This bill would legalize the "loyalty" purge which Truman has been carrying out for the past three years.

While these measures passed the Senate, other bills were shoved into the hopper as Democrats and Republicans vied with each other in trying to put over 'security" measures bearing their own party labels. The favorite method of Stalinism is to falsely attribute its own crimes to its opponents. Backed by a powerful state with a totalitarian propaganda machine at its damental conception of scientific disposal, this frame-up system has often seemed mightier than the truth. In this way Stalin eliminated all the leaders of the great October Revolution, all of Lenin's friends and co-workers, first destroying them politically by slander, then liquidating them physically by execution or assassination. Eventually, however, the logic of events and of the class struggle will prove stronger than the totalitarian lie and will dethrone its perpetrators.

Today, ten years after one of Stalin's hirelings drove a pickaxe into Trotsky's brain, we are provided with an excellent illustration of this process. During the 17 years of his monumental struggle against Stalinism, Trotsky repeatedly insisted that progress toof degeneration, of a retrogression toward capitalism, far removed from socialism and a classless society.

STALIN'S ADMISSION Stalin denounced as "exegetes and Talmudists" (religious doc trinaires) those elements "in our party and in our country" who basing themselves on Marx, Engels and Lenin, "have begun to demand that the party take measures for the speedy withering away of our state, that organs

The Choice Before Mankind

Leon Trotsky had no confidence whatever in the future of capitalism which has nothing to offer mankind but an endless series of economic, political and military calamities. As for Stalinism, Trotsky denied that it had any future at all and predicted the downfall of this usurping bureaucracy which stops at nothing to defend its own interests, power and privileges. Trotsky placed all his confidence in the socialist future of mankind and in the power and ability of the world workers and the oppressed masses to realize socialism in life.

Ten years have elapsed since Trotsky's murder at the hands of Stalin's hired killer. In the course of these ten years there has been no lack of those who predicted a glorious future for capitalism. above all American capitalism; there were just as many who were awestruck by Stalinism and its "successes." The only "realistic" choice appeared to be the "American Century" or Kremlin domination.

What price the "American Century" today? Capitalist Europe remains an insolvent debtor despite the billions of U. S. loans, grants and ECA funds. The recent eruption of the Belgian masses over the return of the fascist King Leopold shows how strong the fires of revolution still burn in Europe.

The whole of Asia is literally up in arms resolved to end forever colonialism, both the rule of Western European capitalists as well as the pretensions of their would-be successors from Wall Street. Africa is a huge tinder box that may flare up any time. The rest of the colonial and semi-colonial world is ready to follow the Asian example. And amid this upsurge of the bulk of mankind, the American imperialists have nothing to offer except support of capitalism and colonialism and of the most reactionary and corrupt regimes plus a program of "guns not butter" at home and for all its allies abroad.

What price today the dizzy successes of the Kremlin?

These very successes have plunged Stalinism into a fearsome internal crisis, of which Yugoslavia is simply the sharpest expression to date. The interminable purges and "treason" trials among the East European satellites and the dissidence in every Stalinist party throughout the world testify to how deep-rooted and incurable this internal crisis is.

Hundreds of millions all over the globe, especially the peoples of teeming Asia are neither opposed to nor afraid of the most radical solutions: On the contrary they gravitate toward them as the only way out of their misery and degradation. They abominate imperialism. Stalinism has no program to win them, either. They will resist the Kremlin's perfidy, dictation and arbitrary rule just as resolutely as have the Yugoslavs. Their future, toward which they are now marching, lies, as Trotsky said, with Socialism.

In 1914 Woodrow Wilson sent troops into Mexico ostensibly to avenge an "insult" to the flag and to pursue "bandits." Real reason was to back the American oil companies in their imperialistic grab of Mexico's oil resources.

ANTI-WAR STRUGGLE AND YUGOSLAVIA

By George Clarke

The main axis — and the main fallacy — of the Program for acutely on Aug. 13: "Since no Peace adopted on July 17 by the Yugoslav National Committee for strong land force can be expected the Defense of Peace is a policy based on the United Nations and from Great Britain, the French on its reform.

