From a defense of his actions Briand turned to an attack upon the Socialists, whose taunts he felt bitterly, he, himself, being a renegade from their ranks. whose taunts he felt hitterly, he, himself, being a renegade from their ranks. Facing the Socialists, he asked them where was liberty, was it with the syndicalists, who, he charged, refuse men freedom to work, and who, he further declared, hunted down and ill treated men anxious to earn a living?

"That," he declared, "is tyranny. Its supporters are liberty's greatest enemies. Nor can I recognize any political liberty in the spectacle you are presenting."

Socialists continually taunted and jeered Briand.

40 CENTS A POUND RETAIL FOR BACON

CHICAGO. Oct. 25.—"Too much prosperity" is one of the reasons, and the principal one, given here today by packers, as an explanation why bacon, for the first time in its history, is quoted at retail for 40 cents a pound.

"The people want the very best and they are willing to pay for it," is the way the packers put it. There is, they say, a shortage of fancy hogs, but point out that other cuts of pork are cheap and that both beef and mutton are plentiful and low.

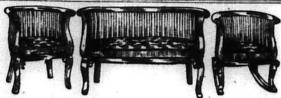

"There has for a long time been a scarcity of the finest hogs," declared a representative of Swift & Co. "The only reason for the advance, however, is that so many will eat only the very best and their heavy demand has caused the rise in fancy stock."

hard to see by the dismissal from the finance department of Dr. John A. Leighton, official veterinarian. Commissioner of Accounts, Fosdick, explained yesterday.

In his report, Commissioner Fosdick declares that in May of this year, the board of water supply purchased 100 horses.

The price to be paid was $325 a horse, with the right to reject any or all of the horses at the end of a mofith.

The horses were bought for the horse, with the right to reject any or all of the horses at the end of a mount.

The horses were bought for the Aqueduct from Fiss, Doerr & Carron. When the horses were selected Douglas I. McKay, chief of the board of water supply; Police Sergeant Fred E. Walker, Patrolman John F. Roose and Dr. John A. Leighton were present on behalf of the city. At the end of the probationary period none of the horses were returned. Dr. Leighton certified the bill.

Commissioner Fosdick employed an expert veterinarian, Dr. George C. Brotherton of No. 264 West 126th street to examine the horses and determine their condition. The expert valued one horse as low as $8.50, and put the average at $215.

Chief McKay, Sergeant Walker and Patrolman Roosa insisted that the present condition of the horses was due to the hard usage which they had received and the unskillful riding of the men.

Fosdick's report declares that several of the horses were above the age specified.

Considerable influence was exerted, it is said, to keep Leighton in his job.

The horses were bought for the sing; it acted, and acted with esprit and abandon. And the several solo artist dited into their proper places in the stage pletures, assuming no more nor no less of conspicuousness than was assigned them by composer and librettist.

The minor cast and chorus were, for the most part, in good form, but the big ensembles were at times ill balanced; this, however, frequent repetition of the opera undoubtedly will correct. Be it said that the chorale, "Undici, Dodici, Tredici" (Eleven, Twelve, Thirteen), the letter trio—the arietta. What Comrade Russell Says

Among other things he spoke on the Socialist Press. His words are well worth repeating. They go right to the core of the problem.

Let me say a word on literature. Its most important expression is the press. The Socialists must work up a strong press. This is absolutely necessary. With the Socialist newspapers reaching thousands of people every day we could with Socialist editorials, articles and news stories is a powerful weapon in the hands of the working people.

"While on this point. I cannot are the stories is a powerful weapon in the hands of the working people.

the magnificent work of The Call. The paper is small, as yet, but it does much, nevertheless. The working people of the East should not fail to give it their hearty support."

That talk of Russell's goes right to the point. The press must be built up. That is what he says, and Russell ought to

He has achieved fame as a journalist and his experience makes him competent to speak on the subject.

Are you going to help build up the Press?

That is the greatest task before the Socialists of America. Today they must do that SO THEY MAY REACH ALL THE PEOPLE TOMORROW.

You. Comrade reader of THE CALL, should help in this important work. You should help build up The Call by getting it more readers—by increasing its circulation.

is being given another try-out. There is to be poking into the cancer of Chinatown, street women are being hurried and hustled, the saloons and cafes are again being "shaken up."

Those who have seen various "re form" administrations come and go in this town, know what it wid all amount to.

With this as a slogan Captain "Big Bill" Hodgins, of the Elizabeth street police station, and the men under him, began this morning the actual work of cleaning out the Chinese work of cleaning out the Chinese quarter of the city. From now on after midnight no white man or woman will be allowed in the little crooked streets that thread the lower East Side, unless he or she has actual and important business there. In that case the invader of the forbidden precinct will be executed by one of the rumpt. will be escorted by one of the numer-ous policemen who are to keep watch and ward on the peace of the locality. By 1 e'clock this morning ever sightseeing automobile was out of the district, and, according to the police all barrooms were closed, and all white frequenters of the place ousted. One of the orders issued by Deputy Commissioner Driscoll in his encroachment upon the free and easy methods of Chinatown looks to the joss houses and other places con-structed and maintained for the sole purpose of getting visitors' money. The commissioner has said that these will no longer be tolerated, and he has threatened punishment to any one who shall dare disobey his or-ders. This means the taking away of a great source of revenue to the in-habitants of that section of the city, and brings one of its most pictures que methods of business to a standstill. The sight-seeing automobile men have also been ordered to keep out of the district after midnight, and they have signified their willingness to comply with the order.

