The Eyes of America Are on Debs and the Appeal

Amazing Story of Passport Abuses

The history of the treatment of disfranchised citizens out of the country without passports and situated as Debs is now situated, gives very little here that Debs will be permitted to return unless there is evidence of a tremendous popular interest in his behalf.

The Appeal proposes to tell this story in this issue, that all good Americans may know the kind of men connected with the government of the United States and the kind of men whom Debs will have to face when he returns from Bermuda:

Behind the story of these many mistreated citizens is the individual opinion of a single judge sitting in the Supreme Court of the United States and the amazing sudden incorporation of this individual opinion in the policies and acts of the Federal and state authorities.

The whole forms a chapter in the conduct of the Departments of Immigration and Justice and acts of state officials that has not been exceeded for injustice, cruelty and graft in the history of this country,

This chapter relates to the treatment of a down-trodden race, and the released of this outrageous treatment on native Americans and upon the institutions and liberties of this republic.

In 1893 the first Hindu came and looked America over and liked it. In 1898 the first group of East Indian immigrants came to stay. Altogether, 7000 of this wholly inoffensive and industrious people have since come to America.

The first East Indian became a citizen of the United States in 1914. Since then a considerable number have become citizens.

Then the Great War broke. The draft was instituted. All Hindu immigrants were promised by the United States Government that if they would obey the draft peacefully and serve this country in the war they would be granted citizenship without the usual formalities and time taken to become citizens.

These immigrants responded loyally to this appeal. They furnished their are quota. Some were wounded in battle. A few gave their lives to the limit of their adoption.

HOW THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT KEPT THAT PROM-ISE, SEALED BY THE SUFFERINGS AND THE BLOOD OF THESE IMMIGRANTS, WILL NOW APPEAR.

Went this time agitation on the Pacific Coast against allowing immigrants in in Japan and China citizenship or right to own or lease land was

The district attorney at Portland, Oregon, wanted to take the citizenship papers away from the East Indians who had already become citizens.

He carried his case to a lower court. The judge refused to entertain this proposal.

This attorney then appealed to the circuit court and persuaded the judge to send a certified question to the Supreme Court of the United States for an atom of

One Man's Opinion

Judge Sutherland of the Supreme Court wrote an individual opinion that the Hindu is not white according to the common usage of the term, and therefore, not eligible to citizenship.

This opinion of one member of the Supreme Court immediately became the excuse for a series of acts against citizens and others seldom paralleled in the history of the country.

State and Federal authorities immediately began to cancel the naturali-

THE FACTS OVERWHELMINGLY INDICATE THAT THE CANCELLATION OF THESE CITIZENSHIP PAPERS WAS NOT AUTHORIZED BY EXISTING LAWS AND WAS CLEARLY ILLEGAL.

Here is the accepted official classification of the Hindu race made by the Description of Immigration at the request of Congress in 1911 and accepted

"CAUCASIAN or WHITE race . . . The Hindus and other peoples of India (are included) still more emphatically."

In the face of this, the individual opinion of Justice Sutherland has determined the policy of the Department of Immigration and of Federal and State officials in an unparalleled series of outrages and atrocities.

It is not of Mrs. Taraknath Das, formerly Mrs. Morse, a native-born woman and one of the founders of the Woman's Party, was relied to last issue of the American Appeal—how she has been kept out like last issue of the American Appeal—how she has been kept out like land for a year, because she is married to an alien and is out like last swithout a passport. This story is typical of many there are of a similar nature.

The Mark Mark Das, an eminent and learned professor in the New York Whom the and his American wife, formerly Miss Williams, a graduate from Miss Williams, a least of the title of Ph. D., wished to take a trip to India. They have a marked passports and went.

Now the United States Government refuses to honor its own passports and let them return, because of Justice Sutherland's opinion.

This native-born American woman graduate of Columbia College cannot return to her native land because she is married to a man Judge Sutherland says is an alien.

an East Indian. He possesses such high qualifications as an investion of instructor that he was chosen to go to France for a short stay of the problem of rural banks.

denied a passport and cannot go. He is held a prisoner in this which refuses him citizenship. Iowa cannot send its best scientific to France; the farmers cannot have the best knowledge availabanks—all because Justice Sutherland says that this man, who holds citizenship papers, is an alien.

Smedley, native American woman, for years a voting citiful and prominent in the liberal and radical movements, married a they could not obtain passports to go to Germany. They went anyway we they cannot return.

ak Chand, an East Indian merchant of Marysville, California, took out estizenship papers in 1923. Later he obtained a passport to go to get his Hindu wife and children.

this Hindu wite and children.

The returned the government of the United States refused to let him wife and children into this country. Faced with heart-rending prosections is some to abandon his property in California or having to be separated family, he asked of this government the simple favor of being perform to go with his family to Mexico.

Because he was under American passport rules he was denied this reasonable human request. He had to return to India with his family and is coming back to dispose of his property and leave the country forever, if under lively and leave the country forever, if under Justice Sutherland's opinion be is permitted to get out.

dendra Ghose, a leader in America of the movement for the independence of India, was in El Paso, Texas, a few days ago in company with his Aparton-born wife. They wished to cross the line for a few hours to take in the sights of Juarez, Mexico.