The program calls for the settlement of "all outstanding quesappeal for a sufficient number of divisions is obviously addressed tions in accordance with the spirit of the United Nations Charter. to Washington. . . On the basis with the participation of all the countries concerned, and under no of the French demands and the circumstances through deals of the great powers at the expense of overall global commitments, 50 small countries, such as the division of the world into spheres of divisions for the U.S. peacetime nterest." The Program opposes the transformation of the "United Army and 200 divisions for the Nations into an instrument to further the policy of either of the U. S. war strength would be a great powers, favoring a consistent acceptance of the principles of the UN Charter."

It is quite understandable that the Yugoslav government caught in a pincers between the Kremlin and American imperialism - should attempt to maneuver between the two great powers, utilizing the diplomatic arena of the UN for this purpose. The Bolshevik government under Lenin and Trotsky many times employed similar expedients, although they rarely missed the opportunity of using such world conferences as a sounding board to address the masses of other countries - a tactic not yet followed by the Yugoslavs in the UN.

In other words, a standing army The UN Cannot Be Reformed

But the attempt to convert such diplomatic' expedients into a program for mobilizing a world anti-war movement is hardly worthy of the leaders of a workers' revolution. The United Nations the Program describes never existed and never will, at least as long as capitalism remains a power in the world. Founded in 1945, the UN corresponded to the balance of power at the end of the war between the Soviet bureaucracy and western imperialism, and not at all to any dream of peace or ideal of world government. It was that UN which sanctioned the division of the world into spheres of influence, the partition of Germany and Korea and the crucifixion of the Greek people.

In brief, the UN was the site of an unstable truce, destined to change as soon as the relationship of forces on which that truce was based ceased to exist. With the Marshall Plan, the Atlantic Pact and US intervention in Korea, the UN has more and more openly become the tool of American imperialism. Whatever changes the UN may undergo in the future, one thing is certain: Small nations, colonial peoples or revolutionary workers and peasants can never expect any justice from it. The Kremlin may exploit the cause of the Korean people against the opposition of the Anglo-American mperialist bloc. Or Washington may toy with the defense of Yugoslavia against Stalinist invasion. Or they might combine to settle their differences at the expense of Korea, Yugoslavia or both.

fully mobilize or strain its own Only Effective Anti-War Struggle

But to think that the UN can change its character without a fundamental change in the character of the governments which compose it is sheer utopianism. Worse yet, to organize a movement for this purpose is to mislead thousands of workers into a futile, quixotic venture. The foreign policy of states is the continuation of domestic policy by other means and can only be seriously and perdiers in every nook and cranny of manently altered by a change in class rule in those states. Thus the overthrow of the Czar and the feudal-capitalist regime reversed the foreign policy of Russia; the overthrow of King Peter and his of living standards at home. All reactionary gang of parasites did the same for Yugoslavia.

The Yugoslavs can comb through the long and fatal history of class collaborationist "peace" movements - including the tragic And all this in order to defend cases of Ethiopia and Spain - but they will not find a single the capitalists of France, Italy instance of a vital change effected in the foreign policy of any and other countries, in order to government. On the contrary, such "peace" movements have sucmaintain corrupt and unpopular ceeded only in diverting the masses from the real struggle, deluding regimes against the will of the them with false hopes and then betraying them at the outbreak of war.

It may be that the Yugoslavs understand this with regard to imperialism but delude themselves into thinking that the Kremlin will be more susceptible to the pressure of a middle class "peace movement." Fatal illusion: first because the masses will follow the biggest and strongest force when it comes to "easy," opportunist Only by consistently opposing schemes. Second: because the workers in Western Europe at least are more concerned over the threat of war from their own and U.S. government in Washington can imperialism than they are from the Kremlin. Third: because the foreign policy of the Soviet bureaucracy is based on the protection, not hammer home these precedents. Instead they insist that American troops are in Korea as part of an unprecedented action undertaken by the United Nations.

The effort of Lucas to justify Truman's intervention in Korea on the ground of precedent thus serves to expose the role of the United Nations as a convenient cover for American imperialism.

