The class struggle is epidemic. But is class and industrial la-organization?

Most modern epidemics are traceable to social and economic conditions. The class struggle epidemic is caused by the class di-visions of capitalism. It is another disease of capitalism.

If labor had an epidemic of real class-conscious industrial or-zation, instead of numerous revolts and A. F. of L. flare-ups, ould be goodbye capitalism.

In many states, working class families are suffering infantile tralysis. U. S. A. capitalism, however, seems in no danger of direct paralysis just now. The old reliable arbitration chloro-im is being prepared once more.

What is industrial unionism? It means to organize according to industry instead of trades or crafts. And according to product instead of the tool used. It would unite industry with industry for united working class action when necessary. Unlike trades—unionism which regards the present system as a finality, industrial unionism regards the present system as as the pin industrial development. It accordingly organizes for a better social system as the outgrowth of that now existing. Industrial unionism is I. W. W.ism.

Unrest Epidemic

"Labor troubles multiply and threaten to take the place-of the European war and politics as our chief topic of interest," says the National Provisioner, official organ of the American Meat Packers' Association. "Fortunately the meat industry has not been largely invloved in these troubles, except as they affect all business."

National Provisional Professional Profession

The South's progress along agricultural and industrial control, the workers must organize in industry.

Where Labor Must Conquer

To conquer industrial control, the workers must organize in industry.

Industrial control in this country, is only possible through file capture of the giant industrial corporations. They are most largely located East of the Missiasippi of the est the I. W. W. Without the organization of the Freat industries existing within this territory, the ideals of the I. W. W. are impossible of realization.

The organization of the big industrial centers of the East and Middle West is not impossible, despite the formidable character of the expitalism existing therein. This is obvious from the strension. And from the numerous strikes regardless of such tactics.

The I. W. W. has conducted much agitation and many strikes in these centers, without organization results of any great importance. This should not prove discouraging, as it is also true of the formal strikes of the should only provide the should be a supportance. This should not prove discouraging, as it is also true of the first of the should not prove discouraging, as it is also true of the first of the should not prove discouraging, as it is also true of the first of the should not prove discouraging, as it is also true of the first of the should not prove discouraging, as it is also true of the first of the should not prove discouraging, as it is also true of the first of the first nese strikes prove that an open field exists for at will manage to triumph over this difficult riumph is only likely to come after oft-repeat-apts, productive of greater class experience,

The results of all these strikes prove that an open field exists for the organization that will manage to triumph over this difficult situation. Such a triumph is only likely to come after oft-repeated and futile attempts, productive of greater class experience, knowledge, ability and action.

Just now the migratory workers are achieving great results in the harvest fields. They are rolling up.1. W. W. members by the thousands and developing organizers of ability. These migratory workers will drift hack to the cities in a few more weeks. It is hoped that the zeal and enthusiasm in behalf of the I. W. W. which characterises their activities in the summer will anot be permitted togo to sleep in the fall, winter and spring. The migratory workers should not drift back to the cities ont as they have conquered John Small Fall. The management of the control of the cities of the control of the control welcoment may be.

The I. W. W. has certainly got to rise triumphantly over the great trusts that abound in the middle west and east, or else admit great trusts that the strategic battlefield is where the trusts loom large; not where the small farmers are most abundant.

Solidarity

For ages orators have proclaimed and poets have sung of the coming brotherhood of man. Revolutionists and idealists have dided with this vision before them. One who said that he had come to to bring peace, but a swops into the world has been held up by truckling preachers as the sider brother under whose influence workingmen and employers might join forgether in well well the working mean and employers might join forgether in well the working them and employers might join forgether in well the working das since the propaganda around the idea of brotherhood or sisterhood, seeking to remove the consciousness of class division caused by economic inequality. All these movements must fail in their object, because their spiritual ideal never connects with its material basis. Between those who live by their connects with its material basis. Between those who live by their connects with its material basis. Between those who live by their connects with its material basis. Between those who live by their connects with its material basis. The social parasite may vaguely glimpse the vision, but he form the commonality of men and has not the true social perspective. The working class and the semploying class have nothing in the cannever experience the meaning of protherhood, for he is can rever experience the meaning of protherhood, for he is can rever experience the meaning of protherhood for he cannever common. Great numbers of the control of the material of the working class and the semploying class have nothing in the last state of their degradation to kiss the cross upon which labor is cruefied. From such elements of the material protection, and ab

Red's The International

(Tune: The Red Flag)
Today the world divided stands
Divided into many lands.
In every land a different tongue,
A different National hymn is sung.

CHORUS

But there's a nation everywhere,
Of men who brave and do and dare.
Their flag flies far and always shall,
For Red's the International.

The slaves of every clime have come To hail the flag of freedom.
To east the chains from off their hands, In One Big Union unite the lands.
REPEAT CHORUS

If man be born mid ice and snow, O'er neath the tropic's sun aglow, He's still a brother unto me, If he is fighting to be free. REPEAT CHORUS

So courage, brothers, take your stand, In one big union unite the lands. Don't let the lag of freedom fall, But float it high on every wall. REPEAT CHORUS