Neither one of them was permitted to do so, because Ghose is classed as an alien.

The story up to this point has to do with the better known and better situated native and naturalized Americans.

What about the obscure and helpless Hindus struck down suddenly by this cruel opinion of Justice Sutherland?

What about the Hindu soldiers who offered their lives for this country in the World War under the promise that they would receive immediate citi-

What about the Hindu farmers who leased land and gave useful productive service in good faith, believing that they would be permitted to become citizens and enjoy the fruits of their honest toil?

Ghouls in Human Form

The story of the base deception, betrayal, oppression and looting of these people by political brigands and ghouls in buman form who took full advantage of Justice Sutherland's opinion, forms one of the blacket chapters concerning the enslaving and plundering of oppgessed people in capitalist America.

When Justice Sutherland wrote down his opinion, based upon an unscientific classification of races, and contrary to the classification defined by Congress, 2,600 Hindu immigrants lived in California.

Farmers of this race on leased land had risen to the status of exemplary workers and citizens. Upon these trusting and defenseless people the political bandits of the state of California pounced like a pack of ravening wolves.

Under Sutherland's opinion these farmers could no longer lease land. They could not remain in the country as citizens or farmers. They could not leave this country and go back to the land of their birth.

THEIR STATUS WAS THAT OF PRISONERS IN THIS COUNTRY DEPRIVED OF THEIR CITIZENSHIP AND THEIR OCCUPATION.

After this government had reduced these people to this utterly helpless position agents and representatives of this government—state officials of California—took complete advantage of their helplessness to perpetrate one of the most dastardly schemes of graft and loot that this country has ever seen.

Prominent state officials of California—AND THEIR NAMES AND ADDRESSES WILL BE PUBLISHED WHEN THE TIME COMES TO DO SO—went to these farmers and informed them that under the law they could not lease and work farms in California—But, said these officials, "If you will follow our plan and do as we say we will make arrangements whereby you can stay on your farms."

These farmers were helpless. They had to take whatever their inhuman oppressors and plunderers offered them. This is what they had to take:

1. They were charged 50 cents per year per acre by this ring of office-holding grafters.

These politicians with their appetites thoroughly whetted by this easy money raised the price to $2 to $3.25 per acre. This amounted to about $165,000 a year in loot.
 The Hindu farmers were compelled to sell all the produce of their farms to this ring of grafters which charged the farmers from 10 to 25 per cent commission for "handling," the crop. This amounted to about $500,000 a year.

4. The Hindu cotton growers were forced to have all their cotton ginned in a plant in which prominent members of this graft ring were interested. These cotton growers raised about 20,000 bales of cotton a year. This yielded an additional graft of $80,000 to $100,000 a year.

5. The graft ring demanded that the cotton crop be handled through them and they paid the growers $5 per ton less than the market price, realizing another $50,000.

Sailendra Chose and Judge Ryckman of Los Angeles termulated a plan by which these unfortunate victims could occupy and till the soil.

WHEN THEY WENT TO BANKS AND LOAN AGENCIES FOR MONEY IT WAS REFUSED THEM. WHEN THEY TRIED TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE GINNING OF THE CROPS THE OPERATORS OF THE GINNING PLANTS REFUSED TO PERMIT THE GINNING TO

BE DONE ANYWHERE EXCEPT IN THE MILLS OWNED BY THE GRAFT RING.

It is time to ask, what is behind this exclusion from America of cultured, law-abiding, patriotic, useful native-born American women—this treatment of naturalized professors and educators without even the formality of cancelling their citizenship papers—this unspeakable outrage of refusing law-abiding, foreign-born, inoffensive people a place or status in this country; then refusing to let them leave—this monstrous spoilation of aged and helpless farmers to the extent of nearly a million dollars a year?

If the administrators in Washington and in California reply that these acts of disfranchisement and exclusion are the law and that it is their duty to enforce the law, their answer does not hold water.

America's Betrayers

Why has there never been a word from these administrators about the rank injustice and inhumanity of these laws? Why have the officials who enforce these laws; who are most acquainted with the injustice and cruelty of these laws, never opened their mouths in protests against them? Why have they not agitated—why have they not made recommendations to Congress to repeal or change these laws?

Is it because these naturalized. Hindus and husbands of American women are agitators against British imperialism in India and largely are liberals and radicals? Is American capitalism still in league with British capitalism as it was during the World War? Is this another case of the merciless persecution of radicals which has disgraced this government since the beginning of the World War? Has the million dollar a year graft in California something to do with the perpetration of these series of outrages against Americans and naturalized Americans?

THESE ARE THE KIND OF ADMINISTRATORS DEBS WILL HAVE TO FACE ON HIS RETURN FROM BERMUDA.

These are the kind of men he will have to ask for permission to re-enter the land of his birth.

Men who have failed to protest against laws that cry to high heaven with gross inhumanity and raw injustice—men who without a word of recommendation to the contrary enforced these laws or mere opinions and literally trampled under foot the spirit of the American constitution, American liberty and the American sense of justice—will sit in judgment and decide whether or not Debs, the peerless and fearless agitator, shall return to America.

