408 Infants Die of Summer Complaint in July in Working Class Districts

The Chicago Health Department has issued a second map on the deaths of children under two years of age.

There are 408 babies who were sacrificed to this wholly unnecessary scourge.

In Working Class Districts A study of the map shows that this slaughter of the innocents is confined exclusively to working-class neighborhoods. So true is this that it is possible to locate every over-crowded center of industry by the number of dots showing where death visited the home of a worker.

In the whole stretch of the city east of the Stock Yards, embracing aristocratic and wealthy Hyde Park and Kenwood, there are only eleven of the fatal dots.

The whole closely crowded west side is black with the marks of death, while the reader may follow the whole length of the Lake Shore drive without finding a single home where the fatal mark above the door has not turned away the angel of death.

PANIC CAUSES CHICAGO WIVES TO BE ABANDONED BY SPOUSES

The misery caused by unemployment is responsible for a 50 per cent increase in the number of wife abandonments for the period since last November as compared with the same months of the previous year, according to the charity workers.

Between 300 and 400 cases have been reported to the Chicago Relief and Aid Society since last November. This is 50 per cent higher than the number reported to the society in the corresponding period last year.

Abandonment on Increase Mrs. L. J. Donaldson, assistant superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, said reports from the workers of that organization show that wife abandonments are on the increase.

BRITISH TOILERS SEEK TO CRUSH SPIRIT OF WAR

Labor Party to Send 20 Men to Fraternize With the German Proletarians

(DAILY SOCIALIST CORRESPONDENCE.) London, Aug. 2.—The Independent Labor party at its annual congress has administered a decided rebuke to the jingoist attempt to stir up antagonism between Germany and England by voting to send a delegation of twenty of its members for a trip through Germany.

To Counteract Militarism It is hoped that by thus bringing the working class organizations of the two countries into close personal touch it will be possible to counteract the military spirit of hatred.

At the same time a strong resolution was adopted in favor of universal peace and denouncing the efforts of the jingoist classes to involve the two nations in war.

The congress also adopted resolutions endorsing universal suffrage for both sexes.

(DAILY SOCIALIST CORRESPONDENCE.) Berlin, Aug. 2.—Good news comes to us from London. The English Independent Labor party has decided to send twenty representatives to Germany.

The representatives of the English laborers will come into close personal contact with their German comrades that they may become convinced of the necessity of fighting all attempts to sow distrust between the German and the English people.

The international marches on and its ever growing power, ever greater capacity for action, is the strongest guarantee of the maintenance of peace which the imperialist policies of the bourgeoisie endanger.

The international congress at Stuttgart, at which our opponents could not sneer enough, has remained no dead letter and has become the guiding force in France, in England, in Germany for a united proletariat which has declared relentless warfare on war.

The German workers greet with greatest joy the action of their English comrades and will meet their representatives with the warmest welcome.

(DAILY SOCIALIST CORRESPONDENCE.) New York, Aug. 15.—The protest from the unemployed met with cynical indifference at the hands of the Commercial Travelers Interstate Prosperity congress here.

Resolutions presented to the body in a quiet and orderly way were absolutely ignored, save when after Henry Clews, who made a speech to the effect that the year's crops would be worth eight billion dollars and that farmers would have money to burn.

Local capitalists formed an amusement company and bought a site for a theater in H street, between Thirtieth and Fourteenth. It was a costly location. Plans for a new playhouse were drawn and work was to be started on the building next week.

The local men were fearful of going on with their enterprises under such circumstances. The theater manager is W. F. Thomas of New York, and he had the project of erecting the playhouse in hand when the new deal of the theatrical managers became known.

The wheat harvest in the southern division is not so large nor the quality so good as in the northern and central districts. The average yield of spring wheat is reported twenty bushels to the acre. The area devoted to oats is the smallest recorded in sixteen years.

(DAILY SOCIALIST CORRESPONDENCE.) Philadelphia, August 12.—This city, notoriously corrupt politically and made famous by its brutal treatment of the unemployed, has added another chapter to its unsavory reputation by the arrest and conviction of fifty homeless men who had been sleeping in Independence Square.

