To Cut Down Wages

For three years I have been press-ing in a local laundry and dry clean-ing plant. On Saturday I was fired on account of asking for a raise. I said to my foreman: "I have so much to do here on Saturday, looks like you would raise my wage a little."

He said: "To hell with you. I can

Just a few lines to the SOUTH-ERN WORKER to inform you and all others who read the paper that the working class around Charlotte is getting capitalist sick. They see very plainly that the system cannot last much longer. The workers are tired of hearing such bunk as farm relief and charity relief.

This so-called charify around Charlotte is a capitalist joke. It is only to make the rich grafters richer. There are hundreds in this town who need help and yet charity never comes to their home. I arrived in New Orleans on October 7, via freight train from Galves-ton, Texas, having observed the conditions of shipping in that port and in Houston, Beaumont, Lake Charles, and now in this city also. The same prevails in all the gulf ports. Sea-men's Institutees that harbor finks, stool pigeons, gas hounds, wolves and perverts. Few real seamen patronize these joints as they are unfit places for recreation. And along with the institutes go the bootlegging joints and brothels, and, of course, there is always a bull pen close by. What a fine environment for a sailor! The irony of it is that the so-called uplifting and charity organizations spon-sor these institutes.

I was arrested here on October 7, while walking thru "parasites' grove" which is called Canal Street. I was booked on a charge of vagrancy and on the following day was sentenced to 30 days in jail or a fine of $10.00. Not having the ten I was promptly locked up with about 15 other unfortunates. In the meantime, 5 Negroes were thrown in the same cell. They fined $5.00 or thirty days in jail. They were booked on the city anitary law for not cleaning t

On the Path of The Bolshevik Revolution

Thirteen years have passed since the overthrow of tsardom and the creation of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. Under the leadership of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union the Russian workers and peasants enter upon the fourteenth year of the most important process in history onstruction of Socialism.

It was first necessary for the Russian masses to overthrow the old ex-ploiting system by force. The great Bolshevik Revolution did not just happen. It was preceded by years of careful preparation and organization, in the process of which a Party of steel was organized. The Party which pre pared the masses for the revolution, led them to victory, and is now leading them in the construction of a socialist society, is the Bolshevik Party. At its head stood Lenin. It was a revolution which not only changed the entire structure of Russia, but is having a tremendous effect thruout the world. It is the beacon light of the exploited and suppressed masses in every capitalist and colonial country. Today Soviet Russia rises above the world as a tremendous proletarian force, an inspiration and guiding example. It covers one-sixth of the earth's surface—just a beginning—for it will not be fin-ally complete until the other five-sixths of the earth are included in the Intional Soviets.

Tremendous steps are being made in that direction. First of all, the work ers and peasants in the Soviet Union are rapidly building a powerful so-cialistic structure of industry and farming, capable of withstanding capi-talist onslaught. While 20,000,000 workers in capitalist countries are going through all the misery of mass starvation due to unemployment, there is no loyment in the Soviet Union.

In China a workers' and peasants' revolution is fully on the way with a number of provinces under Soviet rule already. In India the masses are in sopen revolt against the imperialism of the British Labor Party and against sopen revolt against the imperialism of the British Labor Party and against their own misleaders. In Germany, the workers under the leadership of the Communist Party, are girding themselves for the great struggle with capitalism. All the capitalist powers, including the United States, are shaky and weak from the effects of the world economic crisis. Mass discontent grows. Conditions are rapidly being created in all capitalist countries, which sooner or later will only be able to be solved by a revolutionary struggle.

Just as the Russian Bolshevik Party saw the revolution in Russia coming and prepared for it organizationally and politically, so must the workers and farmers in this country prepare themselves to strike the death blow to capitalism and sieze power for themselves. Organization into powerful revolutionary unions, the strengthening of the Communist Party in the factorolutionary unions, the strengthening of the Communist Party in the factor ies and mines thruout the country are preparatory steps. In the process of fighting back every attack of the bosses, of gaining immediate deas unemployment insurance, the 7-hour day, and 5-day week, higher pay and better working conditions, the organization of the working class is strengthened. The demands of the workers and poor farmers can only be strengthened. The demands of the workers and poor farmers can only by fully satisfied when the present system is overthrown. That must be our final sim, as it is the final aim of revolutionary workers throut the world, as it was the final aim of the Russian workers who achieved it successfully.

