reached we cannot foretell; it seems most improbable that it will take so long crisis of its downswing as the hundred or more years that it took to reach the peak of its upswing, which we believe was passed in 1929. We certainly do not believe that the revolutionary crisis is at hand today or next year. On the ever, we do believe that a strategic line the basis of class resistance to wage cuts could well extend its scope for a long-over a period of years. -B. J. FIELD.

Since the developing of American economics is not moving in favor of the capirevolutionist, it follows that the economic base of social reformism is narrowing. But because the economic base is narrowing it does not follow that capitalism will not and cannot grant social reforms. Precisely because the capitalist economic base is sliding, making more insecure its position against the onslaught of the workers, it must "grant" social reforms in order to stem the tide and save a tottering world system.

Material gains of the past and material gains of today as social reforms are difthe workers favor the social reformers words, social reforms of developing capicapitalism have a different base although masters. But in serving the same ends, the social reformers are not as secure cause they don't have the favorable base of yesteryear. This factor is what makes the following sentence in the thesis so vital and the key to the problem, "The proportionate strength of the two parallel streams (social reformism and Communism.-H. O.) will depend in a large measure upon the course pursued by the Commnists."

The thesis must explain social reform ism in relation to growing and decayof objective factors to emphasis of subjective factors. The basic reason for the changed relationship being the OPPOS-ITE TREND OF OBJECTIVE FACTORS in the growth and decay stages of capitalism.

Further the thesis must not deal with ket to consist only of consumers' goods) Exactly as there are two major divisions of the market (foreign falls into the first two), so there are two groups of industries, producing either producers' goods or consumers' goods. If there is the likelihood that the industries of categories 1 or 2, or both will again begin to produce at considerably increased ratio to capacity, as compared to the present, we believe it would be proper for us to conclude that the likelihood is that America will get out of its crisis (always remembering the few vital words pertaining to "politics").

Factors at Work

The following are the factors we contend will act to bring about this change. They will act both independently and complementarily, supplementing and reenforcing each other:

1. Gradually diminishing supply of stocks (primarily in consumers' goods); 2. Re-investment in industry, both in the sense of replacement of constant capital and the expansion thereof;

3. Increased foreign market. Exactly how will the inter-actions of the points above enumerated tend to start the wheels of industry moving again? In the following manner.

A crisis has as one of its major charac teristics a large surplus of consumers' goods stocked up. Because of this large accumulation, the factories producing these commodities temporarily slow down talists and their social reformers, but in production or in many cases even shut favor of greater class battles and the down completely, we thus have the two opposing factors: (1) less is being consumed of this type of goods, because of decreased purchasing power of the masses caused by unemployment and wage cuts and the impoverishment of the petty bourgeoisie; (2) less is being produced 1. e., in both cases "less" after the period of the depression has set in than during the previous period of prosperity. But-and this is the all-inclusive "but" ---the point is reached where current consumption exceeds current production. This is obvious upon slight reflection. The working class, although in depressed straits, must continue to live, to eat, to buy clothes. The market consisting of consumers' goods can never go we believe the thesis has taken the probelow a certain level-no matter what per line of development-by a redivision method the proletariat uses to obtain of the world market. But here howthese necessities of life, they must be gotten. Furthermore, a considerable por- although it does mention it-stating the tion (luxuries, etc.) of the market for political reverberations that must ensue category (1) is less affected by the crisis than other portions. I refer here gressive foreign policy. Not for long can to the big and petty bourgeoisie and to those of the American workers who, even during the crisis, continue to receive their high steady income. No matter what the dynamics of the situation may be, we can say that the supply of stocks on hand in the consumers' industries In the main, therefore, the contention must decrease. Even the more objective that America will attempt to get out of of our bourgeois experts recognize the its crisis on the back of Europe is true, importance of the above in looking for but not all-inclusive.

signs of a let-up. I believe that it was last July that the Annalist registered ing capitalism and the change of em- great disappointment because of the fail- will most likely issue from the prepasis of some problems from emphasis ure of a survey of stocks on hand to show any appreciable drop from the be ginning of the crisis. Further, by quot ing fom "Business Cycles and Unemploy ment", we find that "during 1921 and the early months of 1922, there was a considerable reduction in the quantity of new materials produced and as a result the labor party in the abstract. All in- much of the surplus stock was consumdications are that the question of the la- ed". The same effect will be recorded past decade, we nevertheless believe that bor party will be more important in the at some future date for the crisis of 1930. Increased activity in production of industries. Re-employment means more wages and therefore an increase in that part of the market that is formed by wages. An increased market results in even greater industrial activity, etc. etc.

Effects on Producers' Goods

However, the above is but one of the results to be expected as a result of shrinking stocks. A second will be its effect on those industries manufacturing producers' goods. For a period of almost two years, industry has been idle, the incentive to replacement of fixed capital therefore lacking. No sooner do the first signs of the possibility of profit show themselves than the demand for the replacement of parts "worn out" by two years of even idleness (for a certain depreciation occurs in fixed capital whether it is barely used or it is working at capacity). This stimulates production in those industries producing fixed capital (e. g., steel, machinery). Here again we have the ever reflected waves of increased wages, increased market, etc.

