STRIKE COMMITTEE DEPLORES EXPLOSION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 2 .- The strike committee of the metal trades, members of which have been on strike months, and between which organization and the Times there has een great bitterness, has issued the following statement: : :

The union labor men in Los Angeles deplore deeply the loss of life and injury in the explosion and fire at the Times plant. The unions declare that the statement in the Times that the explosion was caused by some per-son or persons connected with organ-ized labor here or elsewhere is false. Ever since the beginning of union labor here violence of every sort has been condemned in puelic and private. No union man has been permitted to commit any act of violence, be it ever so slight, nor have the unions failed rigorously to demand that their members obey the laws.

"We believe that success can be won only by peaceful reasoning and showing the laboring man his rights and duties.

"We therefore, deny unequivocally that the unions or any union man in our knowledge had anything to do with any violence against the Times employes or property.
"We stand ready an

"There have been corrupt votes in the American Congress. There have been servile votes in the American Congress, but I stand here and tell you never was a more servile and slavish vote cast in your Congress by your representatives than when, under the lash of Dalzell, the slave driver of Pennsylvania, your representatives voted under the lead of that Tammany Democrat to bind that corrupt bargain with Tammany and the

New York machine."
Those are the words of a Republican representative. Victor Murdock. and brutal power of the notorious Republican boss. Joe Cannon, of Illiother Western Republicans had man-hood enough to fight Cannon. Cannon has ruled his "Republican"

When Dalzell the slave driver, says your vote is nay, our distinguished Representatives, E. Stevens Henry, E. W. Higgins, Ebenezer J. Hill, N. D. Sperry and John Quillan Tilson, obedirose to vote nav.

Connecticut has no representative in thinks our representatives think. And our five representatives are exactly five expensive and magnificent parrot who can say yea and nay. They can say it quickly, accurately and melodi-ously as soon as Dalzell, of Pennsyl-vania, nods or Cannon can send a note o their desks.

Now these men are very big men in Connecticut. To the simple souls of ngton it is different. In Washingto they are ornamental instruments who never say anything but yes and nay. And so in the recent fight on Can-non this is what happened.

VILLAGE FIRE-SWEPT.

Seven Business Blocks and Ten House Burned in Camden.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct, 2 .- The village of Camden, a thriving farming community, ten miles north of Rome, was nearly wiped out by fire, early today. The blaze started in the Whitney se from an unexplained cause, and before it was brought under control twenty buildings, including seven busi-ness blocks and ten residences, were educed to ashes.

The Camden fire department, reinforced by a large detachment of firenen and several pieces of apparatus from Rome, fought the flames several iours, but were handicapped in their hours, but were handicapped in their efforts by insufficient water pressure. The Whitney house, in which the sames started, was the scene of a fire a month ago, and the structure was nearly destroyed at that time. Incendiarism is hinted at in connection with today's fire, but nothing tangible along this line has developed. The loss will exceed $100,000. eed $100,000.

WORKER STRUCK DOWN

BY AUTO AND KILLED

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 2 .-Westchester county has another automobile murder case in the killing of Charles Meyers by a machine on the Tarrytown road, a mile from White Plains. Meyers died in the White Plains Hospital this morning. The automobile did not stop.

Meyers and his unphew, John Lynch, left their home at 46 Bronx street. White Plains, Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, to go to Eimsford, where they expected to obtain work as lathers. They were employed to go to work on Monday, and leaving Eims-ford at 7 o'clock started to walk home.

They had gone about two miles when a large gray tou...g car dashed around a curve in the road before them. The car was traveling in the direction of Tarrytown. The two men were on the side of the road. The was nearer the center of the road than Lynch, and the machine struck him and threw him to the opposite side of the road against a rall fence.
Lynch lifted Meyers and placed him on the side of the road. He then waited for a trolley car, which he knew was about due on its way to White Plains. In a few minutes it came along. He hailed the motorman and asked him to bring his uncle, who conscious, to the Plains Hospital.

Plains Hospital.

