Returns from the branches are picking up, but still too slowly. In the remaining four weeks, the barometer must take bigger and faster leaps if we are to realize the slogan of The Twice-a-week Appeal on the Road to a Daily. Let us prove in action the superiority of our ideas.

PRIZES In addition to the three banners for the branches making the best showing in the campaign, considering size and ability of membership, we have three autographed copies of C. L. R. LaGuardia Mobilizes Full Police Force as Reply to Union Demands for Decent Conditions

NEW YORK CITY.—A battle between 11,000 taxi-drivers and the big fleet companies began this week when the C.I.O. Transport Workers Union called a strike Tuesday afternoon.

Within two hours, 8,500 drivers and 1,000 maintenance men recabs idle in the garages. The addition of the night men will bring the total of cabs laid up to 8,500. Over 5,000 owner-driver cabs classed as independents are not affected by the strike call.

Nearly 100 full time and volunteer organizers carried the strike message to the drivers at shift-

La Guardia's 19,000 cops were fully mobilized in a show of strength to curb the militancy of the strikers. It was under Mayor LaGuardia in 1934 that police broke a big cab strike.

Weeks of stalling and months of chiseling by the big companies culminated when the contracts expired on December 31.

Demands contained in the contract proposals include: the closed shop, job security, hiring through union halls on a rotation basis, elimina- ous importance, the trial was retion of the "shape-up" system under which drivers are picked each day by the shop foremen; an end trial appearing in the Moscow to racial discrimination; nine press, according to Harold Denny, hours daily for day men; ten New York Times correspondent, hours work for night men, with who underlines the significance of holidays the day men be allowed the trial been published in the an extra working hour, and night Daily Worker here during the men two extra hours; seniority course of the trial nor prior to rights providing for selection of days off and vacation periods; drivers with one to five years ser- dispatches by Denny, January 2 vice, one week's vacation with $25 and 3 in the New York Times. pay, and drivers with five or more

President Roosevelt is asking for a gigantic war budget, for battleships, for thousands of new warplanes.

The unemployed are asking for food, for homes, for jobs. To finance the arms program he needs to fulfill the war plans of Yankee imperialism, Roosevelt is prepared to slash away at the meager funds now allowed for the jobless and the 3,000,000 workers on W.P.A.

Homes or battleships, jobs or war-that is the reality behind the fanfare in Washington.

Unquestionably with Roosevelt's tacit okay, the other Democratic big-wigs, led by Vice-President Garner, are launching a

Union-Busting Drive Resumed Full Blast

NEWARK, N. J.—The failure of the C.I.O. to lift the fight against Hagueism, for civil liberties and workers' rights, out of the dragging grip of the courts and onto emboldened New Jersey reaction. Two recent opinions expressed by Vice Chancellor Berry are a challenge to existing unions in this

The deportation and egging of Norman Thomas aroused public sentiment against the abrogation of guaranteed liberties. It focussed national attention on Jersey City. But at best, it was only a sample of reaction's concealed weapons. Union organization was brevented in Jersey City, but elsewhere, unions remained immediately unharmed. Now reaction has drawn a dagger that is aimed at the heart of every union.

Injunctions "Dime a Dozen"

Injunctions restraining picketing are being handed out "a dime a dozen" by courts dominated by the Hague machine through gubernatorial appointments. And as a consequence, bosses operating under union contracts are preparing to break them. A real union busting drive is opening up.

In the case of the strike being led by Culinary Alliance Local 611, A.F. of L. it was the opinion or the Vice Chancellor Berry that:

"If the employees were not satisfied with the way the employer was able to pay them, they had a perfect right to quit and walk out and she had the same right to hire others in their places."

In other words, where striking workers are replaced by scabs, no strike exists. Any further attempt to picket would be illegal and constitutes grounds for granting to the boss an injunction restraining

Win Strikes by Action

The fight against injunctions will not be won in the courts. Judges' ears are not attuned to the protests of workers but to the instructions of political bosses. Nor will the fight be won by lobbying for an anti-injunction bill as the Anti-Infunction League has been doing for more than a year. Judges will stop issuing injunctions only when, in spite of them, strikes are won by mass action.

A.F. of L. and C.I.O. unions are effected alike. They must unite on labor movement of New Jersey has to be awakened to this fact. When mass picket lines close down struck stores, strikes such as that of Local 108, U.R.E.A. against the Kitty Kelly Shoe Corp. will be won. Vice Chancellor Bercy, Hague, and the bosses of New Jersey must be shown that injunctions can neither break a union nor defeat a strike.

United States--Padlocked Pantry for Unemployed

By BILL MORGAN

Christmas week with its spirit of peace on earth and good will toward men brings sharply to mind a small news item of 1938. It seems a mother of four small children refused to feed her family despite a well-stocked pantry. The pantry door remained locked while the food rotted away. The youngsters cried with the pain of hunger but the mother turned a deaf ear. Finally neighbors, aroused by the pitiful walls of the hungry babies, broke in and had the mother taken to a hospital for mental disorders.

