NEW YORK, April 19 - Fartell Dobbs. National Chairman of the Socialist Workers Party, sent the following protest today to Alexander S. Panyushkin, Soviet Ambassador in Washington: "We are reliably informed that wo veteran German revolutionary Socialists and irreproachable antifascist fighters were seized by the secret police in the Soviet-controlled sector of Berlin and face certain death through incarceration in concentration camps inside the Soviet Union. One of these victims is Walter Haas, whom the Nazis condemned for 'high treason'; the other is Oskar Hippe, who after Hitler's downfall served as member of the Berlin council of the reconstituted trade union movement. We vigorously protest this unwarranted persecution of labor and socialist militants, previously hounded and tortured by Nazi hangmen, and demand their immediate release by the Soviet authorities."

May Day Appeal of the SWP To the Workers of America

PRICE: FIVE CENTS

On this May Day of 1950, the Socialist Workers Party addresses the American workers in the tradition and spirit of those labor heroes and martyrs of 1886 who led the first May Day struggle. We summon the hosts of American labor, the Negro people, the poor farmers to raise aloft the banner of UNITY AND SOLIDARITY against capitalism, its exploitation, unemployment, race oppression, witch-hunts and war.

Never have the working people stood so in need of class unity and solidarity. Since May Day a year ago, new events testify that capitalism offers no future but growing mass misery and an end n a mass grave.

Over the people of the whole earth, America's rulers hold the threat of that supreme expression of capitalist frightfulness - the new H-Bomb that can disintegrate millions in a flash and wipe out civilization itself in another war.

Here in America, millions are once more jobless, while the nonopolies reap record profits and the capitalist government piles up mountainous debts to build its military machine. The promises of the "Fair Deal" and "Welfare State" are ground to dust under the War Deal. Truman does not fight for Taft-Hartley repeal, but uses this strikebreaking club against the miners and other workers. His congressional colleagues cynically scuttle civil rights legislation, including FEPC, and other social legislation. The Bill of Rights is torn up by "loyalty" purges, political persecutions and raging witch-hunts.

U. S. Workers Are Ready to Fight

The advance of reaction is not due to any lack of fighting will n the American workers. Since May Day 1949, they have again riven heartening demonstrations of their fighting capacities. The coal miners fought for nine long months to win a magnificent victory against the combined might of the coal companies and the Truman government. The steel workers struck for long weeks to force penion concessions from the steel monopolies. The Chrysler workers have battled nearly three months against one of America's richest corporations.

The working masses lack not the will to fight, but the leadership and program to weld them into a class force so solidly united in militant action that nothing could stand in their way. They are shackled with a union leadership that openly espouses capitalism, subordinates labor's interests to a political alliance with the corrupt Democratic Party and Truman, and takes its cues from the State Department.

The American workers have it in their power to end unemployment, witch-hunts and imperialist war. The key not only to their own salvation, but to the emancipation of all mankind is class unity and political struggle against capitalist rule at home and class solidarity with the workers of Europe and the colonial peoples fighting for socialism and independence abroad. That same American ruling class which seeks to beat down labor here is trying to prop up the old rotten capitalist regimes in Western Europe, arming them against working class uprisings and colonial revolts, and lining up human cannon fodder for a "holy war against communism." But the irrepressible spirit of revolt flames in the working classes and colonial peoples everywhere. In China, Indo-China, Indonesia, massive blows have been dealt the imperialists. The British workers have prevented restoration of the Tory government, the Belgium workers have held back the return of King Leopold with mighty strikes, the French and Italian workers fiercely resist the assaults on their living standards and rights. The Yugoslav people maintain their heroic struggle for independence from both Stalinism and imperialism, striving to continue and complete a socialist revolution.

The Hand of International Solidarity

We must hold out the hand of class brotherhood and solidarity to the workers of Europe resisting U. S.-supported police regimes, decadent monarchs and dictators. We must demand a halt to the occupation of Germany and Japan. We must call for an end to American financing and arming of governments that oppress and starve the masses.