Will the club of exclusion be used to attempt to force Debs to his knees, where the prison and disfranchisement failed? Americans, comrades, workers, it is up to you! If you can arouse the nation sufficiently, it will not be used. If you can bring public pressure on Congress and have Debs' citizenship restored while he is away, it will not be used.

Silently, but significantly, the officials in Washington and the observant citizens in the country at large are watching with keen interest the situation which has arisen from the demand for Debs' citizenship—from Debs' departure to a foreign shore—and from the vigorous crusade now being led by the Appeal to bring into the light of day (and into the view of enlightened public opinion) the whole question of the war, war victims, war illusions, impostures and injustices. It is realized by the powers that be in the nation's capital that not since the war has such a threatening issue—threatening to the power and pretensions of the politicians—been raised, as the issue of whether Debs was right about the war, whether Debs should now be publicly and officially vindicated, whether Debs should now be restored to citizenship.

The issue—boldly raised by the AMERICAN APPEAL—touches the government, and the country, in their sorest spot. For this Debs citizenship issue is broader than a single personality or a particular demand. It opens many questions. The truth is that it opens, in a most exigent and embarrassing way, the whole broad, vital, exceedingly sensitive question of the war. It turns back time to 1918, to 1917, to 1910—to the end, the beginning, and the plotted political preparations for the Great War.

Nobody realizes better than the politicians in Washington that they dare not appear before the country, in any real contest or controversy, on this issue. On this issue they are indefensible, and they know it. Their only hope is that it can be ignored, or that it will not reach proportions that will excite general and special attention. And, with what dismay APPEAL readers can imagine, they see this hope struck to the ground by the smashing attack of the APPEAL.

Obviously, necessarily, the issue of Debs' citizenship raises embarrassing questions. Was Debs justified in speaking freely about the war? When the war madness was at its height, this question could not be discussed with any possibility of justice or clear thinking. Passion ruled. The tide of war insanity overwhelmed all else. But now the justice, the practical importance, and the traditional American significance of free speech can be discussed with immediate, insistent purpose. Through such a campaign as the AMERICAN APPEAL is waging, the people of this country can be made to realize, for the first time since the war, exactly what was done when free speech was killed in America. They can be shown the historic examples of free speech in crises that tested a principle—Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Daniel Webster: all the roll of the country's great, bold, and true men. Now it can be shown, as it never could be shown before, that Eugene V. Debs, on that fateful day in Canton, Ohio, stood on the same high, heroic ground as the most revered heroes of American history.

In these days of the triumph of American plutocracy, the degraded and scheming leaders of America are ashamed of the record of America's brightest heroes and statesmen. They want to hear nothing of Jefferson. They want to hear nothing of Webster's stalwart opposition to an unjust, tyrannical measure of war—to conscription in the War of 1812. No, America's politicians of today want to impose their unjust, greedy, dishonest rule upon the country without a suggestion of the other side of the situation. They fear the truth. They fear plain speaking. They fear especially such a campaign as the APPEAL is now conducting with such boldness and purpose.

The war, any issue connected with the war, frightens and confuses the politicians. They are not prepared to defend themselves. They are anxious for silence on this issue—and, surprisingly, they have enjoyed immunity from discussion and the upholding of a truthful issue for a long while. Surprisingly—and yet, when one thinks of it, not surprisingly after all—the press of the country, the people of the country, the politicians of the country have avoided the slightest reference to any of the delicate, dangerous issues of the late war.

When one considers the fact that the war was such a failure and such a fraud in all its purposes and pretended principles; when one views the vast imposture and injustice which the war was, and is now plainly seen to have been; when one reflects upon the cruelty, the terror, the oppression, and the immense dishonesty of the war leaders, the war issues, and the war methods—one marvels, one is amazed by the fact that, until this campaign of the APPEAL, no effort has been made to challenge the fraud, expose the injustice, and tell the truth. And yet, of course—who would expect the capitalist press to do it? Who would expect the organs of power and privilege to reveal the truth of any issue that threatens their power and their privilege?

The Debs issue is bigger than Debs himself. Debs knows it. We all know it. Here, for the first time, is raised boldly and clearly the whole issue of the war itself.

This is why the politicians in Washington are alarmed. This is why they are dismayed and hesitating and fearful in face of the campaign now being waged by the AMERICAN APPEAL. It is not Debs, simply as a man, that they fear and hate. What they fear and hate is the truth!

