The Netherlands government, whose Ambassador Kleffens had ar- | curity Council decision could never gued vociferously that the Security Council had no jurisdiction whatever in this issue, "complied" by issuing a "cease fire" order. The Indonesian government followed suit, after a few feeble protests that opportunity for assuring themselves the Dutch troops should at least have been ordered to withdraw from the territories they had so cruelly seized. Philadelphia SWP Files Petitions For Its Candidate

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4-Nomination papers for Irene Le-Compte, Socialist Workers Party candidate for Councilman for the 7th District, were officially filed today. Close to 2,100 signatures, more than double the number legally required, were obtained to place the party candidate on the ballot in the fall municipal elections.

The signature campaign was completed after an intensive two-week drive. Members and friends of the ened by the warm response of Philadelphia workers to the idea of an independent workers' candidate. Worker after worker ex-

PRICE INCREASES WIPE OUT WAGE GAINS Inflation Slices Real Incomes to Levels of 1939

UNION ALASED 9

Price rises since March and especially in recent weeks have wiped out most wage gains and slashed purchasing power of the majority of wage earners below the reduced post-war levels of 1946.

In terms of what workers can buy, average incomes today are no better than those of the pre-war depression year of 1939, according to the latest conservative findings of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

While money wages averaged $48.46 weekly for all factory workers in May, 1947, after tax deducions and allowances for higher living costs, weekly wages of the average worker with no dependents equalled only $26.49 in 1939 purchasing power. The average worker with wife and two children got an equivalent of $29.99.

This miserable wage level has been still further reduced by a new spurt in prices since May. And the under way will cut real wages down to bare subsistence levels, and even below.

Wholesale prices two weeks ago, according to Labor Department 3.1 points on the index in seven plane, the big monopolists have been days, following six successive weeks able to slice real wages by forcing of rises.

Last week Prime Minister Att lee demanded of the English people still another installment on the fearful price they have already paid to keep England going as a capitalist concern. Two years of unremitting privations and toil by the masses have raised English production and exports sharply above 1938 levels. But insolvent capitalism had in the meantime brought the country to the brink of a natinoal disaster.

The weakest segment of English capitalist economy today is its fiscal system. The four billion dollar American loan was supposed to have kept it stabilized at least until 1949-50, but already it is almost gone. Once the remaining billion is exhausted, it will be necessary to

Lynch Mob Set Free In North Carolina

Seven white men who tried to lynch a Negro prisoner last May at Jackson, N. C., were set free by a Grand Jury on Aug. 5, despite the fact that one of the lynch mob had confessed to the crime. Godwin Bush, the intended victim who made a daring escape from the mob after they had taken him from prison, had been arrested on a phony "rape" charge. The case against him was so fraudulent that the Grand Jury which freed the would-be lynchers had to drop the charges against him.

North Carolina Governor Cherry issued a demogogic statement that he did not consider the lynch case

SIX MONTHS OF INDO-CHINA'S WAR

According to a communique of the Viet Nam General Staff, reproduced in Bulletin 20 of the Viet Nam Republic Information Service in Paris, the Indo-Chinese forces in the last six months have inflicted the following casualties on the French colonial army 16,605 dead, 13,947 wounded, and the reference of guerrilla infiltration and live

The country-side is covered by gutted villages. The French garrisons are hemmed within the cities while the rest of the country remains under the control of the insurgent and armed nonulation. According to correspondent Briggs:

"Tens of thousands of peasants, fighting for independence from Finnce. They have contained French troons in a few major cities, some up convoys and waylaid patrols. They hold the great bulk of the country."

The suburbs of Hanoi look "like a Chinese village after a Japanese wartime visit. Destruction everywhere. Down its half mile of main street (the reference here is to the suburb of Gialam) we see no living thing. Not even a dog."

. The cities themselves are depopulated. Hanoi is virtually deserted. "Two years ago Hanoi's population was about 200,000. Now drained by refugees from the fighting, it is about one-fifth that. A once-thriving French commercial community has dwindled to about 50."

Berlin Worker Earns More By Sleeping than by Working

BERLIN, Germany, July 28-Living conditions in Berlin are illustrated by a true story making the rounds here. According to the story, an employment bureau wanted to put one of the registered unemployed to work. The latter rejected the job offer, offering the following reason:

"I am not lazy, I am not ill, but I am also not stupid. I sleep every day till noon. Thus I dispense with breakfast. That means I can save a loaf of bread every week. This loaf I sell every Saturday on the black market. I receive for this loaf an average of twice the weekly wage I would make by working. Why should I work when I can earn twice as much by sleeping? Not to speak of the tax I would have to pay if I worked!"