Just then another touring car, coming in the direction of White Plains, with only the chauffeur, driving, stopped to inquire what had happened. He volunteered to take Meyers in his nachine to the hospital. The offer was ccepted.

At the hospital Meyers was attended by Drs. Black and Purdy, who found that his whole left side had been crushed in. He was still conscious when taken in the hospital, but lapsed into unconsciousness an hour later, and died at 2 o'clock this morning.

Meyers leaves a wife and two girls, two and ten years old. It was only on Saturday afternoon that he moved into his new home at 46 Bronx street.

ROASTS L'ABOR MEN

Replying to Compers, Issues Statemen Shaking Supreme Court Club Ov. r The r Heads.

The recent settlement of the long standing dispute between the Buck Stove and Range Company and the American Federation of Labor, ending in the great victory of organized labor, will not result in a discontinuance of the suit between the company and the Federation officers now before the Supreme Court of the United States. On the contrary, the case will be "prosecuted to a finish." according to a bulletin issued by the American Anti-Boycott Association.

The association, which has offices n this city at 27 William street, was formed some years ago to prevent labor unions from violating the law and has secured what it calls a number of important decisions.

In its bulletin Chairman Charles H. Merritt calls attention to a statement made by Samuel Gompers in the September number of the American Federationist to the effect that the lawyers for the American Federa tion of Labor had expressed absolute confidence that its contentions would be sustained by the Supreme Court. and says:

"Our members will be pleased to earn that the cases will be prosecuted to a finish and that Mr. Gompers and his two associates will not be relieved from liability to punish ment for their contempt of the federal judiciary, and that this associa tion is about to procure from the undergone during the week a series of highest of human tribunals a final most startling changes. As the 12,000 men employed in the Cambrian coal and decisive opinion involving legal questions of as great importance as were obtained by it in the Danbury hatters' case, when this court of last resort unanimously decided that the Sherman law applied to combinations of labor.

"There will now be decided the question of the right to boycott; the question whether the right of free spread the gospel of coercion and in-timidation for the injury of property rights: the question whether the ourts may issue injunctions to protect business from the ruinous at-tacks of conspirators; the question of the right to punish for contempt of court without a jury trial, and the question of the right to defy an in unction which has not been modi-ied or vacated by appeal or otherwise. In short, may the court pro-tect property by injunction order and uphold its dignity by punishing those who violate such order. These ques-tions of vital importance to the business interests of this country are to be settled by the Supreme Court of the United States in these cases."

The case is the one in which Presi dent Gompers, John Mitchell, and other officers of the Federation sentenced to fail for contempt of court in the District of Columbia in failing to obey an injunction order.

> The two travelers found M. Lapuchit living in Danilovka, a small village some tion, which can only be reached by a carriage journey of seventeen days through desolate region. Lapuchin, who formerly occupied a palatial official residence it the Russian capital, now lives in a little log hut consisting of four rooms, badly lighted, insufficiently ventilated, and too loosely built to afford adequate protection He is now a broken down, feeble, unhahas done his best to make one of his rooms resemble in some degree a study on the wall he has hung in large printed letters, "Thy will be done," to tion before his eyes.

Lapuchin thoroughly believes in the future of Siberia; and remarked to his German visitors that one rouble invested there could produce a thousandfold profits. Nearly all the inhabitants of Danilovka are political exiles, and Lapuchin enjoys privileged position among them, by rea son of the fact that the governor of the A report prepared by the executive

"If there were in every city a coteris of influencial men to whom one might go and say, 'Here is a discharged man, will you put up with him and give him a chance? They are sick of crime, sick of prisons, want to be normal and who will help.' The solution of this question lies within the business public.'

With regard to the early life of the criminal, Father Malloy, who has apart the better part of his life working to up-lift "criminal classes" and in prisons throughout the country, said:

"I do not know what goes to make up the psychology of the neapolitan begar, nor the bandits of Sicily, nor what strange beings may exist in the purities of Paris, but I do know the average American that I meet in prison, and there is no mystery about him. These American men are products of their age, of his skepticism and its extravagance, its desire for wealth and living. The futhers have earen sour grapes, and it has est the children's teeth on edge.