To you, readers of the AMERICAN APPEAL—to YOU, the individual reader of the AMERICAN APPEAL—we bring this call: Strike this blow for humanity! Strike this blow for justice! Strike this blow for truth! Circulate the special edition which will tell the truth about Debs and the war—which will split wide-open this issue which the politicians in Washington fear al-ove all else. There is only one way of vindicating truth and obtaining justice in this tremendous, critical situation. The one way is to show purpose, show power. Cry out so loudly that Washington is bound to hear you! Spread APPEALS over the land, until no man can be ignorant of this issue which is raised! Agitate! Arouse! Act! This is the greatest opportunity, the greatest issue, the greatest cause of your life! For this wide-sweeping issue—for this tremendous cause—for this great history-making opportunity, one simple act will be effective:

Kentucky Falls Down

Kentucky has failed to live up to the principles of equitable treatment alike to black and white in cases of rape. A negro recently was rescued from a mob by the state militia and was then tried, sentenced and hung for rape with amazing speed. Charles Merchant, a young white man of prominent connections, was charged later with raping a negro girl under twelve. This week he was saved by a plea of insanity and will not hang. The white Christians of Kentucky are not yet quite equal to hanging white men for exactly the same thing for which they kill black men.

In Their True Colors

Berger's pension bill for aged workers will undoubtedly get no support from the present administration. President Coolidge and Senator Smoot have come out in open opposition to even so obviously wise and just a measure as retiring Federal employes at the age of 60 on a pension of $700 to $1,200 per year. Coolidge and Smoot were the principals in the little deal when dictator Mussolini was handed $1,600,000,000 out of the pockets of American taxpayers. It's billions for Pascism but not one cent for American labor, with these staunch defenders of capitalism.

Latent Fascism The latent fascism of fashionable America flared up recently when members of the discarded Russian royalty were entertained in royal fashion and slobbered over by choice collections of American snobs who contributed money for this glorious privilege and incidentally aided the counter-revolutionary movement to overthrow soviet Russia. All human elements in the world today that have an "upper class" sense are potential fascisti and are deadly dangerous to the workers in the present world wide conflict.

Worse Than Cannibalism

Whenever capitalism is not restrained by the resistance of the workers and an enlightened public opinion it slips back to something akin to primitive cannibalism. A convict leasing system that would disgrace the to American institutions from trade Fiji Islands has been going on under cover in Alabama for many years. Convicts are leased out to inhuman private exploiters at so much per head by the state. An unexpected incident has torn this system wide open and exposed it to public gaze.

Beware of This!

It is reliably reported from Washington, i). (*., that an anti-strike bill, designed to prevent strikes in the coal industry, will be reported out of a committee. It provides that the president in case of a strike in the coal industry shall appoint a national commission to investigate the causes and fix the blame for the strike. Nothing could be more dangerous than such a measure in the hands of a capitalist government. It would be used against the workers just as inevitably and universally as the police c'ub, the militiaman's rifle, bayonet and machine gun and the judge's injunction are used always for the employer and against the worker. An anti-strike law would naturally lead to the complete hamstringing of the labor unions and the dashing from the hands of the workers of the only economic weapon that they have left.

The movement in American higher educational institutions against military training is gaining ground. Praise for Berger

Voters inclined towards socialism are hoping that Congressman Victor L. Berger some day will represent Wisconsin in the United States senate. Mr. Berger is a highly intelligent, educated man, and knows public official life to the last dot. If we are to have only two major parties in Badgerdom, the conservatives and the Socialist, and the Socialists win elections, it will be good for Wisconsin to have Bergers in the U.S. Senate instead of johnny blaines. Congressmen Report to American Appeal

The replies of twenty Congressmen to letters from Appeal readers asking how they will vote on the Berger Resolution, H J. B. 172, demanding the restoration of Deba' citizenship. have been sent to the Appeal.

Seven are definite premises that they will vote for the Berger resolution. Three replies are definite refusals to vote for the resolution. Ten replies are non-committal. This is a good tip on the present attitude of Congressmen on the Berger resolution. AT LEAST A THIRD OF THE CONGRESSMEN ARE READY TO VOTE FOR DEBS' CITI-ZENSHIP. A STRONG MINORITY OF HOPELESS REACTIONARIES has come to the National Office from WILL FIGHT AGAINST DEBS TO THE LAST DITCH. THE MAJORITY IS ON THE FENCE.

Chains of Military Slavery Now Ready for U.S. Workers

By Marx Lewis

As Congress is speeding towards adjournment there looms up as an eleventh-hour danger the passage of an act which will practically decide of later determining the question whether the youth of the nation shall be conscripted in the next war.

Under the terms of the Capper bill, hearings upon which are now in progress, the President will be able after a declaration of war to immediately draft into the service all men between the age of 21 and 30, or any others that he may determine.

THERE WILL BE NO DISCUSSION SUCH AS PRECEDED THE ENACT-MENT OF THE SELECTIVE SER-VICE ACT DURING THE LAST WAR; THERE WILL BE NO OPPOR-THERE WILL BE NO DELAY IN fairs of the Senate. PUTTING AN ENTIRE NATION UN-DER THE HEEL OF A MILITARY DICTATOR.

Chains of Militarism

With the espionage act on the stat ute books, to be revived the moment war is declared, and with a draft act enacted in peace time ready to put millions of men in uniform - there will be no exemption on account of industrial occupation-the American people will have surrendered to their domestic enemies long before they will have even met a foreign foe. At the hearings held so far, the reason assigned for the passage of the bill, which is advocated by all the reactionary organizations and the administration, is that time will be saved in the next war. It took several months to jam the conscription law sentenced to prison terms.