Glancing back at the second of the above enumerated factors we read that one of the forces in operation will be that of expanding the constant capital. One of the features of our present crisis is the enormous quantity of money capital available. What greater inducement could there be for investment of large sums in new as well as expanding old enterprises than the low money rates existing at the present time. "A crisis is always the starting point of a large amount of new investments" (Marx).

Who is to predict that this huge engulfer of hours of labor is not to take the form of expansion of new industries. Would not the rise of a new industry act as an enormous market for present day industry in the same manner as railroads did at one time, automobiles at another and radio and airplanes to a greater or lesser degree during the past decade? Let the one who desires the name of the industry guess himself, or perhaps ask his parents why they were unable to predict the rise of the automobile industry.

Foreign Trade

As regards increase of foreign trade, ever, the thesis is weak in not clearlyfrom a too vigorous pursuit of an ag-Germany or England continue to withstand any services assault upon their markets without the greatest internal conclusions, upheavals that may, with proper Comintern leadership, lead to the victory of the proletariat in short order.

In conclusion, and to sort of very briefly sum up all of the above: America sent crisis through an expanding market-the expanding market taking the form of increased exports development of new industries, rehabilitation of old ones, and the pick-up to ensue in certain industries because of the inevitable consumption of their surplus products. Made difficult by the enormous increase of capacity for production during the American capitalism will succeed in extricating itself from its present acute overnment figures have been cited to show that the percentage of manufactured products in total U.S. exports has increased from 30.7% in 1910-1914 to 50.2% in 1930, while the percentage of crude materials and semi-manufacturers declined from 49.5% to 35.5%. The Department of Commerce lists gasoline. kerosene, fuel oil, lubricating oil, etc. as manufactured products, although in many cases they represent less "value added by manufacture" than such (items as copper ingots or steel billets, classed as semi-manufacturers considering all work done from the original extraction of ore (or crude petroleum) to final shipment ready for export. These four classes of refined oil products averaged in value, during 1910-1914, $114,409,000, or 5.37% of total exports; in 1930 they totalled $432,715,000, or 11.44% of total exports. Transferring this item alone from manufacture to semi-manufacture would give the following comparison:

Percentage of Total Exports 1910-14 1930 Dept. of Commerce figures Raw & semi-mfd. 49.5% 33.5%Finished mfrs. 30.750.2Revised, to allow for oil products as semimfd. products Raw & semi-mfd. 54.9

Finished mfrs. 25.338.8Without going into other criticisms of the official data, it will be clear that American economy has not yet adjusted itself to a basis of exporting finished products predominantly; it therefore follows that development of raw material resources abroad will aggravate the position of basic raw material industries in the U.S.

44.9

B. A second contradiction in Amertook 4% or more of total American ex-17.6%, Canada 17.2%, Germany 7.2%, France 5.8%, Japan 4.3%, a total of total world supplies of raw materials, exporting to Britain's competitors, but American imperialism following the same to backward countries. American im- procedure will throw additional supplies rerialism in crushing and displacing on to a world market which is incapable European competition, is at the same of absorbing the volume of production pletely the following conclusions. time reducing the buying power of its from existing facilities. This will agtradiction which weakens the effective- the developed productive forces of America's crises, both present and those to and the limited and declining world marcome.

basic difference between American and ican imperialism enters the arena in a important, politics very often acts as backward ones. The countries which contradictions had reached their present accelerating or retarding economic events. British imperialism did not grow by able to absorb the increased supplies points out) it would be wrong to deny tent due to the Right wingers and Cer its possible growth (Stalinism) but also trists). This means to present our posiwrong to present it as the thesis does. tion on the labor party and farmer labor The difference between growth and de- party, as well as the relation of the two cay capitalism, which turns around so which we are sure to have in complex many problems, also changes the pro- American developments, yet maintaining blem of reformism. Reformism can have the basic correct analysis on social re a narrowing economic base with an ideo- formism and the labor party as presented BOSTON .-

(at present) best markets; another con- gravate its own contradictions, between ness of imperialism as a solution of Am. erica and of the existing outside world, kets.

logical growth. As Trotsky says, the in the thesis. support of the social democrats in Ger-

-HUGO OEHLER.

Prospects for the Outcome of the Crisis

No matter what problem of impor-1 munist party" and the "labor movement" tance we, as a political organization, set and it is precisely in this objection that the weakness of this force lies. The ourselves to solve, we are always con-Communist party is but a small, a tiny fronted with the question of the "economic crisis". Our analysis of the devel- fraction of the American labor movement. So long as it continues to remain opment of the latter will determine the position to be taken on the problems of with its present approximate strength or weakness, and unless it radically changes the day. It is for this reason that we its present tactics, we can predict no must seriously and comprehensively study the various factors at work and the posrapid rise of its influence or prestigeit cannot play enough of a role to hamsible solutions in order to determine per seriously any attempt of the capitaltheir degree of likelihood. ists to issue from their crisis.

There are in the main three paths possible for this country to follow: (1) the crisis grows deeper and deeper, leading either to an imperialist or a revolutionary war, or to both: (2) it continues in the present state of depression; (3) i rises out of the crisis.

