Budenz Reveals MINE STRIKERS PROTEST Trotsky Murder TAFT-HARTLEY SLAVE BILL Facts To Jury

Tells Grand Jury That Stalin's GPU Made Assassination Preparations In New York City

NEW YORK, June 11 - Louis Budenz, former Daily Favor People's Worker editor and Communist Party National Committee Referendum On member, appeared on June 5 before the Grand Jury to tell what he knew about the conspiracy to assassinate Leon Trotsky which he himself confessed was hatched in this Poyntz was "liquidated" by the city by agents of Stalin's GPU. secret police. Long delayed revelations confirming that Stalin murdered Trotsky were made by Budenz in his autobiography This Is My Story published in March this year. The Grand Jury hearing follows the demand for such an investigation made on March 17 by a delegation headed by Socialist Party leader Norman Thomas, New York City Councilman Louis P. Goldberg and novelist James T. Farrell. This delegation presented a statement signed by scores of prominent citizens, asking that "Earl Browder, Jack Stachel, Budenz himself, and all other Communist Party leaders, past or pres-ent, who are known to have been SWP Chalks Up involved in the activities of the Soviet Secret Police in our com-munity, or who are declared to 5% Of Vote In have had knowledge of such ac-tivities, should be subjected to ESSEX County official examination and such judicial action as the facts may warrant.'

Prior to going before the Grand Jury, Budenz was questioned for an hour by Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet. Budenz stated to the press that his appearance is the first of a series in which he proposes to reveal many aspects of the preparations made in America 2,393 and William E. June 9 — More than 11,000 Pennsylvania soft coal miners have downed tools in protest against the Taft-Hartley bill. The stoppage began three days ago when 400 men in the Fayette-Greene County area decided it was time to take action against the Taft-Hartley anti-labor bill now on Truman's desk. Their strike was not official. Andrew S. Rayner, president of the Gates Mine local of the United Mine Workers, declared: "The men refused to work for some reason but the local did not call any strike."

STRIKE SPREADS

The strike rapidly mushroomed throughout the Pittsburgh area. "The men think President Truman will veto the anti-strike bill if all the men come out on strike," said John Ozanich, president of the Robena local. "The men went to work Saturday morning, but the word was spread around that there was no work on account of that bill." As the spontaneous protest ac-

The story part of the novel is integrated with a moving panorama of an upper middle-class Irish Catholic community, with priests and politicians working in cahoots, dominating the scene. Such a job has not been done before in this country he fervently believed in both institutions, and to my knowledge. Politics, of course, including the malodorous municipal variety, has been quite adequately treated. The fact that Tammany politicians, like the others, are in politics for what and make something for himself at the same they can get out of it is not a new revelation in time. As for the Church, which he also took for American fiction. What is new is the thoroughgoing treatment of the role of the Catholic clergy in politics and their totalitarian interference in morals and incentives of their parishioners.

The author's account of all this bears all the greater stamp of authenticity because it obviousfrom an anti-Catholic, but simply from an anticlerical point of view. Truman's course demonstrates how far he is from being a political representative of the working people. Truman is the leading executive of the capitalist class. Consequently he has no basic objections to the Taft-Hartley bill becoming law.

Why, then, does he not come out clearly in support of the measure? The answer is - for tactical reasons.

- A sliding scale of wages -an escalator wage clause in all union contracts to provide automatic wage increases to
- meet the rising cost of living! Organize mass consumers committees for independent action
- against profiteering and price-gouging! Expropriate the food trusts! Operate them under workers' control!
- 2. Full employment and job security for all workers and veterans

They tolerate no encroachment on property rights or privileges. Even the pathetic Catholic Worker group, with their Christian meekness and their utopian idea that humility and charity can conquer greedy privilege armed to the teeth, is hated and persecuted as a "communist group."

There is a savage irony which the author most probably didn't notice in the circumstance that his Catholic protagonist came to grief, with the consent and connivance of the priests, for doing no more than the mildest liberal or any decent man of good will would do without attaching any great importance to his actions. The bare fact that a man only half consciously performing a few simple humane deeds can be presented as the hero of a novel in an Irish-Catholic setting, bringing the unrestrained wrath of the clergy down on his head, gives a certain measure-perhaps more than the author understood or intended-of the black reactionary mentality of these ecclesiastics who wear the cloak of religion to serve and support a system of exploitation and discrimination.