In order to make the bill seem minently fair, it is proposed, also, that the President be authorized to exercise immediate control of all the material resources, and to take such steps as may be necessary to stabilize prices of services and all other commodities declared to be essential.

Wealth must receive and inducement, not only in peace time, when a large part of taxation must be lifted from its shoulders, but also in war time-especially in war time, because wealth then is necessary, and wealth that can be conscripted may escape, say the military men.

Men vs. Property

It is not nearly as dangerous to conscript a man and make him co overseas, if that is where the next war will find American soldiers, for $30 per month. But regardless of the reasoning, and ven if wealth were to be conserpted to the extent that the working pople will be, the danger is that this bill will be enacted into law before the adjournment of Congress. While the people slumber and imagine that ques tions of life and death to them will not be decided without adequate ron. sideration and publicity, it is proposed to slip over a bill that sen. tences millions of people to death as soon as there is a declaration of war.

Co-operative Farms Spread in Russia

Russia, experiment station for the world, is trying out collective farming. This represents a novel departure both from the individualistic system common in most of Europe and North America and the ranch system familiar in Latin America. Under the new form of collective farming, peasants resolve to substitute for the inefficiency of individual farming, the economics of large scale production with technical experts, machinery and federal financial aid. While still retaining ownership of the land and the responsibility for production collectively, these farmers are reaping far greater rewards from the soil than the tillers of small plots. Since 1923 the members of these farms have been increasing by about 4,500 a year, so that the total now is about 25,000, a majority of which do their marketing through the national co-operatives. Their role has not only been to increase production, improve management, make labor more efficient, but in bringing education to the peasants, hitherto illiterate. Libraries and reading rooms, classes in farm problems, politics and health have accomplished wonders in infusing new spirit into community life of rural Russia. Special efforts will bo devoted in the future to educating both children and adults and in stimulating interest in national and international

Letter XIV

My dear Judd:

It is an interesting thing to study the development of human society through a long period of history. Men began in small tribes, in which they were very much alike, and stood policies of business. They have on an equal footing. These tribes fought, and absorbed one another. and grew more complex, with greater differences among the members: dukedoms and principalities arose, and then kingdoms, and at last great empires, with rulers and subjects ranged in classes, and the class lines rigidly drawn.

it was against such a form of society that our ancestors revolted; they had a new theory of government, and established a new form-a republic, owned and run by its citizens, all standing on an equal plane. The process of evolution in the political world is still going on, and some day we shall see a world-wide federation of republics, in which the human race will share equal rights. It is fascinating to realize that this same process is going on in the world. of industry. Here also we see the various enterprises struggling, and some winning and absorbing the monarchies and empires. It is not merely a figure of speech when we and emperors of finance, for these ing to the demand of these protesting | men occupy the same positions and Christians, that in case of another hold the same kind of power as the war capital shall be drafted just as rulers of old days. Our capitalist newspapers never get tired of harping upon the failures of government ownership, the waste and the graft. Private ownership is the way to efficiency! Well. Judd. there is a lot of present-day efficiency which I am ready to do without, beginning from this very bour. For example, efficiency in maiming and killing workers-which caused one million in our country to be disabled in others, until today we have industrial 1925! Labor today works under the lash of the slave-driver, and I am willing to see industry slow down, so talk about coal barons and steel kings that workingmen may be human beings. And then, I examine the graft under public ownership, and what do I find? Private owners seeking private profits out of government! Here is a slogan, Judd:

THE CAUSE OF GRAFT IS NOT PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF INDUS-TRY, BUT PRIVATE OWNERSHIP OF POLITICIANS!

How can we stop that? We have tried the plan of sending the grafters to fail, but that doesn't work, for the reason that the grafters buy the prosecuting officials and the judges; in the few cases where we get them into jail, they buy the jailers. So I suggest a new plan-that we take away the motive to graft, by making it impossible for any man to exploit the labor of his fellows, or to monopolize those things which are necessary to the life of all.

Learning industrial democracy is then along comes a man who says: "Yes, you can swim, but not until you go all the way in." That is no wild statement, but a fact of big business policy. Our masters, who control the political parties, are afraid to have competent men in public office, for fear they might take up a notion to do something real for the public welfare. They prefer a man who can't kick over the traces, because he is too feeble. That is why at the last nominating convention they turned down a really competent and loyal servant of theirs, Mr. Herbert Hoover, and gave us poor, shy, pitiful Mr. Coolidge, who can never by any possibility do anything, for the reason that he doesn't know what

When you and I, Judd, and the rest of the useful workers of America, get ready to run our own business, we can do it. We shall do it, if for no other reason, because we have tobecause we need food in our cities, and machinery on our farms. We shall hire the best experts to run our industries; and many of them will be the very men who are running them now-they will be just as well content to work for the American people as for Johnny Coaloil, who is now taking a yachting trip with a dozen chorus girls on the Riviers, or for Mrs. Silly Splash, who is setting the new fashion in diamond embroidered bathing suits at Palm Beach. Yes, Judd, we shall find ways to run our business without these elegant idlers; and whatever waste there may be won't be so bad as having them corrupt a whole generation of our young people by their vicious folly. If there is graft, we'll find ways to stop it, and if more efficiency is needed, we'll get it-because it will be our business. and our loss if we fail.