In spite of this they were surrounded one morning by a cordon of police who roughly awakened the jobless men and herded them into a patrol wagon. Justice Carey gave them from two to three months each.

PRINTERS OUST THE "SUB" LIST Typos at Convention Open All Shops to Union Unemployed

(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY SOCIALIST.) Boston, Mass., Aug. 15.—Out of several proposed changes in the general laws of the International Typographical Union, the only one adopted at the convention yesterday was that abolishing substitute lists in all union offices.

John Mitchell Addresses Members John Mitchell addressed the convention briefly last night on matters pertinent to the work of the union. He declared that he was opposed to strikes until employers and employees had exhausted every method of arbitration and conciliation.

THE HUSTLERS' COLUMN By W. H. Murphy

WHAT THE SUBSCRIPTION HUSTLERS DID YESTERDAY. New out-of-town subscribers.....117 New city subscribers.....8 Total for the day.....125

FOR CHICAGO HUSTLERS This is going to be a bit of plain talk, but I am afraid it will be rather hard to swallow. The Chicago Hustlers have fallen down. Here in a city of a little less than 2,000,000 it is conclusive that you are not doing your duty toward your paper when only nine or twelve subs. come in a day.

No "Fair Judges"

A correspondent objects to the editorial which demanded working class judges on the ground that "all influences likely to control a judge, whether they be exercised by corporations, by labor, by politics, or by Socialists should be removed."

Moreover, it must be one or the other. THERE CAN BE NO SUCH THING AS AN IMPARTIAL JUDGE IN THE CONFLICT BETWEEN CAPITALIST AND LABORER.

The class struggle is over the question of who shall receive the product of labor's toil. This question appears in a thousand different forms, but at bottom it is always the same.

Therefore the Socialists make no deception about the fact that they want judges who shall represent working class interests and NO OTHER.

There was another comment of our correspondent that indicates how dangerous is a little knowledge. He mildly rebukes us for combining the subject of judges and injunctions and tells us that "A judge does not make the law."

The judge makes an injunction defining certain things as unlawful, WHICH ARE NOT UNLAWFUL WITHOUT THE INJUNCTION, and then becomes court, jury and executioner to enforce the law he has made.

Strange Bedfellows

The saying that "politics makes strange bedfellows" has had many striking proofs in American history. Seldom, however, has a stranger combination been developed than that which has been brought about by the action of the officials of the American Federation of Labor in endorsing the Democratic ticket.

Gompers has intimated that he might take the stump for Bryan. Gompers is a cigarmaker, a member of the Cigarmakers' International Union. The most bitter enemy of that union is the Tobacco Trust.

The second vice-president of that trust is Moses T. Wetmore of St. Louis, who is high in the councils of the Democratic party. Indeed, it is now announced that he will be the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Democratic party during the campaign.

If Samuel Gompers should decide to take the stump for Bryan his EXPENSE AND SALARY VOUCHERS WOULD BE SIGNED BY AN OFFICIAL OF THE TOBACCO TRUST.

That is not all. If he comes into Illinois his campaign will be managed by Francis Peabody of the Peabody Coal Company, an official of the Coal Trust and a partner of Frederick Upham, the Republican boss in Chicago.

DO YOU THINK THAT SUCH BEDFELLOWS ARE QUITE THE PROPER ONES FOR A REPRESENTATIVE OF ORGANIZED LABOR?

He Knows He Can't Fight

We have all seen the man who elaborately pulls off his coat, spits on his hands, rolls up his sleeves and pleads for a chance to fight, knowing all the while that his friends are going to grab him just before the fight begins.

Just now Bryan has been professing his intense eagerness to fight the wicked injunction judges. The Democratic convention whooped and yelled and spit on its hands and made a noise like a labor champion anxious to fight for organized labor and the "rule of the people."