To the Yugoslavs, who are giving new revolutionary hope to the masses of Western Europe and revealing the massive cracks in Stalin's totalitarian machine, we must give all possible support. They are demonstrating that not the imperialist cold war and H-Bomb, but the revolutionary anti-capitalist struggle of the workers and peasants is the answer to counter-revolutionary Stalinism.

International solidarity against imperialism and Stalinism is but the complement of unity at home in labor's defense. The powerful sentiment for united labor struggle has already impelled the labor bureaucrats to initiate unity moves. But they want a brand of unity that would consolidate the top bureaucracies, put a tighter lid on militant action, and tie labor more closely to the capitalist government and its imperialist program.

We of the Socialist Workers Party urge the rank and file of organized labor to forge a different kind of unity — a unity to give battle to the monopolists and their political agents. That is the unity the workers want and which only the democratic decision of the

"Plundering the natural wealth of the backward countries and deliberately restraining their independent industrial development, the monopolistic magnates and their governments simultaneously grant financial, political and military support to the most reactionary, parasitic, semi-feudal groups of native exploiters. Artificially preserved agrarian barbarism is today the most sinister plague of contemporary world economy. The fight of the colonial peoples for their liberation, passing over the intervening stages, transforms itself of necessity into a fight against imperialism, and thus aligns with the struggle of the proletariat in the mother countries Colonial uprisings and wars in their turn rock the foundations of the capitalist world more than ever and render the miracle of its regeneration less than ever possible." - Leon Trotsky, Marxism in the United States, 1939

The Baltic "Incident"

The disappearance of an American naval plane over the Baltic Sea has given the war-mongers and militarists the kind of "incident" they are looking for to keep the "cold war" steamed up.

This particular "incident" is of the type that is made-to-order for war incitation. The war spirit is not easily aroused over what happens to a butcher like Chiang Kai-shek in China or the trial of a reactionary Cardinal in Hungary. Public sentiment is more apt to be moved by headlines about American boys who are reported missing or dead "presumably" as the result of an "unprovoked attack" upon an "unarmed" American plane which "went off its course" while on a "routine" flight near Russian territory.

Nobody, of course, has any proof about what actually happened. All we know is that coincident with the reported disappearance of a naval plane, the Kremlin announced that a U.S. military plane had flown over Latvia, part of the USSR, had allegedly fired on Soviet planes and been fired upon in turn and had escaped over the Baltic Sea.

Whatever happened, the American press let out an ominous drum-roll about an "unprovoked attack" on an "unarmed" American plane in violation of all "codes of international decency and international law." The U. S. State Department loudly denied the Kremlin's allegations, hurled counter-charges and demanded an "apology" and "indemnification." The Senate, echoing with sabre-rattling speeches, demonstratively voted decorations to the lost fliers.

All this propaganda serves to cover up the decisive question: What was a U.S. military plane — whether armed or unarmed — doing thousands of miles from this country in the region of the Baltic Sea?

We remember what an uproar was created here last year by the "Russian sub" scare, when some merchant ship captain claimed he saw a "schnorkle" 500 miles off the coast of California at two o'clock in the morning and another was reported "sighted" in the Behring Straits off Alaska. Scores of naval vessels, fleets of planes were sent out to search for these "invaders" of "our Pacific Ocean."

Imagine what would happen if a Soviet plane, or even one remotely resembling such, should appear over the Great Lakes or down in the Gulf of Mexico. Does anyone think that plane would ever get back to its own base? Does anyone think that inquiries would be made first about whether it was armed or unarmed or accidentally off its course? Imagine the howl the papers and Washington officials would raise about "enemy planes spying" on this country.

At the moment, it does not appear that the American imperialists will use this Baltic "incident" as an immediate pretext for war. They are using it mainly to aggravate antagonisms and keep the "cold war" boiling. After all, they can always provoke or manufacture another suitable "incident" whenever they decide to drop their H-Bombs and A-Bombs.

But the Baltic "incident" is still most conveniently timed for the war-makers. As a result of it, reports the United Press from Washington on April 19, "Congressional air power advocates said that extra money to buy more war planes is as good as in the bag...'

[The following extract is from the courtroom speech delivered y Albert R. Parsons before he received the death sentence in the Haymarket frame-up trial of 1886.]

