New Haven Communist Faces Trial

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 22. -For distributing literature attacking the Citizens' Military Training Camps, John Steuben, district organizer, Young Workers (Communist) League, has been arrested. Steuben will go on trial Tuesday morning, and, according to the local press, the federal authorities and the local police will co-operate "in the suppression of Young Workers League propaganda to the fullest extent."

The arrested worker is charged with placing stickers on the city hall walls and on army recruiting signs defining the Citizens' Military Training Camps as agencies for militarizing the youth in preparation for the next war.

Realize Imperialists Will Fight Program

(Special to The Daily Worker) MOSCOW, April 22.-After hearing Litvinoff's report on the activities of the Soviet delegation at the preparatory disarmament commission conference at Geneva, the Central Executive Committee of the Soviet Union unanimously adopted a resolution approving the activities of the delegation.

The resolution pointed out that while the Soviet Union continued to defend the program of complete disarmament as the only possible means of preventing the danger of armed conflicts between the nations and as expressing the fundamental principles of the peaceful policy of the Soviet Union, it realizes the utter impossibility of carrying thru the program in view of the absolutely hostile attitude of the overwhelming majority of capitalist powers to the project of partial disarmament even tho that proposal incompletely reflected the Soviet Government's desire for peaceful relation between peoples. The project for partial disarmament, however, the resolution points out, would in certain measure diminish the danger of military conflicts and reduce the burden of armaments which is weighing so heavily on the toiling

"Again prolaiming to the whole world the unswerving aspirations of the peoples of the Soviet Union for peaceful relations with all other peoples and the Soviet Government's firm resolve to exert all efforts for the complete and definite elimination of all war as a means of settling disputes between states, the Centra! Executive Committee charges the government to continue to defend the program for complete disarmament without neglecting the slightest opportunity of attaining even partial and temporary results in this respect," the resolution declares.

(Special to The Daily Worker) CANTON, April 22.-Workers and peasants have taken control of two towns in the vicinity of Canton, according to reports received here.

With the recent successes of the worker-peasant troops near Swatow and the establishment of Soviet governments in numerous villages and towns in the vicinity of this city, Canton trade unions have begun to operate semi-openly.

General Li Chai-sum who went to Shanghai to confer with the Kuomintang leaders, has returned here.

SHANGHAI, April 22.—The protest against the despatch of Japanese troops to Shantung province threatens to take on the form of a boycott against Japanese goods. Trade union and peasant organizations have issued proclamations denouncing the action of Japan and urging a boycott. The Kuomintang authorities here are opposing any move which might be interpreted as hostile by the Japanese government.

The capture of Tsinan, capital of Shantung province by the Kuomintang troops, is reported as imminent.

WITH STENCH AND FILTH IN PLANTS

Fight for Organization Despite Firm's Terror

(By a Worker Correspondent.) The workers at the Gobel-Kearns plants in New York are beginning to organize. While working conditions are in general bad in the entire bologna-making industry, the Gobel-Kearns plants are the worst of all in sanitary conditions, low wages and the unmasked brutality they show to the workingmen.

Most of the workers receive 50 cents an hour and a man has to slave from three to four years for the bologna kings before his wages are raise dto 621/2 cents an hour. TRIAL OF FOUR WINDOW WASHERS STARTS TUESDAY

Chicago Pickets Arrested; Police Aid Scabs

(Special to The Daily Worker)

CHICAGO, April 22.—The trial of four striking window washers, members of Local 34, who were arrested April 5 in a clash with scabs and armed gangsters, will start Tuesday. The four strikers, Joseph Laurenca Isaac Artrowsky, John Maurek and Boris Stevens, are now out on a $5,-600 bond.

The clash occurred when the four pickets, who had been on strike for 11 weeks, attempted to dissuade five scabs from washing windows. The scabs, employed by the World Window Cleaning Co., and protected by guards and sluggers, attempted to wash the windows of the Tribune Building, at Madison and Dearborn Sts., in Chicago's loop. Despite the fact that the scabs were armed with window washers' sticks, etc., and were protected by the guards and sluggers, who carried blackjacks and guns, one of the nickets proceeded to call them

Police Help Scabs.

The scabs resented this and a clash immediately followed. In the fight which lasted about 15 minutes, the pickets put up a most courageous fight, but were finally forced to retreat on the arrival of reenforcements of police and plainclothes men from the detective bureau.

The four pickets were arrested This arrest was the beginning of a reign of terror and intimidation lasted over a period of 30 hours. First, the pickets were beaten, roughly handled and tormented. The detective bureau squad ignored the fact that these pickets were ordinary workers, members of a trade union, workers, members of a trade union and treated them like ordinary criminals, provoking them in every postible workers beyond the American labor traditions of the American labor traditions are requested to keep this date sible way.