There is good reason why the warmongers do not care to dwell much on previous cases where Presidents have initiated undeclared war. The record would reveal too clearly the real character of Wall Street's aims in Korea. Three cases will serve to show this.

In 1906 Theodore Roosevelt sent American troops into Cuba. The reasons? To

Marxian Socialism -- Next Target

"Marxian Socialism along with Communism and Fascism are ideologies to be fought and condemned by all honest American trade unionists. Each of these so-called forms of government holds man to be a slave of the state. Each looks upon religion as an opiate of the people. Each makes a mockery of our Constitution. . . The American trade unionist has not yet come to recognize or understand the presence and threats of Marxian Socialism. That the threat is present is becoming more obvious."

The above lines are excerpted from an editorial in The Wage Earner, a paper published by the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists. They are written in com. mendation of a resolution adopted by the Detroit Newspaper Guild condemning "Communism, Fascism and Marxian Socialism." The paper also points out that the reference to "Marxian Socialism" was deleted in the Daily Worker account of the meeting and replaced by the words "and other un-American groups" in the report published in the Michigan CIO News.

It is quite understandable that the Daily Worker should have omitted the reference. They have consistently attempted to suppress the fact of the existence of a Marxist movement as separate and distinct from Stalinism. In this case, as in so many others, their silence represents a refusal to defend their revolutionary opponents from the attacks of reaction.

In 1926 Calvin Coolidge sent troops into Nicaragua. The aim was to enforce collection of debts owed Wall Street financial interests.

These brazen imperialist thrusts into Latin America aroused the bitterest indignation and hostility throughout the lands south of the Rio Grande. And at home too the undeclared wars aroused hot protest.

Senator Lucas is guite right when he says that the undeclared war in Korea has its precedents. But the precedents speak against him and his crude attempt to justify this latest effort of American imperialism to extend its sphere of influence by armed intervention in a foreign land.

The omission in the Michigan CIO News is far more serious - and alarming. It is a cowardly cringing by the Reutherites before a totalitarian attack inspired by the Vatican in Rome. It was obvious from the start that the purge of Stalinists was only the beginning of a general drive against all radical and dissident opinion in the unions. But the Reutherites assured all and sundry that there would be freedom for everybody but the Stalinists.

Reuther's allies, however, had no such reservations and today they are pressing the offensive to the next stage. For the ACTU, the designation "Marxian Socialists" is even more sweeping than the words indicate. To them, it means at a minimum, all opponents of the nest of reaction in Rome, To the Vatican, it means all opponents of Franco. To Franco, all militant trade unionists. To the corporations, it is an acceptable designation to cover all militant and radical workers.

Beware! This was the way the Swastica triumphed over Germany. "Marxian Socialism" was Hitler's main target and it included even the Reuthers.

Above all, the "Program for Peace," repeated not merely on diplomatic levels but in all Yugoslav circles and publications, reveals that the leaders of the Communist Party of Yugoslavia lack a revolutionary world strategy. In this they are far from the audacity of Lenin whose strategy to overcome the backwardness of the Soviet Republic and its capitalist encirclement was directed toward the reation of a Socialist Europe and first of all of a workers' state in industrially advanced Germany. For this purpose, he created the Third International, the antithesis of the capitalist international, the league of Nations.

A Strategic Policy for Yugoslav Communists

Yugoslavia cannot stand alone indefinitely without degenerating, or more likely being crushed. The strategy of the Yugoslav Communists must be based on breaking out of this isolation by reviving the revolutionary labor movement in Western and in Eastern Europe directed both against capitalism and Stalinism. That alone can stop Stalin - indeed it would spell his finish. Despite the apparent strength of Stalinism, the forces for such a strategy are present by the millions in Europe among the workers who hate capitalism and distrust the treachery, the parasitism and brutality of the Kremlin regime.

Not maneuvers - but confidence in the masses and in their independent strength is the prerequisite of such a program. The Yugoslavs will not find the road to peace through the UN - the international of counter-revolution and war - but through unification with the revolutionary workers of Europe and the colonial masses. Any other road, despite its temporary allure, will lead to defeat and disaster.