I am a Socialist. I am one of those, although myself a wage slave, who holds that it is wrong - wrong to myself, wrong to my neighbor, and unjust to my fellowmen - for me to undertake to make my escape from wage slavery by becoming a master and an owner of others' labor. I refuse to do it. Had I chosen another path in life, I might be living upon an avenue of the city of Chicago today, surrounded in my beautiful home with luxury and ease, and servants to do my bidding.

But I chose the other road, and instead I stand here today upon the scaffold, as it were. This is my crime. Before high heaven this and this alone is my crime. I have been false, I have been untrue, and I am a traitor to the infamies that exist today in capitalistic society. If this is a crime in your opinion I plead guilty to it.

Now, be patient with me; I have been with you - or, rather, have been patient with this trial. Follow me, if you please, and ook at the oppressions of this capitalistic system of industry. As was depicted by my comrade Fielden this morning, every new machine that comes into existence comes there as a competitor with he man of labor. Every machine under the capitalistic system that is introduced into industrial affairs comes as a competitor, as a drag and menace and a prey to the very existence of those who have to sell their labor in order to earn their bread. The man is turned out to starve and whole occupations and pursuits are revoluionized and completely destroyed by the introduction of machinery in a day, in an hour, as it were. I have known it to be the case in the history of my own life — and I am yet a young man — that whole pursuits and occupations have been wiped out by the invention of machinery.

What becomes of these people? Where are they? They become In short, labor's strength, both so to speak, "nationalized" the competitors of other laborers, and are made to reduce wages and paid out of erect more scattolds, for these men are upon the highway of crime

A farmer had gathered his herd of sheep into a pen preparatory to shearing them of their wool. Finally, one sheep, becoming more bold than his timid comrades, seeing the farmer standing at the gate with his long shears in his hand, addressed him thus:

"Pray, sir, why do you huddle us together in this style? Will you not let us out to play and gambol on the hillside? It is hot, dusty, and dry, and very uncomfortable to be cooped up in this pen."

Farmer: "Certainly, certainly. But before I turn you out I must shear you of your wool.'

Sheep: "Pray, sir, what harm have we ever done you that you should now take the covering from our backs, and leave us unprotected to the storms of winter. and the heats of summer?"

Farmer: "You ungrateful wretches. Have you no sense of gratitude for the many favors I have always shown you? If it were not for me how could you exist at all? Don't I furnish you the green pasture upon which you browse and play? Besides that, when I shear off your present coating of wool are you not permitted by my generosity to graze upon my fields and soon supply yourselves with another coating?'

The rest of the timid and thoughtless herd overhearing the conversation immediately set up a great "hurrah" for their supposed benefactor, and one and all calmly and patiently and with apparent satisfaction submitted themselves to the process of being "fleeced of their wool."

Moral: When capitalists and their lying preachers, teachers, and politicians set themselves up as the benefactors of their wage-slaves, and begin their longwinded discourses upon the "harmony" of capital and labor, you may be sure that they are merely preparing their wage-slaves for a quiet submission while they "fleece" them of their labor product.

Socialists and the Capitalist System

Your honor, there never was an effect without a cause. The tree is known by its fruit. Socialists are not those who blindly close their eyes and refuse to look, and who refuse to hear, but having eyes to see, they see, and having ears to hear, they hear. Look at this capitalistic system; look at its operation upon the small business men, the small dealers, the middle class. Bradstreet's tells us in last year's report that there were 11,000 small business men financially destroyed in the past twelve months.

What became of those people? Where are they, and why have they been wiped out? Has there been any less wealth? No; that which they possessed has simply transferred itself into the hands of some other person. Who is that other? It is he who has greater capitalistic facilities. It is the monopolist, the man who can run corners, who can create rings and squeeze these men to death and Today, as in the past, the capi- based on big promises and small wipe them out like dead flies from the table into his monopolistic

> The middle classes destroyed in this manner join the ranks of the proletariat. They become what? They seek out the factory gate. they seek in the various occupations of wage labor for employment. What is the result? Then there are more men upon the market. This increases the number of those who are applying for employment. What then? This intensifies the competition, which in turn creates greater monopolists, and with it wages go down until the starvation point is reached, and then what?