All this did not frighten the enemies of labor in the least. They knew, and BRYAN KNOWS that if the age of miracles should be revived and he should be elected he would be helpless to do anything but continue to roar. Along with him would go a body of Democratic congressmen from the solid south, men who have proven their opposition to child labor legislation, to trade unions in every form, whose faithful devotion to the cause of reaction has never been challenged.

IT IS JUST BECAUSE THE SOLID REACTIONARY SOUTH EXISTS THAT THE NORTHERN DEMOCRACY CAN BE USED AS A RADICAL BAIT FOR VOTING SUCKERS.

With this string tied tightly to his leg Bryan can be allowed to spout about "predatory wealth" and the rights and wrongs of labor to his heart's content with the full knowledge that he will never be allowed to do anything.

You'll Be Sorry If You Miss It

Any Socialist who does not have a bundle of that special issue of the Chicago Daily Socialist with him to distribute on Labor Day will be sorry for it the next day. He will have missed an opportunity that will not come again for at least four years, and perhaps never, for it is doubtful if there will ever be such a combination of circumstances favorable to Socialist propaganda among trade unionists as exists this year.

Hundreds of active workers have realized this fact and already the orders promise to break all records in the circulation line. But they must do much more than break the record. They should set a record that will stand for several years to come.

There are nearly three thousand locals and branches of locals in the United States. Not a single one of these but can profitably use a thousand of this issue. It will be compiled and printed with but one object in view—to present just the sort of facts and logic that are best suited this year to convince the workingman, and especially the trade unionist of the necessity of voting the Socialist ticket.

It will do far more effective work than any single speaker could do, for it will contain the words of various speakers, approaching the subject from different points of view.

GOLF LINKS VS. HAY FIELDS

BY MILA TUPPER MAYNARD.

Oh, no! But Wellman managed to find two different ways of saying that the rabble must be toadied in order to make them forget that Taft is of the "higher classes."

"Bah, how sickening!" It will not do to call the two antagonistic economic classes, but the policy of a candidate for the presidency must be governed by the silly snobishness of social class prejudice.

So Taft must forget the golf links and cultivate his big smile and the glad hand.

Two months of this is ample no doubt to convince the horny-handed that Taft is not "stuck up" and hence will make a good president.

UNCONSCIOUS SOCIALISTS

THE MOUNTAINS.

BY E. JEROME BEYER.

It always thunders in the mountains. This is a sentence culled from the love letter of a little Jewish girl who today is celebrating her nineteenth birthday in Wiley, Wyoming.

It was a beautiful letter; it was a letter which showed the pure heart and the unselfish soul of the girl. It was a letter which showed the first part of a very splendid letter.

But the little Jewish girl, writing to her sweetheart, had not yet solved the mystery of the fact that it was always thundering in the mountains. True, there was never any rain. But there was a great deal of thunder.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Lancashire Motherhood

BY ALICE HART

While perusing my local paper, my attention was attracted by a report of an inquest held in one of the smaller Lancashire towns. The case was that of a little girl aged ten, who had died as the result of her clothing catching fire.

The coroner is summing up suggested there was "no blame" to be attached to anyone and preached a homily on the need for "fireguards." Being a parent myself I agree as to the necessity for fireguards where young children are exposed to any danger of catching fire.

After walking out a few times in company the decision to get married. Both are in good work, earning fair wages, so why should they wait? A house of furniture is easily obtained on the hire system; the knot is tied and the night is retired to their matrimonial life. They commence for the woman a new life of worry.

With a precocity above her years, but common-sense among Lancashire children, in whom precociousness is early developed, she decided to "tidy up" before mother returned from work.

Turning out the two younger children, and locking the door to prevent their re-entry and their mother's efforts futile, she went through, in her little womanly way, the process of "cleaning up." In her endeavors to clean off the high mantelshelf her clothing caught fire and the poor child, unable to get in her mad terror, was slowly burned to death before assistance could reach her.

Let us look at the circumstances surrounding the home life in the manufacturing towns of Lancashire. When a woman is about to become a mother she is debarr'd from following her employment in the mill during the last month of her pregnancy. This is a rule quite as much honored in the breach as in the observance.