There are factors working for the realization of all three of the above, yet the factors working for the third possibility make that one the most likely.

Politics and Economics

Volumes have been devoted to explaining the direct connection and dependence course, very true and must always be classic British imperialism, that Amer- borne in mind. Yet, and this is also ica's world aims is based on the fact period of world capitalist decline, while the cause and not the effect, i. e., not that its export markets are largely based British imperialism developed during the as the determining factor for economic sperity. on developed industrial nations, not on world upswing of capitalism, before its trends, but the precipitating factor for maturity. When British imperialism, Recognizing the above, we shall discuss ports in 1930 were: United Kingdom through exploiting native labor in back- the question of the crisis in order to stricted markets" or "large volumes of ward countries greatly increased the show that "America will in most likelihood be able to get out of its present name you desire to apply to the same 52.1% to America's sharpest competitors. | world markets were still expanding and crisis", always remembering that major political events, such as successful revolutions in Germany or Spain or the act as the added force to warp com-

> The major factor working for the con tinuation of the present crisis until a ist party, the labor movement. An ob- market. (In connection with this, I bejection may be made to my using in lieve it should be pointed out that com- ences particularly in the great strike in all. . . practically the same breath the "Com- rade Field makes a fundamental error in 1930 in which 12,000 Boston shoe work-have had their wages decreased in even from 40 to 50 per cent. The wage-cut-

A second factor tending towards solution along, either lines 1 or 2 is present season the workers have begun to show resistance against it. Workers the enormously increased "productivity" during the past decade. In connection everywhere in the industry are maturing with this although it makes the solu- for organization possibilities, as mani tion of the crisis more difficult and the fested by walk-outs in several factories.

period of the cycle shorter, I do not At the moment, the cutters in the Dart mouth factory are out on strike while believe it to be of so potent a nature as to make a solution of the present crisis all the other departments are working. Unfortunately, there is no union in the impossible. Productiveness has always been increasing under capitalism and befield strong enough to give all the shoe fore one attempts to raise the above as workers leadership in the struggles that the all-important stumbling block before are looming ahead for them. The Boot G. Behind these contradictions is the of politics on economics. This is, of which American capitalism will be and Shoe, the oldest union in the indusbrought to its knees, he should explain try, an A. F. of L. organization, is discredited among the workers quite thorwhy, in spite of increased productivity prior to previous crises, the country always rose from the fragile bridge of still fresh in the minds of the shoe workthe crisis years to broader paths of proers. It has always proved itself to be a servile agency of the State Board of Ar-A crisis, especially the present one against rotten conditions: "outlaw' manifests itself in "over-production", "re strikes, and expelling militant locals, as accumulated stocks on hand", whichever Shoe Workers, at one time a progressive "surplus of commodities". Therefore in union, with its main, or to be correct, only and he was not given a chance to speak. base in Lynn, have lost their following order to rise out of the trough of depression, it will be necessary to extend at present by trailing in the footsteps outbreak of a new imperialist war, will the "market". Exactly what does the of the Boot and Shoe. A few more inmarket consist of? The following three dependent local organizations, like the major sub-divisions may be made: (1) one in Haverhill, actually amount to nothing. market for consumers' goods (shoes,

The present critical situation among clothing, etc.); (2) market for producrevolutionary overthrow is the Commun- ers' goods (factories, etc.): (3) foreign the shoe workers, their distrust of all leadership is a result of their experi-ers participated. The leadership in that After textiles, the shoe industry in strike were a part of the old United New England is the industry second in machine. No preparations were made, importance in that area. Of all indus- no demands drawn up, even the pickettries in the section, the shoe industry ing was not carried on in an organized has been left almost untouched by the manner. The strike was spontaneous economic crisis. Production of shoes in- almost from its inception and took on creased due to the fact that New England huge proportions over night. The local is producing a cheaper type of shoe. De- leaders felt themselves incapable of spite all that, the wages of the shoe handling such a big situation and were workers have nevertheless undergone un- ready to receive aid from any quarter heard-of slashes, even in such a period that would offer it to them. In this way, of wage cuts as universal in its effects many of the Communist party members as the present. Average reduction of weaved themselves into the general strike the workers' pay amounts to 40 per cent committee. Splendid possibilities were for all crafts. The wood-heelers and opened up for the Left wing in general. some of the crafts in the stitching rooms The W. I. R. and the I. L. D. were recognized by the general strike commithigher percentages ranging anywhere tee as the official aid agencies and representatives of these organizations were ting campaign is still on, and during the invited to speak to mass meetings of the strikers. When Biedenkapp came down to address the workers for the revolutionary Independent Shoe Workers Union of New York, he was enthusiastically received by the strikers.