An Appeal For Aid

The Militant is not "impartial" in the conflicts between Big Business and labor. It takes its stand foursquare on the side of the working man against the profiteers and warmongers. Week after week The Militant carries on its fight to protect the living standards of the workers against the price-gougers and profit hogs. It defends their right to strike and better their conditions.

The Militant exposes the sinister plans of Wall Street and its government in Washington to try to shackle the labor movement and clear the road for its imperialist conquest of the world. The chief aim of The Militant is to teach the American workers that only through socialism can they achieve peace and plenty and create the kind of world they want for themselves and their children.

Big Business has a virtual stranglehold over the country's press and all its vital instruments for shaping public opinion. Through this vast propaganda machine it grinds out lies against labor, distorts and suppresses news, whips up red-scares and labor-hating sentiment. The Militant fearlessly exposes the criminal activities of the monopolists and counteracts the lying propaganda of the laborhaters. That is why The Militant is feared and hated by all enemies of the working class.

But The Militant is respected and admired by the people for whom it speaks-the workers and their families. For them it is a beacon light of truth and courage. It gives them new hope and inspiration.

To these devoted readers and friends, The Militant must now turn for financial aid. It appeals to you for help. During the past year printing and paper costs have skyrocketed.

round. The answer the workers expected to get at Madison Square Garden-the answer they should have received long since-is a fighting call for a complete break with the capitalist political machines, for an end to company unionism in politics, for the formation of a Labor Party based on the trade unions and a program of irreconcilable struggle against the rule of the Wall Street bankers and coupon-clippers.

Who are labor's real and only friends? They are the men and women from labor's ranks who built the unions, organized and led the picket lines, brought the bosses to their knees in militant actions. These are the men and women to put in Congress. These are the friends whom the workers should reward with their votes and their political confidence.

Pentagon Conspiracy

Drew Pearson, the well-known columnist. revealed June 4 that "one of the most secret meetings since war days was held behind tightly barred doors in Washington's vast Pentagon Building this week."

The meeting was shrouded in this heavy secrecy for two reasons: (1) It concerned a blueprint for mobilizing American industry in accordance with Wall Street's plans for another war; (2) the participants were highly anxious to avoid the spotlight of publicity.

"The secret Pentagon meeting, called by Secretary of War Patterson," declared Pearson, "was attended by a number of prominent industrialists and labor leaders, including representatives of the Edison Electric Company, the National Association of Manufacturers, American Federation of Labor, CIO, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the railway labor brotherhoods, the Association of American Railroads, Radio Corporation of America, the aircraft industry, the Petroleum Institute and others."

The purpose of the meeting was to outline "in detail" the projected "establishment of an industry reserve corps of American workers and employers" with "units in every major manufacturing plant in the nation."

That the NAM, Chamber of Commerce, power trust, railway moguls, oil barons, and so on, should be actively engaged in this conspiracy against the people, is to be expected. They are the forces who launched the anti-labor drive now reaching a high point in the Taft-Hartley bill.

But what were representatives of the AFL, CIO and Railway Brotherhood bureaucrats doing in this conspiratorial gathering of capitalists and brass hats?

The answer is that they were betraying the American workers and the American trade union movement. They participated in the war plot as labor lieutenants of the capitalist class. They were being instructed on details of the reactionary scheme in order to help put it over with greater finesse.

Who gave these top union officials any mandate to work out plans for regimenting labor and shackling it to a new war machine? Who gave them the right to barter away the lives and liberties of the working men and women?

This kind of secret diplomacy between the heads of the trade unions and the political representatives of Big Business is a menace to American labor.

Making The World Safe From Atom Bombs

-By Art Preis -

While headlines and ether waves spread ominous forecasts of future war and atomic annihilation, a calm and comforting note is struck by a classified ad in the June 2 Toledo Blade. The human species is not utterly doomed. An enterprising realtor heralds in heavy type:

SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1947

SAFE FROM ATOM BOMB LAKESHORE ESTATE

YEAR-'ROUND 5-BEDROOM RESIDENCE No cave in the mountains, no shack in the wilderness is this refuge from radio-active slaughter. Life will not only go on-but it will go on with abundant delights. The ad informs us glowingly:

"Hot water, oil heat, fully equipped guest house, caretaker's lodge. Caretaker and maid available. Garden and fowl space, separate bath houses, cabana, outdoor grill. Garage. Clean, safe, sandy beach; water skiing, surf board, swimming, sailboating, fishing, ice boating, skating and hunting. Five miles to golf course. YEAR-'ROUND VACATION LIVING."