I'll go even farther, Judd: I'll assert that the amount of waste inherent in capitalism is so frightful, that no amount of inefficiency under a free system can approach it. Remember the "iron ring," and what it will mean to us to get into the factories, with the right to run them for ourselves! Remember our figures on the wastes of competition! State Sale of Liquor Solving the Booze Problem in Canada of the liquor traffic has ' sen an enerfollowing seven years of prohibition. men, against the illicit still and its of beer a week are also allowed each there has been a great decrease in drunkenness; bootlegging and law de-Sance are rapidly disappearing; there is a marked decrease in crime, and the overwhelming majority of the people have been won over to this plan.

These statements were made before the senate committee investigating prohibition this week by Francis William Russell of Winnipeg, president of. the Moderation League of Manicoba and Sir William Stavert, former member of the Quebec Liquor Commission.

The system these men described. now in vogue in Manitoba, Quebec, Saskatchewan and Alberta, falls far short of the Socialist plan-completo government manufacture, sale and regulation of intoxicants. The Canadian plan includes only the government sale and regulation of liquor. Yet incomplete as this plan is, in the direction of socialization, beneficial results are rapidly developing in every phase of this question, according to these of-Scial Canadian witnesses.

Whisky Drinking Decreases Despite the present accessibility of hard liquor in the province, the witness found that hard liquor drinking was not increasing. In fact, the decrease by $100,000 last year in the revenue of the governmental con:misions handling the hard liquor traffic was satisfactory proof to him that hard liquor drinking is substantially decreasing. The commission, in short. sold $100,000 less liquor in 1925 than it did in 1924, when the new regulatory laws went into effect.

Better Since Prohibition

last year of prohibition, there were the same in Manitoba." 300 Illicit stills in the province of Manitoba. Our psychopathic wards were filled with wrecks of humanity caused by drinking the poisonous product of these stills. The young people of the province had simply gone wild. They seemed to take pride in violating this kind of law--that is, alleged complete prohibitory law. Bandits were descending on our villages and robbing banks. Thank God we have got rid of that since we abolished prohibition.

"Before prohibition there were two assizes a year with one judge sitting. After prohibition there were four assizes a year with two and three judges sitting. We of the Moderation league asked for the drastic change from prohibition to regulated traffic. The legislators laughed at us when we told them that the people wanted modification. Finally, the politicians had to climb down, and so we got a referen-

Return to Old Habits

"As to improvement in moral conditions, the outstanding fact is that our young people have come to their senses and returned to pre-prohibition habits.

Blames Dry Americans

Mr. Russell blamed citizens from the United States as being the principal abusers of Manitoba's present laws.

We have not thoroughly got rid of that evil which, under prohibition, became an enormous evil. But we are gradually wiping it out. That is the only remaining evil we have. The prov inces of Saskatchewan and Alberta had about the same experience with prohibition that we of Manitoba have. And today's statistics show an 59 per cent decrease of trials for illicit sales

He said that there is no public drinking and no bare in Manitoba now, continuing, "under our act all the liquor ordered is delivered to homes. Mr. Russell testified that the three millions of revenue accruing from the day.) operation of the present laws logalizing governmental sale of alcoholic beverages go in a proportion of one and a half million to the general government and one and a half million to the municipalities, "with the result," he said, "that the municipalities now looking forward to this check have become consistent supporters of the new law, although in 1916 they were for prohibition. Now they spend the profits from legal liquor sales coming to them on roads, etc.-the profits that under the old regime the bootlegger got from illegal sales."

The Situation in Quebec

Testifying on what he believed to be more wholesome general conditions in the body politics of the province of Quebec, Sir William Stavert put it

"The lure of forbidden fruit has been removed, with wholesome effect.

"Four provinces are already imitat ing Quebec's example, a fifth is considering it and if that province adopts our system only three dry provinces will remain in the dominion.

"The long and short of our system is that we have removed—the traffic "We have not," he acknowledged, from the hands of the bootlegger and put it in the hands of regulation. "We did this with no illusions as to alcohol. Alcohol is a poison and in no way beneficial to the human body, but human nature is not to be changed by act of parliament." Senator Reed asked the witness for an opinion on the result of Quebec's new regulatory law of 1921, and he received this reply: "The opinion of our best people i that there has been improvement in habits of temperance on the part of all the people. The city of Quebec has banished local probibition as a result of the success of the 1921 law.

Vindicates Socialist Stand The noteworthy fact brought out by this testimony is that while a responsi ble adult under proper conditions may purchase from the government each week and take home for consumption one case of hard ligners and two cases of beer, there is less drinking than there was under prohibition and drink ing is decreasing.