But, instead of proving to the workers by patient advice and activity in the strike itself, that the Left wing, under the leadership of the Communist party, really represented the will of the strikers and that only a revolutionary leadership can win the strike for them, the party in the midst of the first "third period" flare actually attempted to move the party headquarters into the headoughly, their numerous betrayals are quarters of the strike. Instead of working with the rank and file of the strike committee on a united front basis, by our tactics and policies, we even alienbitration calling all genuine revolts ated the Left wing workers. A few weeks later, when Foster came down to address a strikers' meeting, called by in the Brockton strike in 1922. The United the party's forces, the meeting was broken up by the shoe workers themselves. The party even then did not realize its mistakes, but rather deceived itself into thinking that the breaking up of the meeting was simply the work of the reactionaries and that the workers were still with us. Disillusioned betrayed and defeated, the workers returned to the shops. Many of them were blacklisted and could not get any jobs at

-SHOE WORKER.

umers' goods will mean re-employ- difficulties. -H. STONE

In the Struggle of the Shoeworkers

The Left Opposition on the Parliamentary Tribune

"spirit which inspired the German officers' corps", to which this Bolshevik baptized by Thaelmann responds: "Your letter and the lofty sentiments expressed in it have stirred me deeply. It is the spirit of the old army that speaks here, the spirit of Langemarck and Verdun. The capitalist democratic system has nothing in common with this spirit. The 'national' circles have betrayed the cause of the dead in France

A couple of weeks ago, the Daily Worker, following on the heels of the just as Wilhelm II betrayed it when rest of the international Stalinist press he fled to Holland . . . The revolutiongleefully announced the adherence to the ary forces of the people must be assem-Communist Party of Germany of more bled, and the war of liberation carried than a dozen former Fascist (National to the West (i. e., against France) over Socialist) army officers who had taken the wreckage of the Weimar republic the path marked out for them by the . . . There is no longer any solution notorious Lieutenant Richard Scheringer. except that of the people's revolution. ..' The Daily Worker, like the Berlin Rote In answer to the comments of the Fahne, proclaimed this "victory" as a former leader of the Economic party, sign of the disintegration of Fascism in Johann Krummacher, our Lieutenant writes: "On the Jewish question we have Germany and the revolutionary progress of the forces of Communism. Had these already spoken recently. I would like Fascists of yesterday really rallied to to make plain to you once more, in the Communist party on the basis of a brief, my standpoint in the matter: If revolutionary change of mind, there is no one wants to take the ground from undoubt that it would be the occasion for der the 'Jewish business spirit', he must a claim of victory-and a cautious one eliminate the capitalist system. In a at that, for they are at best dubious socialist Germany, the gentlemen of West elements. Unfortunately, the facts belie Berlin, the gentlement of Ullstein and such a claim. It appears that it is not Mosse will no longer have anything to so much the generals and lieutenants of say. They know this quite well and that is why they conduct an incitement with all Fascism who have come closer to international socialism as it is the Thaelmeans against Communism and against manns and Neumanns who have slid the Soviet Union. Besides this, it is down to the level of the demagogy and nevertheless interesting, even if not of fundamental significance, that there is opportunism of national socialism. not a single Jew in the Central Commit-

This proceeds clearly from a pamphlet tee of the Communist Party of Gerwe have just received. Issued in Berlin may, while in the Scherl Publishing by a publishing house controlled by the House of Hugenberg on the contrary, German party, it may be safely assumed that the Stalinists take at least a semiofficial responsibility for its contents, particularly when we have yet to find in the official party press a single critical comment on what is said there. The pamphlet is entitled "Erwachendes Volk, Briefe an Leutnant a. D. Scheringer' (The Awakening People, Letters to Lieutenant Scheringer, Retired). Scheringer is the noted Fascist leader, Lieutenant of the Reichswehr, who was recently sentenced to prison for carrying on Hitlerite propaganda in the Reichswehr. In prison, he turned to reflection and finally sent an announcement of his adherence to the Communist party to the Communist fraction in the Reichstag. The sensation created by this step produced a voluminous correspondence between Scheringer and his friends in the Hitlerite camp. Some of the letters and answers by Scheringer are reproduced in the pamphlet. Even more than a revelation of the thoroughly nationalist spirit which still pervades Scheringer's thoughts, deas Bolsheviks, nor were they warmly spite his "conversion" to Marxism (?), his letters stand as a burning condemnation of the Stalinist leadership in Germany which welcomed him and his similars with open arms and sought to pass off his adherence as a victory for Communism. How Scheringer understands his adherence to Communism, and the basis upon which he is recruiting for it among his friends in the Hitler-Fascist camp, will be eloquently demonstrated by excerpts from some of the letters sent by him from Gollnow prison.

An old friend of his father Lieutenant no better. They are simply politically longer. Has it not become a fact that General Dietrich, writes him in warning incapable of distinguishing between the against "destructive Bolshevism", exhort- degeneration of the party and its reving him against it in the name of the olutionary progress.

Comrade Seipold's Speech in the Prussian Landtag

[We print below the full text of the] not in a much different and certainly | riedly upon the events on the other side | ublic for it is not a democracy for the speech delivered by our comrade Oskar not in a much better position. The Seipold, member of the Left Opposition French hourgeoisie also received the of the Prussian Landtag at the session same amiable proposal, as unexpected as of July 8, 1931, in the debate on the re- a blow over the head. It tried to set ferendum recently held.]

Deputy Seipold (Left Opposition of the Communist Party of Germany) : Although I have had the occasion to speak from this tribune on small questions, this is the first time I have had the opportunity to speak here in a larger debate. Organizationally and officially, I do not belong to the Communist party, for reasons which it would be inopportune to explain here, but which are outside of my will. Politically and revolutionarily, I belong entirely to the Communist party and take my place in its Left wing.