The average wage in Berlin is 43 marks a week. Less taxes of all kinds, that leaves a net wage of 35 marks. Average bread rations per week amount to 2,800 grams. If one saves 1,000 grams of the bread ration, it can be sold on the black market for 60 marks. Black market operations are subject to penalty, of course, but are so widespread as to be normal, and the risk is therefore "fair." The calculations of the jobless man in the story are therefore flawless. His case merely epitomizes a state of allairs.

Dutch Unionists Advocate Boycott On War Material

AMSTERDAM, July 24 - Immediately after the Dutch imperialist attack on the Indonesians, the Revolutionary Communist Party Fourth International, issued a manifesto entitled "The Enemy Is in Our Own Country," and calling for a total boycott by the workers of Holland and the world against any shipments by the imperialists to Indonesia.

The trade unions composing the Eenheids Vakcentrale, although under Stalinist influence, have taken up this slogan and ordered the boycott of every boat sailing for Indo-

The Dutch capitalists, however with the complicity of the other capitalists, especially the Yankee, British, French and Belgian imperialists, will doubtless permit their ports to be used for the Dutch war effort.

For this reason, all stevedores and all seamen should follow the example of their Dutch brothers and boycott any imperialist shipments to Indonesia.

The Crisis in England

England, the country that has ruled the world for more than three centuries, finds herself today facing the gravest crisis in her history. Drained by the war, her antiquated economy now verges on collapse. The bubble of reviving England through an export boom has burst. Disaster now threatens the moment the last remaining billion of American credits is exhausted.

Just what is at the bottom of this crisis? The capitalist press in this country is elaborately pretending that England's terrible plight stems directly from the "socialist" measures instituted by the Laborites. As if Wall Street would have lent so much as a penny, let alone billions of dollars, to aid any genuinely socialist program!

The fact is, of course, that not a single genuinely socialist measure has either been projected or applied thus far in England. The nationalization of the coal industry and of the Bank of England have left these "nationalized" sectors along with the rest of the economy on the same capitalist basis as before. The coal industry and the Bank of England are still enterprises which operate for profit, with the dividends of their respective bondholders remaining as the first charge against their income. If any additional proof of the fraudulent character of these nationalizations is needed, let it be recalled that the Tories, headed by Churchill, adopted recently a program incorporating every single major measure already adopted by the Laborite majority.

Far from being a crisis of socialism, the English situation now unfolds as the crisis of capitalism.

This crisis must bring in its wake a grandiose political crisis, in the first instance, of the Labor Party. The masses who voted the Laborites into power, did so in expectation that they would guide the country on the socialist road. They have been monstrously duped. Instead these case-hardened reformists have done everything in their power to patch up the decayed capitalist system. For two years they have demanded "austerity," driving the masses to depths of poverty and sacrifices such as they were not forced to undergo even in wartime. Today Attlee and Co. propose to demand even greater sacrifices and greater degradation. There are no limits to what they will do in order to perpetuate capitalism in England. But to the British people the unfolding crisis is the final grim warning that under this decayed system the road is completely barred not alone to future progress but even to regaining the living standards of the past. EITHER they permit their capitalist masters and the Laborite lackeys to plunge them into the abyss, OR they must really strike out resolutely and boldly on the socialist road.

And who is paying for this? The loans and arms are being squeezed from the American workers through taxes. Isn't it the depth of treachery to American labor for its top leaders to complain about high prices, low wages and extortionate taxes while they endorse the robbery of American workers to pay for the imprisonment and murder of our brothers and sisters in Greece?

Green and Murray have committed an unpardonable crime that must receive the sternest denunciation from the American working class.

World-Wide Spy System

thousands with U.S. arms.

For the first time in American history, the U. S. government is officially establishing an international espionage system.

Quietly and behind the backs of the American people, Congress in the closing minutes of its last session slipped through a bill creating a "Central Intelligence Agency," directly under the National Security Council, to "correlate and evaluate intelligence relating to the national security."

This, in the words of the Aug. 3 N. Y. Times, would be "an effective world-wide intelligence service"-that is, a world-wide spy system.«

The nature of this system is indicated by the Times in its reference to the secret debates on the measure before closed Congressional hearings. "One of the greatest fears of the legislators was lest . . . they create an intelligence agency that could take on the guise and dominance of a Gestapo."

These political agents of U.S. imperialism had no difficulty quelling their fears. And thus, in the words of the Times, "this country has also embarked on the hidden game of international and national security."

This will be the biggest and most powerful spy system in history, backed by America's unparralleled financial and material resources. It will be a super-spy agency whose tentacles will reach everywhere on the globe. Not the least of its functions will be to penetrate revolutionary movements of the people.

What a hue and cry the Wall Street politicians, military agents and press have been making about the "red spy" menace. But Stalin must gasp in envy at the spy system U. S. imperialism is developing.

This all-pervading spy system will be under the control of the military caste, answerable to no one but themselves, working in the dark to serve any purpose they see fit. It will give the brass hats a further weapon for exercising their independent power and terrorizing the people.