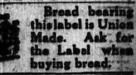

"There are two classes of men in prison who can be reclaimed, and it is absurd to think otherwise, although the trouble lies deep and needs patience in strong men. The tirst is that sad procession which started as homeless or wild boys, and who were sent to the 'parented' or 'reform' schools.

Church Apologist for War.

"The Christian Church has been the advocate of polygamy (in its earlier stages), at one time the Bishop of Rome actually advocated and permitted fornication and prostitution as a rite of the church; from the days of Joshua to the present hour it has been the stout and persistent apologist for and the carnage of the battle field for 2,000 years it not only permitted but justified by alleged divine maner thou the cruel traffic in human slavery it was the most potent defender of American slavery and because of the intense opposition of the Christian Church the early abolitionists were maltreated and outraged; it has never been the friend of woman, from the been the friend of woman, from the days of Constantine to the present hour, but has opposed her progress in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of protest in Canada recently by declar-sitralities and confident to the home and the hadchamber, and her willing submission to her maic lord and husband sovereign; it has been in all ages and is at the present time the opponent of international peace, advocating a false patriotism and hatred between nations. To prove this assertion one needs but read the history of modern war and witness the inspiration of the Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram Street Jesuit Church, in London, who raised such a storm of the Fram S nation, each egging on its communi-cants to the bloody battle field to setle questions of state that school boy ould agree upon without mutual war-

Church Ignores Worker.

But more serious than all these charges is the one that the church has never been the friend of the la-borer or the advocate of his rights, when such advocacy interfered with the financial resources of the pulpit or the material requirements of the organization. Is it not pitiful to note, even at this late date, that the outcry against corruption and graft so com-mon in political circles, was not first heard in the pulpits of the land; the preachers were not the first reformers or advocates of political decency and public purity.

"It is all too well known that the chief political corrupters are the principal pillars of the church, which is maintained by their munificence and benefacilos. They dare not speak elst their funds be withdrawn. The their funds be withdrawn. The church is the tool of the rich robbers of society in our day precisely as it was in the days of the mediaeval baronial lords.

Church Maligns Religion. "I am not maligning religion by such utterances. Rather does the church malign religion, and has done so in the course of her entire history. "I shall not hesitate to repeat these charges as often as may be necessary to teach the multitude that they must to teach the multitude that they made with all his accelerated in their religious. She fell to one side and her son, with theories and dare to face the truth out looking at her or saying a word in spite of pope or creed, heaven or continued the work which he had set in spite of pope or creed, heaven or hell. I say without fear that the worker need expect nothing from the church till he can prove that he can be of financial and material benefit to her. It is true, now that or-ganized labor has grown strong enough to battle with organized capi-tal, now that it can at least in some degree demand legislation and elect awmakers, the church has turned it ear to listen feebly to its complaints; now that its combined numbers have aggregated large funds for the prosaggregated large funds for the prosecution of its rights, the church begins to think that labor may be of some use to it, and in a sort of ginserly manner opens to it her lecture rooms, organizes labor branches and makes a certain appearance of demanding the redress of its wrongs. But the workers are deceived if they believe the church will ever be a true and trustful friend of their cause. She cannot be. Her financial requisites are too vast; even Rome, that depends upon Peter's pence, the religious robbery that keeps the poor still poorer, durst not defend the radical ashast at Socialism and hurls horrified fulminations against fix menacing approach.

kings of the air are coming down out of it. They are quitting the game. The strain on the nerves is too severe. No human being can stand it as a constant thing. Here is a partial list: PAULHAN-Intends devoting his

And now comes the unit too, them all, Hubert Latham. He, too, has appounced his retirement from Coupe Internationale d'Aviation with the French team this fall in America will be seen at aviation meets no ore. He says his nerves can't stand the drag constant flights puts upon them. Yet Latham has been called an "aerial acrobat" and a "cloud gymnast." He has been seen to go up in the face of a hurricane and wrestle with the wind while those on the

What is the Fear?