The bew book of cartoons by the leading American Proletarian Artists

Red Cartoons of 1928

With Introduction by Robert Minor

OR the third year this famous collection of the best work of American artists is issued with all entirely new cartoons-new promising artists among the great ones already in the movement—and a new arrangement of drawings and cartoons. The drawings in "Red Cartoons of 1926" and "Red Cartoons of 1927" have been reprinted time and again in the leading working class papers of the world and in all leading journals. They have inspired workers the world over. They have made them laugh with the gay satire and keen humor. The drawings in the new "Red Cartoons of 1928"even more beautiful, more humorous and satirical, are sure to give even greater pleasure. The book will be ready in 10 days. Ready for May Day!

Harry Sinclair---Sam Bonita

We predicted that Harry Sinclair would be acquitted.

In doing so, we pointed out that the name of the millionaire swindler is neither Sacco nor Vanzetti.

The criminal law couldn't touch Sinclair because the criminal law exists for the protection of the class of which Sinclair is a member and for the crushing or the enemies of that class.

Sinclair is guilty, and everybody knows it. But Sinclair has been acquitted because it is to the interest of the ruling class that he should be acquitted. The fact alone that Sinclair is a multimillionaire many times over was sufficient to ensure his acquittal. But there are other facts which made his acquittal doubly sure.

Sinclair bribed the cabinet of Warren G. Harding, which with slight modifications became and still is the cabinet of Calvin Coolidge. Members of the present Coolidge cabinet handled personally the bribe funds of Sinclair. Coolidge himself solicited funds which came from Sinclair in the form of the stolen property which paid for Coolidge's election to the vice-presidency; and Coolidge today is still president by virtue of the gigantic swindle.

Sinclair is thus not only a member of the class too high to be touched by the criminal law, but also an inseparable part of the ruling "dynasty" of capital.

Sinclair is free, and it is the opinion of the capitalist press that his acquittal is the end of the court actions growing out of the bribery of two administrations of the United States government. The indictment of the other oil millionaire, Edward L. Doheny, for bribing Harding's and Coolidge's secretary of the interior. Albert B. Fall, and the indictment of Fall for accepting the bribe, will be "dropped," the capitalist papers say. Coolidge, Mellon and Hoover have not been indicted, and even the thought of the indictment of any of them is inconceivable.

The machinery of criminal law does not fail to operate in regular fashion when the interests of the class which controls that machinery are at stake.

Now turn over the picture; here is a view of the trial of Sam Bonita, a representative of the working class, a man engaged in leading the struggle of the anthracite coal miners against the capitalists who operate these mines.

The machinery of the law in that case also did not fail to work. Just as Sinclair was known to be guilty of bribery in millions, Sam Bonita was known to be innocent of any crime. Yet Sam Bonita was convicted and condemned to suffer twelve years in a hell-hole of prison on the ground that he did not let himself metaphysical justice, not "justice-above-the classes," but actual justice as it is meted out in the United States of America in 1928. It is the justice of the ruling class—capitalist class justice. The workers must fight to save their own champions from capitalist "justice," and in the struggle learn how to overthrow the ruling class of Sinclairs, Coolidges and Mellons.

The Coal Miners' Wives

At no place and at no time have the women of our class played a more heroic role than that which has been played by the coal miners' wives, sisters and daughters in the big struggles in the coal fields during the past twenty years.

May Day in Switzerland

By Fred Ellis

The Swiss workers, just like all vorkers all over the world, also had fight hard to achieve the right to elebrate May First. Solidarity and united energy lead to victory, and thus there is hardly a hamlet to be found in Switzerland in which May First is not celebrated by a complete, essation of work.

Even the governmental instituions—railways, post, telegraph, etc., were forced to reduce service on the First of May as on other holidays. No employe can be penalized if he doesn't show up for work on May

In the larger industrial towns the First of May has been declared a legal holiday. There the police have relieved our comrades of the job which they used to have when in the early hours of the morning they would march through the industrial quarters, do picket duty, and kept the veaklings and vacillating elements from work.

But it was not always so. Heavy fighting, which inevitably led to clashes with the police, was demanded. The offices of the Party and of the trade unions used to look like the offices of the general staff of the army. The whole membership was mobilized and five o'clock in the morning they gathered to be assigned to march to the various factories.

The young comrades, under the leadership of several strong adult comrades, undertock to close the stores and shops.

But at noon, when the demonstration paraded through the streets, no one dared any longer to resist the mass will of the working class. Each year there was less for us to do, for the employers gradually came to realize that it is much better to put a good face on a bad situation and they no longer even opened up their places of business.

On May First the streets belong to the working class. The working class has achieved this right by fighting for it, and the results of these demonstrations have opened the eyes of unnumbered workers and bound them closer with the class front of the workers. The victory of the First of May is an example of how the victory of the proletariat can be fought cut. Stand together-don't be frightened-endure and march forwards, and thus we will attain our goal. Should not that which is possible