The Fascist attack upon the Prussian Landtag is part of its campaign of destruction against the working class, and it is in this sense that every revolutionist will resist these veritable German Mussolinists, on this barricade as well as on others. Outside of this, no revolutionary worker has any interest in preserving the Prussian Landtag or any other Landtag in the Reich. The miserable parcelling out of the state, with all the rubbish and spoliation of the German past, has remained with us blings in Europe. How can one believes as a heritage, and if the mutilated, violated and swindled revolution in 1918 did minate all the irreconcilable rivalries, apnot put an end to it, it is primarily the as was notoriously established in court, fault of the social democracy. We are there are nine representatives of this for a united German republic and we are race. Where do you find the Jewish presure that in a unified republic our Ausdominance in the Communist party? trian brothers will find themselves together with us. But that is not yet One could go on for pages with this enough for us. (Laughter from the sickening rubbish were it not for the fact Right, Interruptions: No No.) that the strongest stomach has its limits.

We know that Germany is an integral part of Europe, for the debasement, exhaustion and bleeding of which the ruling classes of Germany and the social democracy bear just as much of the responsibility as the ruling classes which imposed the shameful peace of Versailles upon all the peoples of Europe, including those of the socalled victors.

German and America

But even a really unified Germany their disgraceful "Schlageter policy", the could no longer exist in a broken up Europe devouring itself. This is preattempt to win the nationalist-minded cisely what illuminates specifically the German soldier and worker on the basis of a capitulatory discussion with the miserable position in which the continent, once so proud of itself, finds itself nationalists. But the Schlageters and today. The ruling classes of Germany the von Reventlows were not yet hailed are at the present time on their knees before Mr. Hoover, the perfect repre welcomed into the ranks of the party. sentative of American imperialism, of tion formally inscribed in the program of the hierarchy, of the magnates of the trust. of the dollar, and they look up then be opened up before the whole of the Comintern, the latter-day Lauffenbergs and von Reventlows-the Franco- hopefully. Today, in the year 1931, it humanity! That this has not been realphobian Scheringers—are not only taken, depends upon when and how Mr. Hoover into the party but their "works" are pub- wil move his index finger as to whether fault of the social democracy. lished by the official party without a flush we shall have a few hundred thousand of shame and with the official imprim- unemployed more or less, as to whether atur of the Stalinist legates in Germany. Mr. Bruening goes or remains a few That the editors of the Daily Worker months longer, and what is still more join in the chorus may be attributed important, as to whether the Reichsbank breaks up or is maintained a while mainly to their ignorance: they know America has put Germany on rations? But just look at France-victorious, only be realized by the victorious proproud, sabre-rattling France, which is up some opposition almost to protest but how timidly, how reticently and humbly! France too has been rationed by the grace of Hoover-not to speak of the other states of Europe. In order to throw a few crumbs to the people who have sunk into misery and despair, they speak and write about a Pan-Europe, of disarmament and other things. Disarmament is in reality only a strengthening of armaments for new imperialist wars, and Pan-Europe is the attempt by France to conceal its weakness, and, under the insignia of French bayonets, to mobilize Europe, Germany included, against Soviet Russia, and under the same trade mark, against the United States of America.

No serious person, including M. Briand, believes that the capitalist regime will succeed in satisfying the needs of the of militarist France. No! The postponement of the war debt payments for a year, which is essentially a secondary question, has only increased the squabthat the bourgeoisie will be able to elipetites and conflicts and to create a united Europe? If the German bourgeoisie, together with its social democracy, has shown its inability to unify democratically at least the German nation then they are even less capable of collaborating effectively in the unification of Europe. The German nation can be ial democrats--you would not be sitting united only by the victorious proletariat. here now. Without these people (point-The same holds true for Europe. A Sov- ing to the social democrats) the revoluiet Germany within a Soviet Europethat is our solution of the problem. Look at Soviet Russia. We have no need of concealing the weaknesses and the wounds, which constitute the terrible heritage of the past, we have no need of idealizing the present situation. It is a transitional stage, with all its contradictions and torments. But can our misery be compared for a single instant with the hopeful perspectives opened up by the proletarian revolution in Russia? Imagine for a moment that this method of concentrated planned economy were based not or not only upon the backward productive forces of Russia but also upon German economy and technique, upon the ability of the German worker and technician-what vast perspectives and possibilities would

Proletarian Revolution Only Hope

seen their ruling classes in all sorts of possibilities, of situations, and of combinations, and have put them to the of the Pyrenees, and in the near future, -we are sure-the old historical watchword: "There are no more Pyrenees" will become a revolutionary reality.

No, a thousand times, no. Not from Locarne, not from Chequers, not from the There are two sorts of democracy: one White House at Washington, from the for the bourgeoisie-that is the democragilded caves of cupidity and blood-drenched intrigue will come liberty and salva- iat-that is the revolutionary dictatortion for the German and other peoples; only the proletariat, relying upon its mainly by the parties of the Center, that own forces, will be able to liberate itself, that is the only road to the emancipation of Europe from the yoke of capitalism.