You can have all this "within 25 minutes drive from your downtown office" - provided the lucky owner gets a 25-minute tip-off on when an A-bomb is scheduled to descend.

Naturally, not everybody is invited to put in a bid. for the privilege of carrying on the human race five miles from a golf course in the year One A.D. (Atomic Destruction). The ad specifically states:

"Willys, Packard, Martin-Perry, Mather Spring, Gordon Bumper EXECUTIVES take NOTICE. This delightful place to live in is only 15 minutes from your plant."

Of course, only Junior Executives are expected to take advantage of this offer. Most of the top corporation executives and millionaire absentee-owners already have their baronial country estates and luxurious hide-aways complete with swimming pools far from the swarming centers of humanity and future targets for total obliteration.

But where will the Willys, Packard, Martin-Perry, Mather Spring and Gordon Bumper WORKERS go to be safe from atom bombs? Where will the millions in Chicago's, New York's or Detroit's teeming slums

Capitalism has failed to provide decent housing for tens of millions in the United States, let alone "Year-'Round Vacation Living Safe From Atom Bombs."

The only hope of the masses of people to escape from atom bombs, radio-active gases and bacteriological infection is to halt American imperialism from unloosing these scourges against mankind.

World capitalism has dragged humanity into two catastrophic global wars. It is moving with rocketspeed, impelled by Wall Street's planetary ambitions, to a third world war.

American labor can halt that war only by eliminating capitalism and establishing a workers' society on the foundations of socialism.

The slogan is: Make the world safe from atom bombs by making the world safe from the capitalists.

The Executive Committee of the POUM ("Workers Party of Marxist Unification") has published a manifesto in Spain which, by its complete break with Marxist ideas and even terminology, poses the question of the future of this party.

This extra cost has become a severe handicap, for The Militant is not subsidized the way the capitalist press is subsidized through lucrative advertising.

Will you send a contribution today to the Business Manager of The Militant, 116 University Place, New York 3, N. Y.? If you can, we urge you to follow the example of those Militant boosters who have already pledged to send a regular monthly contribution, as reported in "The Militant Army" on page 5.

Green's Politics

50,000 AFL workers crowded in and around Madison Square Garden in New York City last week to protest enactment of the Taft-Hartley Slave Labor Bill. They came full of fight and eager to do battle. They came, many of them, in high hopes of hearing their top leaders, including AFL President William Green, offer a real program of action to halt the menacing assault of Wall Street's government.

Above all, they wanted to get a new and vital political answer-a program of labor political action. They were bitterly disappointed.

They received from Green only a rehash of the AFL leadership's traditional policy of political subservience and cowardice-the philosophy of "reward your friends and punish your enemies." This has always meant in practice that when labor's "friends" in Wall Street's Republican Party stab labor in the back, then the workers should turn and embrace labor's "friends" in Wall Street's Democratic Party. Or vice versa.

What's happened to labor's "friends" that AFL votes helped to send to Congress in November 1946? That's the embarrassing $64 question the top union leaders fear to answer. Most of their November 1946 "friends" have gone the road of the "friends" of previous elections. As agents of the parties owned and controlled by Big Business, they have taken their orders from the big bosses. They have openly joined the wolf-pack howling at labor's heels.

The workers have no effective independent political party of their own to smash Wall Street's political monopoly enforced through the capitalist two-party system. Why then should the corporation stooges in Washington worry about Green's loud words and threats? He still promises to deliver labor's votes to some more capitalist political flunkies when the workers can no longer stomach the present batch.

Union workers today are sick and disgusted with riding the capitalist political merry-go-

The full light of publicity should be directed on the discussions that went on in the Pentagon building.