Glenn H. Custiss flies but rarely save to test his own machines. The Wright brothers fly none at 'all' save in trying out their biplanes. A Armstrong Drexel announces retirement from aviation meets, and Emile Dubonnet, the Frenchman, says it is too much for him.

What is this strain? Why this giving up the air game?

I have asked the question of several of the internationally known airmen in France, and the composite answer would be, boiled down:

"When we are flying death's shad-

"When we are flying death's shad-ow is just in front of us. We can always hear the rustle of his wings. There is never an instant when we can be sure that he will not turn and claim us."

can be sure that he will not turn and claim us."

Just before Graham-White, the noted English cloud-buzzer, left for America, he gave the following definition of the flying strain:

"It is the tension of fearing something will happen. It is the fear of the unexpected. The engine may fail, a stay may break, a coupling wire may snap. Any of these things could bring about a fearful fall. But the rush of air and the fact that one is merely high in the air has very little to do with the ordeal."

So, here is an authority who de-series high in the air has very fitte to do with the ordeal."

So, here is an authority who declares that flying is an "ordeal." And but for certain other signs, one might think the sport in a bad way. But a canvas of the dozen aeroplane schools centering about Paris brings out the following:

"Experience proves," said Roger Sommer, and every one agreed with him, "that flying will become easier and less of a strain; no more, for example, than one experiences in automobiling. Aeroplanes are on the eve of enormous development so far as reliability is concerned." reliability is concerned.

The Duke and Miss Elkins.

The romance between the American heiress, Miss Katherine Elkins, and the Duke Abruzzi, has filled more space in the Paris press than did the flood or the Franco-German war. On the same day one may read in different papers that Senator Elkins is in America, Antwerp, Paris and Vichy at the same instant; that the duke is dving of a broken heart in is in America. Antwerp, Paris and Vichy at the same instant; that the duke is dying of a broken heart in Milan or Venice, automobiling with Miss Elkins in Vienna and pleading with his cousin, the King of Italy, at Rome, all on the same day. The papers have printed the most unscrupulous lies imaginable, knowing them to be so when printing them. Yet the foreigner deplores the unreliability of the American newspaper, it yellowness," its shameless pursuit after people who only wish to be left alone.

One newspaper writer prints the following, hitting off the situation at the expense of his fellow newspaper men in France:

"The losing my mind, I swear! "Did I not see this morning these dispatches in three different papers?" Dover—Miss Elkins let herself into the water for the swim across the English Channel to Calaiz."

"Rome—It is announced as a certainty the marriage of the Duka des Abruzzes and Miss Annie Bowling, the expert swimmer, whose attempts to swim the channel have rendered her celebrated."

"Vichy—Wolffe, the famous swim—"The company of the state of the most subscriptions, at the same and pleading with Miss Elkins is said to be imminent."

"Oh, let us be delivered from these with Miss Elkins and the duke. "Way, save us from this missery? Miss Elkins becomes, whether she will or not, as much of a nuisand, and the duke. "They marry, and in that way, save us from this missery? Miss Elkins becomes, whether she will or not, as much of a nuisand, the way, save us from this missery? ailors and other American girls. Investigation into industrial condi-

Committee for districting the city.

Committee on publicity. Committee on finance. Committee on house.

Committee on label At the suggestion of the finance com. nittee the league is to give a concert and ball at the Grand Central Palace o help lace it on a financial basis thich the annual budget requires.

The work of the educational and oc'al committees should be greatly increased. In addition to classes in English, there should be lectures on various subjects, as well as dances and musicales, for it is of the utmost imortance to have the young girls real ite that the league not only tries to netter conditions in the trade, but that t offers them social and educational opportunities. Another happy feature of the education work of the league of the education work of the league will be the chorus, under the direction of Mrs. John L. Eliot, which all members are invited to join. There is no charge for the instruction given.