What We Seek to Accomplish

Your honor. Socialism comes to the people and asks them to ook into this thing, to discuss it, to reason, to examine it, to investigate it, to know the facts, because it is by this, and this alone, that violence will be prevented and bloodshed will be avoided, because, as my friend here has said, men in their blind rage, in their It will not avail them because ignorance, not knowing what ails them, knowing they are hungry, there is one thing they have not that they are miserable, and destitute, strike blindly, and do as they did with Maxwell in this city, and fight the labor-saving machinery. Imagine such an absurd thing, and yet the capitalistic press has taken great pains to say the Socialists do these things; that we fight machinery; that we fight property.

Why, sir, it is an absurdity; if is ridiculous; it is preposterous. No man ever heard an utterance from the mouth of a Socialist to fight machinery; we don't oppose these things. It is only the manner and methods of employing it that we object to. That is all. It is the manipulation of these things in the interests of a few; it is the will never learn how to overcome monopolization of them that we object to. Welfare State and Negroes

By Albert Parker

Most of the labor, Negro and liberal leaders will be going around the country between now and Election Day telling the people that they should again vote for Truman's Welfare State because that is the only way of getting civil rights bills passed.

Meanwhile, the Southern Democrat politicians will also be going around campaigning for Truman's Welfare State candidates. The difference is that they will be arguing that a Democratic victory is the only way to prevent the passage of the civil rights bills.

Making a bid for renomination, Democratic Senator Lister Hill of Alabama delivered a radio speech on April 12, urging the Dixiecrats in that state to return to the Democratic Party. Describing how he and other Southern Democrats had used their positions on Senate committees to block action on civil rights legislation, he said: "I tell you it is the power and influence of your Senators and Congressmen that has made possible defeat of FEPC and other so-called civil rights bills. They hold this power and influence as members of the Democratic Party."

Who is right - the Negro and labor leaders or Senator Hill? The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the record gives the answer. So far as civil rights legislation is concerned, the Republican-controlled 80th Congress and the Democratic-controlled 81st Congress produced exactly the same result - nothing but a lot of hot

How many Negroes can honestly say to themselves that they have benefited from the Welfare State? Oh, there may be a few hundred or a few thousand who can - middle class people who were flattered to get invitations to the presidential inauguration ball, political ward-heelers whose services in soliciting votes for the Democrats are better paid than in the past, individuals who were given minor government jobs as window-dressing. But not many rank and file Negroes can show any significant improvement in their conditions as a result of the Welfare State.

The reason is that there haven't been any improvements worth talking about. More talk -yes. More promises - yes. More gestures -

They will even say that it is the fault Labor Prospects of the workers and Negroes for not giving Truof the workers and Negroes for not giving Tru-man a bigger majority in Congress. But what difference will a bigger majority make when Truman himself has publicly stated that no matter what kind of FEPC bill is passed in Congress, he will not administer it in such a way as to interfere with the "rights" of employers to run their business as they see fit?

Sweep aside the alibis, and then you can find the reality. The roots of Jim Crow are in the social system of the South and you cannot wipe this evil out of the national life without under- trade union committee of the Sotaking to shake up and overturn the Southern cialist Workers Party, who is now system through a mass upheaval. The capitalist on a national tour, when he spoke class and its politicians cannot and will not tackle this task because they have heavy economic and political stakes in maintaining the Southern social status quo. The Welfare State's honeyed words and conciliatory gestures are no substitute for a revolutionary policy.

Any party can put civil rights planks in its platform, and most of them do. But no party can deliver on these promises unless it wages merciless warfare against the capitalist system whose plans of the Wall Street plutodomination is incompatible with Negro equality. New Deal, Fair Deal, Welfare State - no matter what you call it, it's still capitalism and therefore still the main prop of the Southern Jim Crow system. Now that the 1950 election campaign is getting answers to these questions before deciding how they will act in the political field: Isn't it true that Senator Hill and the Negro masses have nothing in common - that he wants to keep things the way they are while they yearn for a deep-going change? Why then should they support the same party? And how is the Welfare State, which obviously benefits him, going to do them any good?

capitalism has arisen. Despite some advances in industrial production, ordinarily achieved with the utilization of the same number or fewer workers, a sharp increase in unemployment has become a universal fact. Population (the labor force) and productivity keep expanding while the markets for the products of the industrial giants and pygmies alike remain stagnant or declining.