The American people will never know what this sinister spy agency is doing, why it is doing it. They will have nothing to say about its activities. They will just foot the bills.

American capitalism, brazenly over-riding the traditional loathing of the American people for secret police and spy systems, has taken another big step toward perfecting its terror machine for the conquest and exploitation of the world.

Puerto-Rican Tragedy

As the post-war boom fades fast in Latin America, it cedes place to the post-World War II crisis, which already has found its profound repercussions in Puerto Rico, an outright colony of American imperialism.

In recent days, the metropolitan press has carried a number of articles commenting on the influx of Puerto Ricans to the United States,

June Exports Sag As Production Slides Down

The eyes of businessmen are now focused with anxiety on unexpected developments in foreign trade. Capitalist experts believe that the fate of their capitalist economy hinges on the continuation of the export boom. In his mid-year economic report, President Truman boasted about the unprecedented exports as one of the three main props sustaining high production levels and employment. This is correct in the sense that once the outlets for industry on the domestic market become completely clogged, the sole avenue of salvation for capitalists lies in the world market.

Up to now these foreign outlets seemed more than adequate to take up any slack at home. American export trade hit the record figure of almost a billion and a half dollars in May. Optimism ran high and there was talk both in Washington and Wall Street of stabilizing exports at an even higher annual rate of 20 billion dollars for at least the remainder of this year."

DISILLUSIONMENT AND ALARM

But June has brought with it disillusionment and even alarm. According to the figures released last week by the Census Bureau, exports dipped sharply in June, declining by 13% to a total below a billion and a quarter. The most sober among the foreign trade specialists incline to the view that this drop marks a turning point. in the export flood. The preliminary estimates for July tend to bear this out. Henceforward, in their opinion, exports will continue to recede. Some of the forecasts are rather pessimistic.

The Wall Street Journal, Aug. 1, reports that "one big bank which finances trade around the world," expects a drop of about 30% by the end of the year.

It is not expected that the Marshall Plan, by extending new billions in loans, credits and outright gifts to Europe, will materially alter this gloomy prospect. Thus, in the opinion of authoritative Wall Street Journal, "no lend-or-give plan to sustain Europe could in itself keep the export flood from receding." Here are the interesting and quite cogent reasons for this conclusion:

"Biggest exports are going to countries outside Europe. Shipments to South America and non-U.S. North America are bigger than those to all Europe combined. And although the feed-the-world side of exports gets the most publicity, manufactured goods are the real backbone of the export boom. Shipments of foodstuffs in May added up to $224 million. But non-food manufactures like textiles, machinery and electrical equipment totaled over a billion dollars.

INITIAL DECLINES REGISTERED

The prospects of Europe absorbing textiles and durable goods at the rate of a billion dollars a month obviously do not enter the minds of the most sanguine proponents of the Marshall Plan.

It is noteworthy that while booming exports have undoubtedly helped sustain industrial activity in the first half of this year, industry has nevertheless registered 🖸 its initial declines. Precisely in the period when exports were rising to record heights, total output of manufactured goods and minerals dropped from 190 in March to 183 in June, according to the Federal Reserve index.

Manufacturers' shipments in June slid off by 200 mil- ? lion dollars, while their inventories shot up by another third of a billion to a new record total of 22.7 billion dollars. This gain was accounted for entirely by the durable goods industries which are now confronted with dwindling foreign outlets.

In the meantime, the already limited foreign purchasing power has undergone still another reduction through the new general price rise that is now in progress.

These new factors aggravate the economic situation. For their tendency is to speed up the rate at which industry is declining. As both the domestic and foreign outlets prove capable of absorbing less and less, the swollen inventories of the manufacturers, which up to now have served as a major factor in sustaining production at high levels, will suddenly become transformed into the greatest single obstacle to industrial activity.

A Crime Against Labor

AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray last week committed an act of base treachery to American and world labor and shameless servility to Wall Street imperialism.

They publicly and simultaneously endorsed the infamous Truman Doctrine of U.S. imperialist intervention in other countries and support of capitalist distatorship everywhere against the workers and peasants.

Their endorsement was contained in letters of praise for Truman's selection of Clinton Golden. former CIO Steelworkers' official, as a member of the American Mission to Aid Greece. Murray claimed the purpose of this mission is to "help the Greek people help themselves."

This is a contemptible lie. The purpose of the mission, as of all other so-called "aid" to Greece, is nothing but financial and military aid to the blood-drenched Greek monarchy, restored to power by British bayonets. This capitalist-monarchist distatorship is right now conducting a war of murderous suppression against the Greek masses.