Cases have been known where women have worked almost to the hour previous to confinement. While the children are little, they are taken out to nurse, but as soon as they are old enough to go to school, the money expended on nursing is required for other purposes, and the children in consequence are left much to themselves.

Home life in Lancashire! I defy anyone to prove there is any. Three parts of the women are neurotic and at forty they are unable to do any thing but bring out the best that is in one under such conditions as these?

One of the best branch meetings the danger has been was in the twilight ward last Tuesday night. Although this branch has but one woman member, the members succeeded in bringing out a good crowd by distributing hand bills announcing the meeting.

A number of women brought their children and listened very closely to the arguments for suffrage and the necessity of joining the party. This branch, besides taking up a collection for the work of the Women's Committee, bought booklets for free distribution among the women visitors, and promised to donate some of the profits if there are any from the picnic to be given by the branch on August 23. Here, as elsewhere, the men are awake to the necessity of giving the ballot to women and are willing to push the work as rapidly as possible.

The Thirty-first ward branch asks for a woman speaker once or twice a month and will give the collection and literature privileges to the Women's Committee every time a woman speaker is sent. This branch is the first one to take action along the line of suggested last week, and will hold a meeting to be set aside for a rally meeting when women are specially invited and either a speaker will instruct them in the principles of Socialism or short talks will be given by the visiting speakers on a topic that will interest the women especially. This branch has set aside the last Wednesday night of every month for such meetings.

Two of the wards revisited the past week and applied to the Women's Committee from the women who attended the previous meeting. I must urge upon the members the necessity of keeping this matter constantly before their minds, and by nagging, but by helping with the housework and the care of children, that a little time may be given to reading and talking about Socialism. The end we are striving for is a great many hearties, and time, but a great sympathy.

Among the women I have visited this week was a very intelligent, colored woman, a probation officer, who is much interested in Socialism. She is a member of the Daily Socialist, and is a willing and anxious to work among her friends in the cause of Socialism.

Organization Work Among Women

BY MAY WALDEN.

The street meetings continue with unabated interest. They are well attended, many women being seen in the crowd, and prove themselves very earnest listeners. There is a greater demand for speakers than can be supplied. The new leaflets furnished by the National Woman's Committee are being distributed as well as copies of the Daily Socialist, at every meeting. Collections are normal and help out considerably in paying for the literature.

awakened and eager to listen. Our greatest need is for messengers to carry the word! Comrades, are there not more of you who will help?

"You were always a fault finder," growled the wife.

"Yes, dear," responded the husband, meekly. "I found you."

Artist—"Among my dearest treasures is the watch my father carried when he was a young man."

"Bright—"Would you mind letting me see it?"

"Artist—"Certainly not; but it is temporarily in the possession of my father's brother."

In the parlor there were three: Girl, the parlor lamp and he. Two is company, no doubt. That is why the lamp went out.

"This," said the party with the unbarbered hair, as he pulled a manuscript from his pocket, "is a fugitive poem."

"Why do you call it a fugitive poem?"

"Artist—"I exclaimed the versifier, "every time I hand it to a publisher I have to run for my life."

VOTES BUT NO PENNIES

By Robert Hunter

There is one thing which more than any other proves the degeneracy of American politics. That thing is not corruption, nor machine rule, nor empty bombast. It is the almost perfect apathy which exists among the rank and file of both parties.

You may tell me that the people vote for the two old parties, and they do. But that does not convince me.

Why is it that at this moment poor Bryan must beg the rank and file to contribute a few pennies to his campaign fund? And why is it that only one or two thousand will contribute?

Bryan appeals pathetically to the farmers, the wage-earners, and the small business man to come to his aid.

Taft and Sherman make no such appeal. And they expect those whom they serve to finance their campaign.

Bryan wants everybody to contribute to his campaign. He says he will not take more than $10,000 from any corporation; but he wants Wall Street, the big corporations, the "nigger" haters of the south and the "nigger," the harvest trust and the farmer, the employer and the wage-worker, the franchise thieves and their victim, the public—all to aid his campaign.