Double Standard

During the same days the Stalinists were putting the squeeze on Premier Nagy to force his resignation, a Wall Street puppet down in Nicaragua was pulling a similar coup d'etat. If the Nicaraguan coup d'etat differs from the Hungarian, it is only in its greater boldness and contempt for public opinion. And that's not much of a difference.

Anastasio Somoza, one of the brutal dictators from which Latin America suffers under Wall Street's shadow, had expected newlyelected President Arguello to act in office like a humble foreman who would carry out orders with jumping-jack promptness. But Arguello, the first president to be elected in ten years in Nicaragua, proved to be too independent for Somoza's comfort. So Somoza ordered out the National Guard, told the Nicaraguan Congress to hold an immediate session (3 o'clock in the morning) to declare Arguello "mentally incompetent" and put Lacayo-Sacasa, a more servile tool, in the President's chair.

This coup d'etat in Wall Street's back yard got not even a gentle slap on the wrist from the White House. It was called neither a "terrible situation" nor an "outrage."

The reason for this complacency is obvious. Wall Street practices a double standard of political morality. It disapproves in others what its own puppets do any day in the week.

Wall Street is not at all averse to dictatorial rule or to overturns of legally elected governments by armed minorities. Nor is it averse to rule by puppets.

Wall Street judges a regime not by any high and lofty principles of democracy, but simply by what interests the regime serves. If it serves the interests of Wall Street, then the regime has passed the acid test no matter how it obtained power.

Somoza is only one among many puppets who rule by grace of Wall Street. King Paul I, the monarch seated in Greece by Anglo-American imperialism and kept in office by hard American dollars, is another such puppet who rules in defiance of the popular will. Chiang Kai-shek, the butcher of the Chinese masses, whose armies enjoy their present strength by virtue of American dollars and military supplies, is another.

When Wall Street raises its hands to heaven over the outrageousness of the overturn in Hungary, it is not venting righteous indignation but only disclosing the depths of its hypocrisy.

Labor "statesmen" like Philip Murray help spread this donothing psychology by such actions as pledging and ordering no strikes in the steel industry for the next two years. This plays in the best possible way into the hands of Wall Street propagandists who are now busy trying to psychologize the workers to remain supine.

The POUM was founded in 1935 on a basis of centrist confusion and hostility toward Trotskyism. It was created by the fusion of the "Workers and Peasants Bloc." an extremely confused centrist organization centered about Maurin which had split. from the Stalinists in 1930, and the Spanish section of the International Left Opposition, which thus abandoned the Fourth Internationalist movement and program.

'this mixed grouping soon underwent a series of crises: some elements went over to the Stalinists. some were attracted to the Socialist Party. Since the end of the Spanish civil war, right wing elements such as Rivera have been working to form a party, the "Socialist Movement of Catalonia." together with all the reformist and "left" Catalan nationalist forces. The split in the POUM is taking place on the basis of the right wing's actions and of the refusal of the proletarian rank and file to follow them.

Now however, the POUM leaders in Spain, who claim to be left wing, have published a manifesto containing the same liquidationist and capitulationist ideas, the same abandonment of Marxism, as the right wing raised when it split to form the Socialist Movement of Catalonia.

This manifesto asserts that Spain is a western country and therefore its destiny is linked to those countries "which are leading civilization forward." It says that the main problem for Spain at this critical hour is to make possible the cohabitation of all Spaniards; that it is necessary to carry on the political struggle in an atmosphere of respect for everyone; that it is necessary to "overcome" the civil war atmosphere.

Reestablishment of the cohabitation of all Spaniards, the manifesto continues, requires a provisional government which will include the monarchists, legal courts to judge common crimes and attacks on civil rights, etc. (Such an approach would make a joke of a fascist purge in Spain as it did in so many other countries.) The manifesto also asserts that the workers must do nothing that might "impede the action of the Big Powers who can act" in favor of the Spanish people. These few samples give an idea of the tone and content of the POUM manifesto.

What will be the reaction of the working class rank and file of the POUM? There is no doubt that most of them will be against this policy. But the "left" POUM leaders are at present busy trying to hide and minimize the affair, an attitude which is very revealing.