All will agree that an insane asylum is the proper place for such a mother. But how many stop to consider the fact that every day here in America, the richst country in the world, thirteen million unemployed workers are faced with the awful problem of providing for rent, food, clothing, light, gas and medical attention. Think of it! The U.S.A.-the largest producer of wheat, cotton, coal, oil steel, and machinery is unable to provide for the men who build the buildings, the bridges, the railroads, the steel mills and the automobiles. . . .

Private Property's Padlock These men go hungry in the midst of plenty. Even the President has had to recognize the fact that at least one third of the nation is without proper food, clothing and shelter-the three main necessities of life! Families are broken up. Young men commit sulcide. Girls become prostitutes. Old men and women are sent to the poor houses where death is a welcome relief. The man with a job lives in deadly fear of being fired and cannot buy back the very goods he produces.

Ogren and Emil Reviuk, men ex- 787 received the unsolicited application of the Grant and Augustana hospital branches after their memberships had unanimously voted to disaffiliate from Local 396. These were branches in Local 396. Trying desperately to head off this movement, the Stalinists unloosed a slander campaign against Local 787 in which they charged the leadership of Local 787 with being "Trotskyist." The workers answered that if the leadership was Trotskylst, and the union made gains, then the Trotskyists must be good trade unionists.

> Local 396, left without members, was compelled to return its charter to the C.I.O., thereby yielding its jurisdiction over the North Side hospitals.

Local 787, now the only hospital workers union in this city, is proceeding with a well-planned organizational campaign. Democracy prevails in the local; the executive does its work, and the membership makes the final decision. The local publishes its own mimeographed paper, the Hospital Worker, as a bi-weekly.

How the Arms Program Works

On December 30th, the U.S. Navy awarded a quarter of a million dollar contract to the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Two days before, E. G. Grace, Czar of the corporation, announced to the press that he would fight recommendations of the N.L.R.B. to disband the 20-year old company union.

In a few words: the Navy gang knew that Grace was using scab sponsoring a company union and intimidating workers from becoming real union men. And Grace knew he could sponsor a company union and union-busting methods and get the Navy contract.

The whole army-navy building program as revealed by this little incident is, in the final analysis, a scab union-busting program. It starts by giving the plums to open shops as well as to unionized establishments. Then as war comes closer and the might of the militarist gang (working hand-in-glove with the New Deal 'liberals") increases, it begins to make inroads on the union organizations. That's what the M-Day Plan is for. It begins with a little favoritism for company unions and ends by putting the real unions behind the eight-ball.

There's a real point in Grace recalling that the company union plan was worked out in 1918 in cooperation with the War Labor Board. It is not merely a recollection—it is a prediction of the way things will look when war

Hitler Apes Stalin

On January 3rd Hitler initiated the biggest "treason" trial in his six years of power. As one reads the official dispatches and the accounts of the first day of the trial, one is forcibly reminded of Stalin's juridical methods. Hitler seems to have drawn more than one leaf from the book of the Moscow trials.

As in the Moscow models, one learns in advance that those who are to be tried are already assumed to be guilty: some seventeen or so are to be beheaded. The trial is preceded by vituperative official releases. The chief victims are presented as oppositionists from of old, when they have actually been adherents of the regime. Ernst Niekisch, the most prominent defendant in the Nazi court, is presented as a Socialist who "antagonized National Socialism long before 1933"; actually be became a militarist in 1923, supported the Nazi conquest in 1933, and published a newspaper after Hitler became

The trial, like the Moscow ones, includes secret sessions, while the public sessions are to be in the nature of demonstrations, with some twenty-two principal defendants and numerous supernumaries. It is reported they will confess in open court. It will be a big show.

Stalin, however, still leads Hitler in the Party Folds Up to Become an "Educational" Society Inside the American Labor Party

By the combined support of the extreme right wing (Thomas Laidler) and their Tyler-Zamite satellites, a majority of the membership of the New York State Socialist Party has just voted in favor of a proposition submitted to referendum by the State Committee which provides for the members of the S.P. entering the American Labor Party. The vote really brings to a conclusion a whole stage of development of the Thomas organization and marks its voluntary liquidation as a political party. Its liq-

After its break with the incorrigible social - democratic "Old Guard" a few years ago, the Socialist party not only took on new life but moved rapidly in the direction of revolutionary Marxism. The growth of a genuine left wing in its ranks, however, frightened the centrists and the right-wingers who had remained after the split. With a bureaucratic cynicism not exceeded by any Stalinist clique, the Thomas-Tyler leadership thereupon arbitrarily expelled from the party every member who stood for a revolutionary