The revolution is a harsh means which demands great sacrifies. But these sacrifices must be made, for there is no other way of liberation than the proletarian revolution. Against permanent misery, against the permanent mutual devouring Has not Mr. Minister Severing said this of the people, against the permanent lies and intrigues of the heads of the capitalist nations and naturally of ours also, we raise the slogan of the permanent European peoples under the leadership revolution of the proletariat. This is the banner under which stands the Communist Left Opposition, the Bolshevik-Leninists, which is an international faction of world Communism, to which I belong and in whose name I speak from this tribune. If today we are still compelled to fight against the Fascists, it is above all the fault of the social democratic leadership which strangled the revolution of 1918 before it had gone half way, before it had even gone a quarter way in its course.

(Turning to the Right). If in 1918 you had not had these friends-the soction of 1918 would have dealt differently with you. You would not have come out of the rat holes into which you crawled.

The "Freest Republic"

I have said that the revolutionary proletariat, aside from the fact about which the Fascists want to eliminate the Landtag, have no interest in its preservation. I say quite openly: we too have no interest in maintaining this democratic rep- ist federation.

proletariat but for the bourgeoisie. The "rights" of this democracy are only a snare with a thousand nooses for the workers, and for the exploiting class it is a theater with a thousand exists. tic republic; the other for the proletarship of the proletariat. It is often said, we live in the freest republic in the world. It is doubtless futile for me to cite instances to refute this "bold" assertion. One need only look around in order to see how perfectly the blackjack is used against the revolutionary worker. If, for example, the Spartakiad was recently prohibited, such a policy of violence is not always a sign of strength. very day that one must permit even a dying man to show signs of life from time to time?

This "freest republic" in the world accords the right of asylum to all the counter-revolutionists the White Guards of the Soviet Union and elsewhere. But for revolutionists, for Leon Trotsky, the former People's Commissar and organizer of the Red Army of the Soviet Republic, this "freest republic" in the world offers no asylum, any more than all the other capitalist countries.

(Interruption: And Russia?)

To discuss with you as to why he is not in Russia would be just as futile as to batter against the waves of the sea. (Deputy Leonhardt: A great philosopher!)

You are the greatest, dear colleague. I shall vote against the referendum proposed by the Fascist organizations and will naturally vote for the proposal of the Communist fraction for the dissolutin of the Landtag, because the proletariat, as I have said has no interest in the preservation of this parliament, or in the preservation of parliamentarism in general; our aim is the extra-parliamentary revolution in permanency, the Soviet republic of Germany in a Soviet Europe as the bridge to the world social-

Jobless Meet Sabotaged

(Continued from page 1) the request that each delegation sign one tions that we have nothing to do with." together with the names of the delegates. The Communist League of America (Opposition) had two delegates, Hugo Oehler ized at least in part is primarily the and Martin Payer.

After the slips were collected, they were gone over by a couple of the party officials. No credentials committee was The European peoples have already elected—neither was any report made by any one as to how many organizations to fight and expose the party's policy were present, approximate membership, etc. This was all purposely "omitted" iliary organizations) and calling it a test. Salvation cannot come from that because "Trotskyists" were present.

source; the salvation of Germany can Then Nels Kjar spoke, pointing the two reasons for the conference and ex- er is to fight against the bureaucrats' letarian revolution. Only the victorious plained that the floor was thrown open proletarian revolution can create a for discussion. While Nels Kjar was unitetd and powerful Germany which speaking. Rybicki pointed out the two pressure to force the party to hold a will be a part of the Soviet Federation of delegates from the Communist Opposition genuine united front unemployment conand gave the chairman instructions not ference on September 13th. Because only to give us the floor. Then in order to make his plans water-tight, Rybicki went the police terror, discredit the "Red through the delegates and caucused up with several of the party members with this result: The speakers came up in 1-2-3 style. The chairman and Rybicki would point to one after the other of district organizer, Bill Gebert, spoke, those that were lined up-and only they although he linked the "Trotskyists" with were given the floor. All other handwavings were entirely disregarded. Finally after seven or eight had spoken, nearly three hours of speeches. Rybicki cut the speech-making by announcing that during the "floor discussion" The Committee had chosen 25 of those present to be the delegation to ge to the Emerson Relief Committee! Who all working class organizations-unem-"the committee" was, where it came from, ployment demands "borrowed" from the and who gave it authority to chose the delegation, Rybicki did not explain. I understand that ideas do not come from nowhere, but I assure you that this "committee" did. Because the conference did of the demands, although he did not fornot elect any committee and knew noth- get to "connect" us up with a forged ing whatsoever about it until Magician Rybicki pulled it out of his sleeve. When the names of the appointees were read off. three of the workers expressed an inability to serve in the delegation. Payer together with two or three other workers, stood up and volunteered. Then Rybicki said that before adjourning the conference, he would read off the completed list of the delegation, and lo and behold, Payer's name had vanished. He was not included. Ochler, Payer and two of the delegates seated near us tried to get the floor to protest. We waved hands, stood up, "comrade-chairmaned"---but the meeting was adjourned in apple pie order. Payer's protest after the conference to Rybicki who answered curtly with. "You know we wouldn't accept you". Rybicki explained to one of the worker-delegates who persisted in objecting to such tactics of discrimination by saying that Payer was not added to the delegation of 25 because "They already had the right proportion, 50% Negro and 50% .white' and "besides there are certain organiza-Such tactics as these only serve to divorce party leadership from the workers. They discredit the Communist movement. Such tactics as these will give birth to a still-born babe if they are applied in September 13th Unemployment Conference.