Every dollar U. S. capitalism is sending to Greece is going toward the extermination of the Greek union leaders and labor organizations. It is going to bolster a regime that is dragging tens of thousands to vile prisons and concentration and particularly to New York and its large colony, known as "Little Spain." The N. Y. Times was even impelled to write an editorial on Aug. 3, shedding crocodile tears, under the title, "The Tragedy of Puerto Rico."

Beyond the shadow of a doubt, the situation in Puerto Rico is actually tragic. But what the N. Y. Times carefully omits are the causes underlying this tragedy. It doesn't dare to tell the truth, because the truth in this case would be self-incriminating.

It is not so much the over-population of this unfortunate island, as the Times pretends, that underlies the suffering of its population, but rather the fact that under American rule, Puerto Rican economy has lost all semblance of vitality. It has been reduced in practice to a huge sugar plantation, ruthlessly exploited by American monopolists, with its population converted into slave laborers, living in unbelievable degradation and miserv.

For the Puerto Rican masses there is no prospect of any improvement at home and that is why they are leaving the island by the thousands seeking some other place where they can find subsistence. Capitalism has inscribed over Puerto Rico its sign which reads: "Leave All Hope Behind, You Who Remain Here!" And those now flee who still are able.

The tragedy of Puerto Rico reveals strikingly the hypocritical nature of America imperialism, especially its hollow boast of fighting to preserve the independence and the elementary rights of small countries. Puerto Rico is a model instance of the brutal suppression of national aspirations and national interests.

Let us recall in passing that the story of Puerto Rico also unveils the hypocrisy of the Stalinists who still paint up Roosevelt - along with his spiritual heir, Wallace-as champions of freedom and democracy.

It was precisely under the rule of Roosevelt and Wallace that the fighters for national libaration of this island were persecuted and thrown to rot in the federal prisons of the United States. Their "crime" was that they sought to liberate their country from the yoke of Wall Street.

So long as a Democrat or Republican inhabits the White House, they will remain "criminals."

000,000 jobs" and "not merely 60,000,000 summertime jobs." He observes a further phenomenon, which the Truman report failed to stress. "When employment rose in June, unemployment did too."

Here is the crux of the matter. Truman's "experts" could pad the employment figures to give a good mouthfilling and vote-catching total. But they could not altogether conceal the decisive fact - that there is steadily mounting unemployment.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Census, which issued the 60.000.000 employment figure for June, there was simultaneously unemployment of 2,555,000. This was a rise of 600.000 in one month

The most significant increase of unemployment is in manufacturing, where there were 150,000 less persons employed in May than in April, and 250,000 fewer than in March.

That this trend has continued is indicated by the report of the New York State Labor Board that factory jobs in that key state dropped another 20,000 in June. In certain industries, such as textiles, unemployment has become acute. Joseph W. Knapik, president of the CIO Dyers' Federation, recently said: "The depression in the dyeing, finishing and printing industry is not 0 around the corner — it is already here, and we can look for less than 20 per cent of our plants to work full time between now and Labor Day, with the remaining 80 per cent on a part time basis."

What is the real employment situation? Truman's figures don't tell us the truth. But it is evident that unemployment is considerably worse than the government admits. And it is further evident that the jobless trend leaves no room for any optimism.

The picture is no better among the few Negro tient to just keep on doing whatever it was that made him sick in the first place.

To prove that this is no exaggeration, we call attendion to the front page editorial, entitled "Don't Be wasn't built in a day. Of course it wasn't, but the A Sucker," in the Aug. 2 issue of the Detroit Tri- Negro people's experience with the betrayals of the bune. This editorial expresses the belief "that there is hope for the Negro citizen in America under its present parties. We believe that at no time has the future looked so bright and the picture more promising than it does at the present time." Such rosy statements need some evidence to back them up, at any rate before a Negro audience. But all the Tribune editors can offer is this:

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 3-Telephone union leaders, recently rated as conservative, today give indications of rapid advancement in their political thinking. In a strongly worded editorial of WIS-CONSIN DIVISION 23-C. W. A.

NEWS, they sound this warning: "No legislation can stop the progress of labor. The enactment of anti-strike legislation will only mean the application of new methods that will have Mr. Employer begging for a good, decent, oldfashioned strike.'

The editorial notes that "under the economic system prevailing in the United States, there has been an ever-constant conflict between two groups of people, capital and labor" and appraises the actions of both Democrats and Republicans as "attempts to outdo each other in serving the wishes of the Manufacturer's Association."

It then urges that "labor build its own political organizations free from control or association with capital."

"We await the final outcome of such a conflict," the editorial concludes, "for we know that as the struggle progresses, it will be ever clearer that if we are to enjoy the full fruits and beauties of this na tion, it will be necessary to rebuild our economic system, from one that makes fortunes for the few while leaving the many in insecurity, into an economic order in which the resources and pleasures of our nation | the new federal rent laws. will be applied for the good of the people . . . all of the people."