But curiously enough only the corporations and a few thousand little capitalists and little business men are aiding him.

And where are the people? Do they own a party or finance a party? And if they do not own or finance a party how can they expect a party to serve them?

Does any one expect Tom Taggart, Boggs Sullivan, Johnny Powers, Charlie Murphy or Fingy Connors to serve them without pay? These men are not in politics for their health. They say so frankly, and they mean what they say. They are not altogether bad men. They are like other business men.

And they are not without honor. They serve those from whom they receive their pay. They might even serve the people if the people owned and controlled them.

The Democratic machine needs money. That money has to be supplied by somebody. And the one who supplies the money is the one who owns the machine.

Yet the people cannot devise any way in the Republican or the Democratic party to own and control these machines. They feel that contributions would be thrown away and, therefore, despite Mr. Bryan's popularity, they will not contribute to the Democratic party.

It is really an amazing situation, that signifies nothing if not the utter degeneracy of the two old political parties.

MOULDING PUBLIC OPINION

BY DUNCAN McDONALD.

No one can successfully deny that today the most potent factor in the moulding of public opinion is the press, daily and weekly.

The American people are a news-reading people and their opinions are biased, largely on what ideas are gleaned from their favorite papers.

How bitter one feels when one knows that the great capitalist dailies are willfully and intentionally ignoring or suppressing the truth, the facts, the vital concern to the workers and continually misrepresenting their cause.

Instead, they fill their columns with the rant and cant of an imbecile aristocracy with their magnificent display of glittering tinsel representing the wealth stolen from the actual producers of wealth, with all its attendant suffering, misery and degradation.

The swell functions, weddings and so forth at which millions are squandered in order to later furnish material for the divorce courts and more scandal.

What choice reading this for the in-down-and-out, out-of-work, half-starved worker, as if adding insult to injury by flaunting this gorgeous spectacle before his eyes.

How much longer are you going to continue to support such tommy-rot that is an insult to your intelligence?

How soon are you going to redouble your energy for the only papers that represent your interests, that reflect your views and help mould public opinion—the Socialist press?

How much longer are you going to take a little at the cute poor boy, who had been found in Washington Park and who had been nicknamed "Buster." It was not the poverty nor the circumstances under which the boy had been brought up that is an insult to your intelligence?

Oh, no, there is plenty of that in the slums of Chicago, where the poor suffering people live and pray that their children be taken away from them and brought up to be good men and women. They need not go to Harrison street to see that.

They had come for the sake of notoriety. The boy had been made famous through the papers and any family adopting him would be heralded as a good Samaritan. Then the poor little beggar is so cute, you know. The papers say so.

The management of the Studebaker theater arranged for a special "Buster night" and the child was taken to the performance in an automobile, while old-time playmates of his stood around and surveyed him enviously and wished their own children would be like him.

Such were the sentiments aroused in their poor, ill-nourished little brains. They would have liked to see the show, but no, they were not "Busters," over whom the papers and society women went into ecstasies. They were only the common poor trash of the slums.

At the theater "Buster" was given a box by the management and large posters announced the fact that it was "Buster night." People flocked to see the boy who had been abandoned by his parents, while hundreds of starving children stood around and in front of the place, watching for their lucky companion. Children who had shared his hardships—these the theater cared not for. They couldn't draw an audience. They had not been made conspicuous by the papers.

After the performance Buster was brought to the front of the stage and held up before the audience who rose to its feet and cheered long and loud. It cheered, cheered the stinky who had been abandoned by his unfortunate parents, who were at that moment spilling their tears over the heart-breaking event and wondering which child they would have to abandon next, for money was just as scarce as ever.

Then Buster was given a day at Waverly park. It was "Buster Brown" day and once more the people came and cheered as the child was given the gate receipts about $175. His parents and two brothers were at that moment starving at home and crying over their little Clarence Crump.

REPUBLICAN'S OPINION

I have followed with much interest the issue presented by the Socialist propaganda...