Arthur Caroti, the organizer for the Italian women, needs a large committee to help him in the work. The Italian women must be visited in their homes and social and educational evenings arranged for them. Members of the committee need not speak Italian, as they co-operate with Italian girls who speak English and act as interpreters.

Miss Melinda Scott, the new organizer of American girls, needs the co-operation of women interested in this work.

MAYOR ARRESTED FOR CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 2.—
Mayor Shank is constructively under arrest today and will appear in the city court tomorrow to answer a charge of cruelty to animals.

Last night Humane Officer Diets saw the mayor driving on the street and from the way the horse traveled believed that he had been improperly shod. He ordered the mayor to send the animal to a smith at once and to report to the city court tomorrow morning. The mayor did not make any protest, but admitted that the horse needed sheeing and will enter a plea of guilty.

The following contributions for the Weekly Pledge Fund were received during the week ending Saturday, October 1. The total for the week amounts to $322.55, when a great deal more was anticipated. It is needless to repeat again that unless the Comrades and supporters of The Call will show more regularity with the payment of their weekly pledges, it will show more regularity with the payment of their weekly pledges, it will show more regularity with the payment of their weekly pledges, it will sagain be necessary to open the columns of the paper for appeals for funds. We do not wish to do so, and have done everything in our power to avoid it. We have succeeded so far. It is up to all those who are on the great army of Call supporters to help us in our efforts. A few more months of sacrifice and The Call will smerry.

THE CANDIDATES.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties have made their nominations and have set their platforms to catch votes. What one will, the other will not. Consequently they figure on getting the votes from both sides, and whichever wins, capitalism cannot lose.

But the highly interesting thing is not the platforms, for they are built to be ignored. Candidates count with these two parties, and what counts especially is the education, training, or fitting for office which they received. You cannot separate a man from his environment, particularly his political environment. Mr. Stimson has unimpeachable financial connections. Mr. Dix is a financier himself, and it cannot be imagined that he will not be good to his own.

One big, curious, significant thing stands out from the recent conventions: neither of them said one word about the present condition of the working class, neither of them announced its readiness to deal with those problems which have their outward manifestation in strikes or in threats of strikes. As platforms, it is probable there were never presented to the intelligent people of this state documents more insultingly barren, more confessedly impotent than those which issued from Saratoga and Rochester.

What is the workingman going to do about it?

For twenty years, or, possibly more, the question of the wage worker has been an important one. The Democratic and Republi-can parties in the meantime have struggled with every question which concerns the various divisions of the capitalist class. Not once has either faced the big, real, vital issues that concern the working class. Both have been too cowardly, too evasive and too shifting. In the recent state conventions, when these questions of working class rights were fairly battering at the doors, they were worse they dodged the issue.

They felt they could do so, for workingmen themselves, slow to move, halting and uncertain in their demands, have asked for nothing outright. The capitalist class, on the contrary, has demanded and has received.

Is there any decent workingman who can vote for Dix or Stimson-who can support men running on such tickets after such conventions? Is there any workingman who has followed the convenons and who knows what really happened who can hope for any thing from such men?

Decidedly not. A more barefaced attempt at flimflam was never carried out.

The proceedings and deliberations of the Socialist party stand in direct contrast. Intelligent men AND WOMEN gathered together to select men who would represent their principles, not men who could fool the voters. You can contrast the men, contrast the latforms, contrast the promises, contrast everything, and you will find that the Socialist party is the only one which has honestly, courageously and rightly faced the problems.

Both Democrats and Republicans are Morgan-Ryan candidates. You know these two gentlemen. They have robbed and stripped New York more profitably than any other two that ever played the game of politics. They were the potent factors in the nominations made. The men selected were selected because they represented the big business interests.

It happens that the job of a mere workingman, the jobs of all workingmen, cannot be a big business interest or issue. So everything connected with the workingman has been ignored by every party except the Socialist party.