In his speech to the Yugoslav National Assembly submitting the law on workers control of the factories Tito explained the delay in taking this measure as follows:

... up to the publication of the famous Cominform resolution (in 1948), our party harbored too many illusions due to its accepting with very slight criticism and transplanting to our soil everything that came from the Soviet Union, even when these carry overs Soviet Union, more than three did not correspond to our special conditions or were out of accord with the Marxist-Leninist science. # Class Terror in Bolivia

By J. Gomez

Additional information has arrived in this country concerning the general strike which took place in Bolivia during the month of May and which was so ruthlessly and bloodily crushed.

As we reported in the June 19 issue of The Militant, the strike struggles arose as strictly defensive economic measures because the native capitalist rulers, without any regard for the minimum human needs of the working people, sought to unload upon them all the burdens and difficulties of the Bolivian economy. The already semi-starved and desperate masses resisted.

When the government turned a deaf ear to all the pleas to remedy their cruel plight, this mass resistance first took the form of partial strikes which were later extended into a general strike which was ruthlessly crushed by the police and military forces. The government issued a decree outlawing the strike and then ordered the immediate arrest of the leaders of the Coordinating Committee.

This committee which led the strike was organized by all the unions of the country, among them the Miners Federation, Railway Workers Federation, Factory Workers Federation, Union of Industrial and Commerce Workers, Federation of Bank Employees, Teachers Federation, Chauffeurs Union. Representives of college students, artisan groups and womens' organizations likewise participated — and were also arrested.

The workers and popular masses spontaneously organized a huge mass demonstration in protest against the arrest of their leaders (which occurred on May 18). The government broke this up by firing upon the demonstrators, killing many workers.

To defend themselves against the naked terror of the army and the police, the workers erected barricades in their neighborhoods.

o'On May 19 the police and seven army regiments encircled the factory district of Villa Victoria. Machine guns, artillery and planes were used to destroy the inhabitants and their homes. The exact number of workers killed in this savage class massacre still remains unknown, but it is certain that a great many died. Victor Paz Estensoro, leader of the National Revolutionary Movement, estimated that more than a thousand were killed.

In addition more than a thousand men and women were arrested. They are being tortured to death in the jails. Incarcerated in the concentration camp on the island of Coati (Lago Titicaca) are 104 victims, most of them the leaders of the various organizations participating in the strike. These prisoners declared a hunger strike which lasted for seven days, from May 17 to May 25. As a result of this hunger strike, 34 of them had to be transferred to clinics. Among the patients is the courageous and militant working Petition Drive class fighter, Villegas, a leader of the Bank Employees Union. Brutal beating by the police and the subsequent 7-day hunger strike left Villegas at death's door.

Of the remaining strike leaders, 16 have been exiled.

But there is a sequel to the crushing of the strike and the massacre. It has not brought to the end the persecution and terror unleashed by the feudal-capitalist oligarchy against all workers and popular mass organizations.

Within less than a week two new "plots" have been "uncovered." On July 6, the government announced the arrest of five leaders of the POR (the Bolivian Trotskyists) and the MNR (National Revolutionary Movement). Among the arrested is Guillermo Lora, leading Trotskyist. On July 12 still another "plot" to overthrow the government was proclaimed, leading to the arrest of 42 more leaders of POR, MNR and PIR (Party of the Revolutionary Left).

There is only one explanation for the bestial repressions and terror of the government and its incessant discoveries of "plots." The social unrest in the country is so widespread and deep-rooted, the conditions and moods of the masses are so desperate that the ruling class can find no other "solution" except to suppress in blood every attempt of the popular masses to improve their lot, and to brand as a "plot" every aspiration for by the upstate crews by sponsora more decent existence.

On the basis of the former prices, conservative capitalist economists have estimated that a shift to full-scale war production, entailing a military budget of $50 billion annually, would mean a 20% reduction in living standards. At peak war production, or with military budgets of $100 billion and more, the living standards, they calculate, would fall to the levels of 1931-32, that is, the bottom of the last depression.