This is a striking vindication of the old Socielist contention that if public pointed out the fact that the official drinking is removed, and in addition "In 1916 no women had voted liquor selling commissions keep a cheap and poisonous liquors are abol-

The whole traffic in smuggled liquor—95 per cent of which has thus been carried on successfully—is itself only one small spigot pouring one small quota of a flood of illegal liquor into the market. In functioning even within those parrow frontiers which necessarily delimit the field of its activities the Prohibition force has been consistently betrayed by its own men. It has had to deal, to date, with 875 cases of corruption among its agents. (Testimony of Gen. Andrews, Tuesday.)

In the midst of such appalling conditions as these, it is undoubtely dawning on many American citizens that they soon will have to choose between government operation of the liquer traffic or the return of the saloon and private traffic in actoricants. It is most encouraging that some have already begun to realize that government control and operation is the only rafe, sane and civilized course. -No. 19-

Danish Socialism Grows and Spreads Among the Farmers

The year 1925 brought a further increase to the Danish Socialists of 22 Socialist organizations and 3,293 members. The party dential campaign HAVE BEEN TRANdrink caused by private traffic in 146,496, who are all individual members. This means that the party is stronger than it has ever been. Of the 909 organizations there are about 100 in the towns, the remaining 900 being in the country districts. As the total number of country districts is close on 1,300 this proves that Socialist organization has penetrated into more than three-fourths of the country districts

The members consist of 100,356 men and 46.149 women. Thus a third of the whole membership consists of women, although there are no special women's organizations in the Danish

An increase of about 3,300 members would in any case be a commendable one; but if one considers the special circumstances prevailing in 1925 the result is certainly remarkable. One must remember particularly that a third of the organized workers were involved in a serious lock-out for three months (from March to June), which of course weighed most heavily on the workers, and also that, following on this, Denmark suffered from fearful unemployment during the last three months of the year, which deprived more than 25 per cent of the organized workers of their wages. In spite of these facts and although their opponents have ruthlessly fought the Socialist minority government, the working-class have replied by an increase of 3,300 members for socialism. The first two years of the Socialist government show an increase of 15,225 members for the Socialist Party.

The speculations of political oppoients, who hoped within their conservative majority, to discredit the work of the Socialist government, seem completely wrecked. ----No. 18----

Polish Socialism

Conquers Nationalism The true Socialist spirit of solidarity of all workers is slowly regaining possession of the Polish Socialists who were swept backward on a wave of nationalism during and after the war. At a joint conference held March 12 in Lodz, Poland, between the Polish Socialist Party and the German Socialist Labor Party of Poland, a resolution was adopted uniting these two parties in the same ends and purposes. All nationalistic persecutions of the German minority were condomned. The differences and antagonisms between these parties were composed. A par-

Belgian Workers Are Arming for Defense Against Fascisti

The peaceful and constructive So- | workers is one of the most wonderful | cialist paper, concerning Fascist prepcialist movement of Belgium-a movepracticed change to Socialism by peaceful and constitutional means—is threatened with capitalist violence by the arming of the Belgian Fascisti against it.

The cause of these violent and revolutionary preparations by the agents of capitalism is the steady, peaceful progress of the Socialist movement of Belgium until it has reached the point WHERE IT HAS BECOME PRAC-TICALLY CERTAIN THAT SOCIAL ISM WILL BE INAUGURATED IN BELGIUM BY PEACEFUL AND LE. GAL MEANS, IF THIS IS NOT PRE-VENTED BY FASCIST VIOLENCE.

The Belgium Socialist movement is three-fold. It consists of the Labor Party, the Trades Unions and the Workers' Co-operatives. The Labor Party has reached the point of power where it shares the government with election shows, the Labor Party is still growing while the Catholic Party is losing ground. IT HAS BECOME CERTAIN THAT UNLESS THE LA-BOR PARTY IS SOMEHOW PRE-VENTED, IT WILL SOON GAIN A COMPLETE MAJORITY IN BEL-GIUM, AS THE INDUSTRIAL WORK-ERS CONSTITUTE THE MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE OF BELGIUM.

The Trade Union Movement includes the majority of all the industrial workers in Belgium and it has become a well-trained defense body in the daily struggle of the workers of Belgium and a great strike weapon in industrial and political emergencies. The co-operative movement of the

IN LEAGUE WITH THE LABOR PARTY AND THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT, IT IS CONSCIOUSLY BUILDING DAY BY DAY, HERE AND NOW, THE CO-OPERATIVE COMMONWEALTH OF THE FUTURE AND CROWDING CAPITALISM OUT OF EXISTENCE.

It is this kind of great, nation-wide peaceful, orderly, law-abiding democratic movement against which the lawless, hateful and murderous forces the Catholic Party, but, as the recent of capitalist-fascist reaction are marshaling for violent battle.

Sinister news arrives via International Information, news service of the Socialist movement. Fascist arming has reached a point where the Belgian workers, too, must arm in self-defense. THEY DO NOT INTEND THAT THE TERRIBLE TRAGEDY OF ITALY SHALL BE REPEATED IN BEL.

The methods of fighting for which they are preparing are those of a real war. IT IS SUF. FICIENT FOR US TO SAY THAT THEY ARE CONTEMPLATING EVEN THE USE OF TANKS."