The duty of the Left Opposition is of grasping their other hand (their aux-"united front" of the working class. The duty of every Communist and sympathizdeliberate strangling of the potential mass unemployment movement. Exert general mass demonstrations, but some Notes

Enough has been quoted to show the caliber of this new convert to Stalinist national socialism and to indicate the thorough wretchedness of any claim of victory for the German party. In 1919, the Communist Party of Germany was cursed with the "national Bolshevik" faction of Wolffheim and Lauffenberg;

but it soon expelled them, and without much ceremony. In 1923, Zinoviev, Ra-dek. Brandler and Froelich carried on

In 1931 with national socialist degenera-

Europe. progress is being made in this respect.

BOSTON-

With the assistance of comrade Gordon the Boston branch reports that contacts are growing daily, but adds modestly their assistance. Likewise they have "our activities are increasing slowly but satisfactorily". The police having put up the Spanish Opposition and in bringing a ban against street meetings, which the the message of the revolutionary workofficial party failed to attempt to break, ers of Spain to the attention of Minnour group took the initiative and last eapolis workers. In this respect very Friday held a successful meeting. There was a crowd of 200 in attendance, the of meetings at which speakers explained police met in force and made several threats to arrest the speakers. Nevertheless the meeting was able to conclude ish revolution. In the Minneapolis trade union field the in good order, winding up with an appeal to the assembled to attend in force the Sacco-Vanzetti demonstration scheduled for the following day.

"The comrades were elated", says the report. "The crowd was militant and responsive. After the meeting, we dis- convention. cussed with party comrades, who were standing in a daze and could not believe their eyes and ears, we who were called cheers for it. These comrades complainence of the party. It had not called a single amnesty meeting in Malden during the entire month."

As a result of the increasing activities quite a few revolutionary workers have of the movement can be learned by readcome to our branch discussion meetings ing the report of the recent Chicago unand are preparing to enroll into our employment conference where the official class. The branch concludes its re- party bureaucrats spared no efforts to port, from which we have taken these keep our representatives out. But even excerpts, by an order for more literature. that does not prevent our comrades from M Distribution of our pamphlets has enjoy- doing their duty and their place within ed a very favorable response. Large quantities were disposed of in connection with the recent showing of the NEW YORK picture "The Five Year Plan".

MINNEAPOLIS-

Two of our comrades, Coover and Dunne were arrested recently for posting bills after a successful street meeting. They were subsequently released by the failure of the arresting cop to find a suitable charge which could stick. The branch reports that street meetings have otherwise gone ahead uninterruptedly and regularly. The branch has also with quite regularity added to its ranks by the admittance of new members.

Our Minneapolis comrades have long been in the lead in keeping a substnatial Militant subscription list in the city and keeping it quite well up-to-date. All the efforts of the party-controlled miners' relief committee to keep our representa- now very active participants in various

on. The comrades report that they were able both to secure funds directly and influence Left wing workers in lending made their good contributions to help good results have been obtained by way the developments in Spain and in distribution of our pamphlets on the Span-only Communist actively fighting for the issues of the Left wing are those of the Left Opposition. It became possible

therefore to elect several good Left wingers for the Minnesota State Federation

CHICAGO-

New blood has been added to the Chicago branch by the imitation of a counter-revolutionists, holding a meet- couple of new young members. Preparaing for amnesty under the slogans of the tions are now under way for a serious I. L. D., calling the workers to a party study class for the coming winter. Street demonstration and leading the workers in meetings are being held regularly. In addition the branch has now for some ed to us about the laziness and neglig- time been conducting a series of lectures explaining the views of the Left Opposi tion in regards to events in the labor and revolutionary movement. That the Chic-J М

ago branch is active in the regular tasks the unemployment movement, recognition or no recognition.

The branch at the center has undoubtedly made a better record than any in the increase of its membership. While new applicants appear regularly the sympathetic circle also records some growth. Two street meetings are conducted regularly each week. New speakers are \mathbf{B} receiving an elementary training and a N number of young energetic comrades \mathbf{L} animated by the good experiences of Comrade Clarke and Stamm during T their recent activities in Cleveland are br ready to undertake organization work immediately after our Second Conference. The New York branch has made quite regular progress in its sympathetic efforts to assign a special field of activity for every member. Most of them are uld nevertheless not suc- mass organizations. It has not as yet our members taking up fully succeeded, however, in effectively " --- mbile this strike was mobilizing s many supporters for the

Once the New York branch learns better the technique of effective distribution of the Militant and of our literatiure.

it will in the full sense of the word become our banner branch. But in this respect it has still something to learn. Our Program of Expansion Campaign While most of our attention of recent date, in so far as material means are concerned, has been directed toward collecting funds for the help of the Left Opposition in Spain now facing immense revolutionary tasks, nevertheless our program of expansion has not been at a standstill. This holds true both in respect to applying the measures called for as well as furnishing the material means.