The Spanish section of the Fourth International, in the June 1 issue of Lucha de Clases, calls on the workers in the POUM to take the offensive at once against this policy. Its appeal declares:

"Speaking to you fraternally, as one should among revolutionaries. we say to the militant workers of the POUM: Begin an implacable, over-all political offensive. In this struggle, count on our complete support. To the extent that you advance toward revolutionary Marxism, we will find ourselves together. The construction of the revolutionary workers party and the consolidation of the world revolutionary party are the tasks which will permit a fruitful and fraternal collaboration."

Lumberjacks Picket For Sixteen Months

Editor:

For 16 months the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union has been picketing 8 mills of the Union Lumber Co., Scotia Lumber Co., Pacific Lumber Co., and the Casper Lumber Co. The mills are in Fort Bragg, Rockport and Eureka. California. The union demanded a raise from $82\frac{1}{2}$ cents an hour to \$1.25 and a closed shop.

The mills are being worked by a strikebreaking crew. A picket told me, "These scabs do Sot know any better. They are om Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas."

Classes On Important Topics Featured At Mid-West Camp

The program of classes for the first two weeks of the Mid-west Summer School and Camp at Grass Lake, Michigan, has just been announced. The Camp's season begins on June 29.

William F. Warde, National Education Director of the Socialist Workers Party, will give a series of lectures on American history from 1492 to the close of the First American Revolution in 1789. This course will be followed by a similar series during the second week on "The Irrepressible Conflict," a study of the social and political struggles in the United States which culminated in the Civil War. Michael Bartell, Organizer of the Chicago Local of the SWP, will teach a class on "The Struggle For a Proletarian Party." His discussions will deal with such questions as the nature of a revolutionary socialist party, the laws of factional struggle between diverse tendencies within the party, the place of splits and unifications in the course of its development. The instructor will bring forward much material from the history of Lenin's Bolshevik Party and set forth the lessons of party build-

Other courses include a survey of "Economic and Political Prospects in the United States" and a study group on the history and ideas of the Trotskvist movement. A course on public speaking for trade unionists will also be given by an experienced instructor.

Militant readers are urged to make their reservations for accommodations now. The full season extends from June 29 to

Diary of a Steel Worker -A Leader Of Men

Tony Gordini spat into the brown dust that lay in the gutter. "My own lousy brother!" he snorted.

Old Dominick Gordini, his father, shook his head and said nothing. On his face was shame and disappointment. "It's like that sometimes," I said. "Sometimes some little thing looks mighty big to a man . . ."

When Old Dominick was laid off at the steel plant during the hard times he was lucky enough to get a job in a big hotel. It wasn't much of a job, but he was getting on in years, so when the plant began to get into production later on, he didn't go back. Then, too, it was sort of a family affair. His son, Carl worked there, and so did both his daughter, Santina, whom everybody calls Sally, and her husband, Mario, who had a good job as chef.

In a lot of ways it was nice working there. It was clean, the work wasn't hard, and there was the little family group. Mario, in particular, made it enjoyable for him. Any time the old man got away from his own job, he could walk into the big kitchen, and Mario would yell out, "Hi, Pop, how goes it?" And then he'd give Dominick anything he felt like eating. Mario was like a son to him . . . and betterthan a son, if you compared him with Carl. For Carl was quiet, distant. He avoided the old man and seemed ashamed of him. But Mario introduced him to all the other cooks and kitchen workers, called him Pop and got the rest of the kitchen staff to call him Pop and laugh and talk and joke with him.

But then Carl wasn't just a worker. He was a "leader of men." He was one to order, while others obeyed. Carl, you see, had been promoted to bell boy captain.

The Negro Struggle

Bell hops don't get much in weekly wages, but they make it up partly in tips. The captain, on the other hand, doesn't get any tips, and he doesn't get much more in his paycheck than the bell boys who jump to do his bidding. Ah, but money isn't everything in this world, the preachers and priests tell us. The best things are the things of the spirit. And Carl's spirit got the biggest bang out of the job of bell hop captain, with the right to tell others what to do . . . and best of all, the magnificent uniform with the gold braid, which the other bell boys couldn't wear, the gold braid which told the world that here was no ordinary bell boy

-but a captain! That's the reason, I guess, why Carl didn't want to have anything to do with old Dominick during working hours. And that's the reason for what happened later that made his brother Tony spit disgustedly into the red-brown dust of the steel town street and made old Dominick Gordini shake his head in shame and sorrow. There was a union representing the hotel employes to which everyone in the family belonged. Carl used to be a member too, an inactive one, until he became a leader of men.