The Bond of Solidarity Grows Stronger

In the Conferences against Lynching, one already held in Charlotte, N. C. and the other to be held in Chattanooga, on November 9, a very decisive and important step has been taken by white and Negro Southern workers. The organizations that participate in these conferences fully realize that lynch -the by-product of the whole system of super-exploitation of the Negro masses-can only be successfully and effectively fought by the united power of the white and Negro workers.

The delegates who came to the Charlotte conference and those who will ne to the Chattanooga conference from many points in the South are come to the Chattanooga conference from many points in the Donger fooled by he tactics of bourgeois inter-racial commissions and upper-class Negro organizations who pretend to carry on a fight against lynching. Such measures as a Foderal Anti-Lynching bill advocated by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Urban League are tomfoolery of the vilest kind, for it is the government agencies them-selves which not only countenance lynching as an accepted policy of the ruling class but in many instances organize and aid lynching parties. Any at-tempt by anyone to create the slightest confidence in the government as in any way willing or able to do away with lynching is the highest treachery.

The Conferences called by the American Negro Labor Congress, on other hand, hold forth no such illusions for the masses. They clearly recog-nize the class character of lynching and the whole jim-crow system, and dealize that any effective fight against lynch law must be at the same time a fight against the capitalist system of exploitation.

No step made by the workers of the South towards liberation from wage slavery and for the immediate improvement of their conditions can b unless that step is taken by the white and colored workers together. That is the only method by which lasting gains can be made. It is first necessary to destroy that edifice of "white supremacy" and the wall of segregation built so carefully by the ruling class. That color line is being wiped out by unemployment and starvation which draws no line between races-altho it is exactly at this time when the white rulers intensify lynch law persecutions in order to prevent an effective fight against unemployment by the workers. White workers are beginning to understand that lynching is a weapon used against them also, not only in the sense that they see militant white workers killed by boss men, but also in the sense that they understand the underlying purpose of the lynching of Negro workers and farmers, that a rope placed around any worker's neck—be he black or white—is strangulation for all.

That there more white delegates than Negro delegates at the Charlotte Conference Against Lynching is a sign of this understanding. The white workers of the South are beginning to grasp the hand of their fellow Negro gro killed another Negro where I gro killed another Negro where I (To Be Continued Next Week)

Workers and Farmers Build Their Own Country----USSR

During the last few weeks the Soviet workers celebrated the comple-tion of the first giant projects con-structed under the Five Year Plan for the rapid industrialization of the Soviet Union. The achievements of the first year of this plan and the present pace of construction, show beyond the shadow of a doubt the ability of the Soviet workers to build their own industries and develop their own country along the lines of socialism.

Great Achievements

It has been shown that the Soviet workers can construct tremendous industrial giants, equal to the largest ones in the world. The great nthusiasm and victorious desire of the Russion workers achieve ne and bigger accomplishments Tremendous steps are being taken constructing a powerful socialist country, under conditions which do permit unemployment, which steadily increase the wages workers, lower the working hours and improve the standard of living of the masses tremendously. That is the only country in the world in which it is appening today.

Three great accomplishments the Soviet workers stand out - the Turksib railroad, the Stalingrad Trac or plant and a tremendous plant for the manufacture of farm machinery In addition there are the new tracto plants and automobile factory in Nij ni Novgorod, new metal foundries and the largest electric power statio: in Europe at Dneiprostory.

A Great Railroad

Over 55,000 workers overcoming most insurmountable difficulties uilt the Turksib Railroad-900 miles of tracks across desert and over mountains, connecting the isolated middle Asia with Siberia. Pitching into the work with all their force and enthusiasm the workers completed he road 18 months ahead of schedule. Only workers building for themselves mendous importance to the entire Soviet Union, for it enables the peasants they had to grow grain in middle As-ia in order to have bread and permit this very valuable cotton land idle. It means more and better clothing for the workers thruout the viet Union. The railroad changes the whole face of things in these tracts of land. Higher standards of living, advanced proletarian culture, is being brought to the tribesmen and peasants of this region. In the Soviet Union a railroad does not mean more profits for a boss, but general im-provement for the masses, who built and own the railroad.