The official statistics of the various capitalist governments (in most cases, unreliable underestimated indicators) show almost universal increases in unemployment in 1949 and early in 1950 as compared with 1948. That the occupied nations, Austria, Germany and Japan, have more unemployed today than before the war can be partly explained by the restrictive economic measures imposed by the occupying powers. But when a "more prosperous" bourgeois country, like Belgium, has an unemployed army of more than 250,000 (about 12% of the total labor force) today as compared with 200,000 in 1939, then the jobless problem assumes a greater degree of urgency. And this increase in unemployment in Belgium has occurred against a background of unemployment. Thus, the number of unemploying after negotiations with the ed, which in 1949 was more than double the 1948 company failed to bring an agreemonthly average, is climbing monthly in 1950 ment. Another 500 workers have over the number in the same month of 1949.

The revolutionary which in the U.S., as in Europe, has been growing; its annual growth here being at the rate of one million new workers. The limited character of the world markets will presently force recessions from these output highs and, therefore, a sharp increase in unemployment.

The insoluble contradictions of capitalism are expressed in this vicious circle. The result -increased misery for the millions whose labor power will become more and more unwanted as the unavoidable crisis unfolds - is sure to have explosive effects on the political development of capitalism all over the world.

Truman's Friends

By Ruth Johnson

There's one thing you've got to say for Harry Truman. He's a man who helps his friends, especially the good pals that get caught in the wrong.

Take the case of former mayor James M. Curley of Boston, who cheated some clients out of $60,000 by promising them government contracts and failing to deliver. Curley and his partner, a former National Labor Relations Board member named Donald Wakefield Smith, were found guilty and sentenced to six to eighteen months in prison for using the mails to defraud.

The newspapers made the case too hot to handle when Curley went to jail, but his friend Truman didn't forget. Five months after the doors clanged behind the Boston boss of the Democratic Party and the NLRB man. Truman commuted their sentences. He wanted them to enjoy Thanksgiving dinner at their homes, instead of eating with a lot of non-Democratic criminals.

Last week Truman announced "full and unconditional pardon" for these crooks, restoring their civil rights so they can take back their rightful places in the political machine. Smith is small potatoes, but Curley is the Tom Pendergast of Massachusetts. A man like that can do things.

If it weren't for Pendergast, Truman might never have graduated from Kansas City. It was Pendergast who picked Truman as Democratic nominee for Senator, and saw to it that he won the primary by a thumping majority of 136.000 votes, reportedly receiving more votes in Kansas City than were actually there.

Tom Pendergast saw Truman put into the White House, but Truman, alas, saw Pendergast but into the "big house." He stuffed one ballot box too many. Truman valiantly defended his pal, in vain. When Tom Pendergast died, Truman showed his loyalty by transferring his favors to Jim Pendergast, nephew and heir of the Kansas City graft king.

Jim Pendergast, who now looks like the man most likely to profit by the Kansas City murder of gangsters Binaggio and Gargotta, may need a good friend. The Kansas City Star said the slayings "could well result in a get-together of opposing factions as represented by the Pendergast organization and the North Side group, of which Binaggio was the head.'

Binaggio, according to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, "was the most powerful figure in Democratic politics in Kansas City," and "second only to Gov. Forrest Smith in Democratic circles in the state." His bodyguard, Gargotta, "was a 'big wheel' among Kansas City gangsters" in the old Tom Pendergast days. But they became bigger than Pendergast's nephew; they ran the First District Democratic Club on Truman Road, controlled the Police Board, appointed Board of Election Commissioners, got "jobs and other favors from the governor," and raked in the proceeds of the local Capone syndicate. It apparently was dangerous to get above a Pendergast. They died.

What with swindlers, ballot-box stuffers, gangsters, and the whole array of Wall Street tycoons besides, a president has an awful lot of influential people to worry about. I ask you, is it reasonable to expect him to be a friend of the workers, the Negroes, or any other ordinary citizen? Isn't it enough that Truman takes care of his own?