So when a strike was called to give the hotel workers a decent wage, Mario was on the strike committee, and he and Sally and old Dominick walked up and down in the line with picket signs. But Carl, Captain Carl with his gold braid and his authority and his $35 a week paycheck, sneaked into the hotel and stayed there all during the strike.

Afterward Carl, in his quiet, distant, somewhat sullen way, had even less to do with his family and very little to say in general.

But old Dominick was most affected. He could no longer go into the kitchen and laugh and joke with Mario and his fellow workers. He was afraid somebody might say, "That's the father of Carl, the scab!"

the law, may be forced, in their desperation, to devise some means of protecting themselves. This would be a lawless and futile gesture . . . " The Militant vigorously disagreed with this viewpoint in an editorial dated May 31. Now William H. Staton of Youngstown, in a letter printed on Page 5 this week, undertakes to defend the NAACP statement and thus raises some vital questions.

The first question is: What in the world is "lawless" about protecting yourself against lynchers? I don't know how Mr. Staton would feel, but if someone tried to lynch me, I wouldn't feel that I was breaking any law (except lynch law) by resisting and trying to save my life. Lynching is murder, and murder is still illegal even in the South, at least according to the law books. Can Mr. Staton or Walter White or anyone else explain what law I am breaking if I protect myself against a gang of murderers?

Actually, this question of "lawlessness" is a secondary one, and hardly worth discussing except that the lynchers and their friends are the only ones helped by false ideas on this score.

A far more important point to be considered is the question of whether self-defense against as Mr Staton thinks it is.

their pastime can be dangerous for themselves as well as for their victims.

Mr. Staton seems to think we want 14 million Negroes to arm themselves and go out to fight the rest of the population. That would indeed be foolish, but it doesn't happen to be what we propose. To begin with, not every white man is hostile to Negroes and sympathetic to lynchers, even in the South. If that were the case, our plight would be hopeless, anti-lynch bill or no anti-lynch bill. But fortunately that isn't the case at all; the fact is that the lynchers represent only a small percentage of the white population.

Our task as Negroes is to band together with those whites who realize that Jim Crow and lynch terror harm them as well as us, and to jointly defend ourselves against our common foes. That means an alliance with the labor movement, leading to the formation of workers' defense guards to protect us against lynchers, fascists, strikebreakers, etc. But even where that is not possible, we must try to defend ourselves against lynchers for the simple reason given above - we have no other choice.

Mr. Staton also seems to think that it is an either-or proposition: EITHER we fight for an anti-lynch bill, OR we actively defend ourselves against mob violence. But why can't we do both? Why shouldn't we do both? As it was pointed out in the Militant editorial referred to by Mr. Staton:

"A federal anti-lynch bill will discourage lynching, but it will not by itself prevent lynching. A federal bill will make it easier to punish lynchers, but it will not restore life to the vic-ivnoners is "iutile, But let us stop and ask: What is the alternative to protecting ourselves against lynching? There is only one, and that is not to defend ourselves - that is, to let ourselves be lynched without resisting. Is there anything more futile than that? When it comes to choosing between the only two courses of action open when we are faced by lynch mobs - resisting or not resisting - isn't it clear that not resisting is far more futile?

We are ready to grant that self-defense will not be successful in stopping the lynchers every time. But at least we have a chance when we fight back. (I have never heard of a case where the victim of a lynch mob was let go with his life just because he refused to defend it.) And at least we could discourage some of the cowardly swine in lynch mobs by showing them that tims of the lynchers. A federal bill is necessary, but there is no contradiction at all between such a bill and defensive action by the Negro people against lynch mobs, both before and after a federal bill is adopted.

"The fight against lynching takes many forms. It requires legislation in Congress; political action to secure adoption of legislation and election of officials who will enforce it; mass action to end the capitalist system which spawns Jim Crow terror. No less important is the organization of effective action by the people themselves to stop lynch mobs before they can kill their victims.'

Mr. Staton keeps stressing the need for tact. Of course. But it is even more necessary to stress the need to fight. Slavery was not ended by tact, and neither will the lynch system.