"Steel Horses"

The giant tractor plant constructed in Stalingrad is one of the largest in the world and is of the greatest value to the peasants of the Soviet Union. For the new farm collectives, which include most of the poor peasantry in Russia who are working their land in common, demanded these "steel horses" with which to plow vast stretches of fertile land, plant and harvest it. Altho the plant was not to be completed until 1932, so great was the demand of the peasants for tractors that the Soviet workers jumped into the work with enthusiasm and the plant produced its first tractor in June, 1930, two years ahead of schedule! When the plant will be finally completed it will turn out 137 tractors a day!

Anothe giant plant, producing hay rakes, tractor plows, binding machines, scythes, harrows, etc., was recently finished in the city of Rostov-Don, three and one months earlier than scheduled one-half with a saving of over $1,000,000 due to the careful planning of the workwho built it. The output of this plant is greater than the output of the Internaional Harvesting in the Unit-ed States. This plant is also of the greatest value to the Soviet peasants. who are building their agriculture along socialist lines.

Thus, every great industrial achieve ment in the Soviet Union, made possi-ble by the work and enthusiasm of the workers, always results in greater and can do this. This railroad is of tre-ean do this. This railroad is of tre-in middle Asia to grow cotton and re-locive their grain and food from Si-greater profits for the bosses and beria, the great grain center. The Reds Say--

By JIM ALLEN

In this issue, fellow-workers, will read an article by Dewey Martin, who has just returned from the Soviet Union where he was sent as a delegate by the N. T. W. U. to the delegate by the N. T. W. U. to the World Congress of the Red Interna-tional of Labor Unions. Comrade Martin never heard of the Reds un-til Fred Beal came into Gastonia and organized a local of the N. T. When the strike was called in the Loray mill, Dewey Martin was one of the first out and was one of the most militant of the strikers. He lat er became an organizer for the Union, and worked in and around Gastonia until he left for Moscow as a delegate a few months ago. Now he is back to lead textile workers.

If Comrade Martin don't mind, we will devote the column this week to Dewey Martin. Not to Dewey Martin as a tall lanky individual, with per-sonal likes and dislikes, but to Dewey Martin, the Southern textile worker, who was given a new aim in life by the Gastonia strike. Get me straight

—I don't consider Dewey a hero, or anything like that. We just want to draw a few lessons from the development of this comrade, who in a very short time saw beyond the slavery at the Loray Mill in Gastonia, broke thru all the prejudices thrust upon him by the mill barons, and devoted himself to that great struggle

Take Dewey Martin as a symbol for any Southern worker—as a tex-tile worker, or a miner, or a steel worker, or a metal worker or a farmhand—and you will get what I mean Yesterday he was a slave at the machine, grumbling, wearied, with nothing to look forward to. Today he is a militant worker, knowing that all these things can be changed, and that it lies in his power to change it. Yes terday his views were restricted to Gastonia, what the bosses at Greensboro, or High Point, or at any of the other places he worked wanted them restricted to. Today he has a world view, knowing of the strug-gles of the workers in all countries, knowing of the sameness of their exploitation and also of the unity their fight for freedom. Yesterday he thought that his strength could only be measured by the strength of h two arms, or at most the strength of only the workers in the community. Today he knows that his strength is measured by the strength of the in ternational proletariat. From a submissive slave at a machine our Souhern textile worker has developed inclass conscious revolutionary worker, a native leader of the Southern workers, devoting his whole life to the revolution. In his person the extremely exploited textile workers of the South have participated in World Congress of revolutionary labor in Moscow, and seen with their own eyes the accomplishments of the first Workers' and Farmers' Government. From slavery to freedom—that is the path that Dewey Martin points out to his fellow Southern toilers, in city and on farm, for black and white.

There are more Dewey Martin the South and there will be more. The great suffering of the ploited, the whip of unemploy and starvation, the grinding spe the revolutionary leaders in th militant and the most coura Like Dewey Martin they out of our struggles and then