"La Peuple" advises the worker to stand firmly on the right of the perple to assemble without arms, as guaranteed by the Belgian constitution, but to be prepared, otherwise for eventual. ities. If then, the capitalist-fascist ruffians assembled armed and attack in defiance of the constitution, the workers will have the right to defen! themselves, and the offense of breaking the law will be on the heads of the fascists. This undoubtedly is the advice to every Belgian worker to provide himself with a gun and ammunition and keep it where he can get hold of !t in need.

The Belgian workers are in a much better position to fight fascism than were the Italian workers who were kept disarmed by the capitalist gov ernment while the armed fascisti of Italy tore their organizations to pieces and trampled them under foot. Political government has been superreded in the United States by rule of business; and the banks rule busi-Dess.

This is explicitly stated in a telegrum sent to many papers from Washington by David Lawrence, a well known correspondent, and printed in a few of the papers that received the information. The Kansas City Journal-Post was one of the few papers that printed the sensational fact which many know but which is supposed not to be made public.

Says Mr. Lawrence: "The most striking thing that happened in the national capital in the year 1925 was the COMPLETE TRANSFORMATION OF THE GOVERNMENT FROM THE POLITICAL TO THE ECONOMIC FACTOR IN AMERICAN LIFE." "All the influences that surround and often follow in the wake of a presi-

"The administration has tried to get out of private business and has claimed a minimum interference and maximum freedom to the individual and industry, but THE INTERVEN-TION OF THE GOVERNMENT FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE CON-SUMER (FROM EUROPEAN EX-liamentary agreement was made unit ing the two parties in all questions concerning the interests of the working class, democracy and the common fight against nationalism. The growth of Socialism in Poland since the war has been retarded by nationalism. The rise of the Socialists of Poland superior to race and nationality presages the beginning of the real conquering movement of the workers in that country.

CIALLY ALMOST AS POWERFUL AS | GLE." IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN WITH SPE-CIFIC LEGISLATION REQUIRING SUCH INTERVENTION: That is another thing. No one supposes that the Socialist state would be established without first having the consent of the people of the nation and after that being authorized by legislation: but the new government business for the benefit of business is UNAUTHORIZED; it is USURPA-TION; it is the overrriding of constitutional government by ABSO-LUTEISM. This is why the people are being educated into deriding legislative enactments. This is why the lawlessuess of the bootlegger is being encouraged by the administration-that there may come such contempt of the constitution that an open dictatorship may supercede democracy. The government can and does protect from foreign profiteers, but it cannot lower freight rates here.

One might be justified in saying that the statement is exargerated, if it were not a world-wide conditionif democracy were not being set aside and the future carnings of debt ridden by plutocracy throughout Europe as well as in America - and there more clearly than in America.

In explanation of "Why Europe is Turning to Dictatorship." Frank H. Simonds, the famous writer on European politics, says in one of his recent syndicated articles;

"Underlying all the dictatorships which have come and the dictators who may yet arrive there is the single broad fact; under the strain of war and post-war conditions THE PAR-LIAMENTARY SYSTEM HAS BROKEN DOWN ON THE CONTIN-ENT OF EUROPE and even for the period of the Labor regime in British seemed to have broken down in the place where it had its origin. In the war Lloyd George and Clemenceau, in hours of extreme peril, ARROGATED TO THEMSELVES THE POWER AND FUNCTIONS OF PARLIA-MENT BY COMMON CONSENT OF THEIR NATIONS. In reality parliamentary government survived the war in many nations only because it was to all intents and purposes SUS- at our doors.

The statement that "the parliamentary system has broken down on the continent of Europe" is of course very mild. If the facts were given as they really exist, doubtless very few papers, if any, would be permitted to publish them. THE PARLIAMEN-TARY SYSTEM HAS NOT BROKEN DOWN SO MUCH AS IT HAS BEEN BEATEN DOWN.

Mr. Simonds makes this as clear as he would be permitted to do, in his reference, in the same article, to the situation in Italy:

"At the present bour the single continental government which is functioning in anything like a successful fashion is that of Mussolini. It is truthat the Mussolini method DOES VIOLENCE TO ALL DEMOCRATIC CONCEPTIONS. It is true that it is attended by many, if not most, of the evils and vices which are inherent in dictatorships, however useful, however inescapable. In Italy escuphas only come by a dictatorship which has, not in fact, SUSPENDED THE OPERATION OF THE BALLOT BOX IN ANY SENSE THAT WE THINK OF IT.

Mr. Simouds very frankly suggests the more than possibility of dictates ships taking the place of democracy and "parliamentary governments" in many countries of Europe. He asks: "What would happen, then, if some day some man, some group of men. suddenly should see in the situation what Napolean saw at the latter of of the revolution-that THE MA CHINE SHOULD FUNCTION!"

And already, Mr. Lawrence declared that the year 1925 saw the "COM PLETE TRANSFORMATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES FROM THE POLITICAL TO THE ECONOMIC FACTOR IN AMERICAN LIFE.

This might not be so bad, providing that transformation was along the line of more democracy. But it was not. It was in the interest of MOUS PROFITS. It was in a discrediting of "the parliamentary system."

Plutocracy's DICTATOR is already