What will be the answer and the action of the working class to what was done at Saratoga and Rochester? Will it be weak submission, as in the past? Or will it be a fight to overthrow the crooked ring that now controls, the ring made up of Democrats and Republicans, with their candidates who are an insult and a threat to the workingmen of this state?

On the Socialist side is the finest ticket, and the best platform, ever put forth by any party in this state. Any workingman can support it. All workingmen should. A vote, by a workingman. which is not for the ticket headed by Charles Edward Russell, is a ote wasted. It is worse than that: it is an acceptance of the insult offered by the Democratic and Republican conventionsminated by those twins-of corrupt politics, Charles Murphy and Theodore Roosevelt-twins of infamy.

A CHANCE FOR ALL.

SUPPRESSING KNOWLEDGE. Fighting for a Principle

By ROBERT HUNTER.

Within the last few years we have seen many nerveless attempts to suppress Nocialist papers.

In Washington, in the clubs and in society there is much talk shout the need of suppressing Socialist papers.

People who have never even seen a Socialist paper or read a Socialist book will tell you how dangerous Socialist door trines are.

It is a frequent subject of conversation in the many little circles where the wealthy and powerful chance to meet.

It seems that men protect their class interests often by instinct.

They scent danger from afar, and even without knowing exactly what they suppress they strike by instinct that which endangers them.

In one of Carlyle's volunties he quoted some words of Voltaire which are striking true and significant.

In the period between 1751-1772 a group of French writers prepared any published the great encyclopedia.

The editors were all "radicals" and very much feared by the ruiling powers of that day.

And although the encyclopedia was merely an attempt to popularize facts upon every conceivable question the French king and his courtiers scented danger.

The story is very well told in the following lines describing a veonversation at dinner among the king and his innericite:

"One of Louis XV's domestics told me, says Voltaire, "that once, the king has a trip of the microtele that the strip propers the provided their classification of the class of the control, with five of sallpeire, well from this on gunpowder. Some one said that the best powder was made of sulphur, saltpetre and charcoal, in equal phur, saltpetre and charcoal in equal phur, saltpetre a one of charcoal, with five of saltpetre, well lawsuits were surprised to see the decision filtered, we'l evaporated, well crystallized, of them there.

"It is pleasant, said the Due de Niverhoit, that we who daily armse ourselves with killing particides in the park of t

By ALFRED 8, O'BRIEN.

Socialists seldom get encouragement from any source outside their own ranks, such as is implied in the following extract from an article written by Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, of Iowa, in The Outlook last week:

"It is not certain that the world will ever have time to acknowledge its inlebtedness to the men and women allowed themselves to be nominated for office without hope of being elected for the chance of getting public interest di-rected toward the shortcomings of our industrial and political life."

No direct reference is made to Socialism or Socialists in this tribute to those who are willing to sink personal success for the good of their fellowmen, nor is there any in the context unless it be in a previous reference to "some obscure political convention" which we have no right to assume. Notwithstanding this there are no people who have a better right to take these words of appreciation to themselves than have the men and women who are out to better conditions in this and other countries, under the banner of Socialism.

Coming from such a source, from a eader, even though he is an insurgent, of party which for many years has controlled the destiny of the United States and has done it through its relation to those interests which have nothing in common with the workingman, Senator Dolliver's admission of the good done is of more than passing interest. In addition to the encouragement to b obtained from his frank statement, there is to be found an answer to the slurring remark so frequently buried at the Socialist for "wasting his ballot by voting for a man that can't win." This has long been one of the favorite sallies made by men voting the old party tickets to whom being on the winning side is more important than to be on the right side. Such raillery has had no effect on the Socialist, but it has been such a longstanding "argument" against voting the Socialist ticket that a good "come back." such as is found by reading between the lines of Senator Dolliver's acknowledgment of the good done by men and somen who have had the moral courage to stand for a principle even if the stood alone, is thrice welcome. Such words, coming from a man of Senato Dolliver's position, will be more convineing to the general run of workingmen who would rather vote for what they don't want than throw their vote away