We have been able to record expansion. Since the organization of the Pioneer Publishers, literature sales have been gradually on the increase. The weekly Militant is now sufficiently solidly established to remain. Preparations are in full swing for the Second Conference and a little extra organization efforts are actually being made.

But since the date of the Second Conference is rapidly approaching there is a double urge to just increase the speed of collections so that we may reach the $1500.00 by that date.

The contributions received since last report were as follows:

Minneapolis	2,000
branch	$17.00	1	1
Chicago	1		1.750
branch	5.00		1,750
Boston
branch	3.00
M. Lopez,
So. Africa	2.42
New York
branch	8.50	1,500
Tom Stamm	5.00
New York			-1.250
Wm. Edwa rds	2.00
New York
R. B.	2.00
New York		1,000
B. J. Fields	25.00
New York L. Stone,
D. Stone, Phila.	2.00		-750
Toronto
branch	5.40
		500-
Total	$75.32
Previously reported $1 Total	,177.27
10(a)
To date $1,252.59
		·

The Fascists who want to do away with the Prussian Landtag only because they see in it an obstacle on the road to the enslavement and the real national Mussolinization of Germany, these Mussolinists also speak of a revolution, that is, in contrast to us Marxists-Bolsheviks, of a people's revolution which they oppose to the proletarian revolution. We have nothing in common with this. It is evidently a question of a revolution that would be of benefit to all the peoples of Europe, and in the long run, to all of humanity, but such a revolution can be carried through only by the victorious proletariat, making its will the law of the state. Under this ambiguous formula of the people's revolution, we find highly chauvinist elements like Lieutenant Scheringer penetrating into the ranks of the proletarian vanguard in order to upset, to wipe out and to poison its international conceptions. People of this type speak of the "national" emancipation of Germany by a war against the Western powers. To this end, they are ready to sacrifice the forces of the proletariat to national interests, and to use them as cannon fodder. No, this is not our standpoint. We do not separate the fate of Germany from the fate of Soviet Russia, of Europe and of the whole world. Our program is not the "national" emancipation of Germany, but the salvation of Europe by the proletarian revolution. We know of no other salvation than socialism for the destitute threatened by crisis, unemployment and war. But we understand socialism not nationally but internationally. The workers of the Soviet Union have set a magnificant example; they have made a practical beginning with socialist construction. This work can be ended only by being extended over an increasing number of states, in the first place on the European continent. Then the Soviet Union will form the natural bridge to awakened Asia, and this will be the road to the socialist world federation.

Revolutionary Flames in Spain At the other extreme of the Sovie Union there now bursts forth the great flame of the revolution. The revolutionary proletariat of Spain is already advancing the slogan of Soviets. This slogan is as inextinguishable and indestructible as the proletariat itself. The course of development is only passing through its first stage there. Our magnificant brothers of Spain, of Catalonia and of Biscaye, with their marvelous temperament and spirit of sacrifice, will not bring their revolution to a halt at the Ebert-Zamora stage; supported by the poor despoiled peasantry, they will march uninterruptedly to the complete victory of the proletarian revolution. The masters of France-not without cause-look wor-

THE MILITANT

Vol. IV, No. 21, August 29, 1931

Published weekly by the Communist League of America [Opposition] at 84 East 10th St., N. Y.

EDITORIAL BOARD

Martin Abern James P. Cannon Max Shachtman Maurice Spector Arne Swabeck

Subscription rate: $2.00 per year; foreigh $2.50. Five cents per copy. Bundle rates, 3 cents per copy then will we able effectively to resist scare" propaganda and wage a united struggle of employed and unemployed against the miseries of unemployment.

It is interesting to note that when the the agents of the bosses and denounced us for bolstering up the capitalist system and told the Negroes that the "Trotskyists" were defenders of racial discrimination and Jim Crow laws-nevertheless objective conditions forced him to point out the necessity of adopting block councils and the united front of Opposition. Of course, in true hypocritical fashion, he did not point out that these were "Trotskyist" demands-no, no. Gebert conveniently forgot the origin membership card got out by the Chicago Real Estate Board. Gebert told the workers assembled: the next time they run across any of the "renegades who call themselves Communists" to-"Well you know what to do." And the chorus of party bureaucrats replied in unison, "Yeh, we'll beat hell out of 'em!"

-MARTIN C. PAYER.

Books by Leon Trotsky THE STRATEGY OF THE WORLD REVOLUTION 86 pages, two-colored paper cover 25c Introduction by Max Shachtman THE SPANISH REVOLUTION 80 pages, paper cover 10c THE PERMANENT REVOLUTION 208 page book-cloth bound 1.00 paper bound THE REAL SITUATION IN RUSSIA Introduction by Max Eastman 364 page book formerly $2 now 1.00 MY LIFE-600 pages 5.00 THE SPANISH REVOLUTION IN DANGER 64 pages paper cover 15c PROBLEMS OF THE DEVELOP-MENT OF THE U.S.S.R. 48 pages, paper cover Special Rates in Bundles of 5 or more Order from PIONEER PUBLISHERS 84 East 10th Str New York Ci