Election Night Reform.

A big fuss was also made yester day over the fact that Mayor Gayno had refused to give the big Broadway restaurants special permits allowing them to sell intoxicants all night on election night. This was only his duty, but it was considered quite extraordinary yesterday that he This is the hardest single blow that the Mayor's anti-sil-night policy has struck the proprietors of the big hotels and lobster palaces. Election night has been counted on by these places to turn them more profit than any other of the year with the excep-tion of New Year's eve. Tables have been held at handsome remiums time out of mind for these nights, and in some of the more luxuriously appointed places the waiters have been unable to hear order on these festive occasions for anything less expensive than "wine." It has been the custom for the seating capacity to be sold out weeks in advance.

FOR REFORM SPELL

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 25.—
One of the orgest verdicts ever awarded in Westchester county for the loss of a in Westchester county for the loss of a supreme court allowed Thomas Bratton $10,000 for the loss of his left leg. The verdict is against the Henry Steers, Incorporates, railroad contractors, and he was employed by that company at Snake Hill on May 21, 1900, when the accident occurred. Bratton, according to the evidence, was in charge of a work train. He was in the act of coupling two dirt cars when some one released the brake and the car ran him down. He sued for $50,000.

A PLAGUE ON BOTH YOUR HOUSES!

Mr. Roosevelt charges Mr. Dix with having been a director in a company that formed part of a trust. And Mr. Dix vehemently denies the allegation.

Mr. Roosevelt charges Mr. Dix with forcing his workingmen to work for him long hours for low wages. Whereupon Mr. Dix causes, his workingmen to sign a statement to the effect that he is a model employer, in fact a paragon of capitalistic generosity.

Honest and sensible men, and particularly workingmen, will attach as little importance to the charges as to the denials.

The man who was the intimate political friend of the late Edward H. Harriman, and the protector as well as the protege of the Steel Trust, should be the very last man to tax other people with their trust connections.

And the man who virtually pronounced the death sentence upon the leaders of the Western Miners' Federation has no right to tax any employer with paying low wages for long hours of labor. When he pronounced Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone to be "undesirable kept pretty well to its adopted policy to mission. citizens" he knowingly and willfully played into the hands of all the labor skinning mining corporations of the West.

But if Mr. Roosevelt's charges against Mr. Dix are unseemly and positively dishonest, Mr. Dix's denials are equally unseemly and hardly less dishonest.

As a capitalist it is Mr. Dix's business, his special economic function, to make money. "Honestly," of course. He must avoid getting into collision with the law. It is the special function of men like Mr. Root and Mr. Stimson—with whom Mr. Roosevelt, of Pachydern, or kleked in the pants by a Democratic Donkass. course, has never had any political or social intercourse—to keep a Democratic Donkass men like Mr. Dix from getting into collision with the law. But within the bounds of the law it is Mr. Dix's business and duty to make all the money he can. If he can make more money by joining trust, it is his business and his sacred capitalistic duty to join a trust. But if the trust is pronounced illegal by the courts and its dissolution is ordered, that is not the fault of Mr. Dix and his trust partners. That is the fault of the legal advisers of the trust—men like Mr. Root and Mr. Stimson—who bungled their part of the work either in the organization of the trust or in their defense of it before the courts.

If Mr. Dix did join a trust, he did nothing particularly blame worthy when judged by the ethical standards of the class to which he and Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Root and Mr. Stimson belong. And if he did not join a trust, there was no particular merit in his abstention. Whatever he did or did not do, he merely pursued his inter-

For the same reasons it is Mr. Dix's function as an employer of labor to obtain labor at the lowest possible cost. If he pays low wages for long hours of labor he does exactly what every employer of labor is striving to do. And if he pays fairly decent wages for a comparatively short working day he does what no employer of labor desires to do and what no employer of labor does, unless he is comlled to do so by the superior organization of his men or the exceptional conditions of the labor market.

The statement purporting to have been issued by Mr. Dix's ployes signifies nothing. Such statements have been issued befor example, by the employes of the Homestake Mine, when rst was running for office. Now the employes of the Homestake Mine are locked out, in fact, have been locked out for several past, for exercising their legal right of belonging to a labor mization. Mr. Dix's men, it is reported, have no organization. organization. Mr. Dix's men, it is reported, and nothing. The if this is so, their statement signifies even less than nothing. The statement is couched in the most general terms. It tells nothing about the actual earnings of the men and their actual hours of work. And unless we know at least these things, we know nothing as to e condition of the men working in Mr. Dix's factories.

But in any case, whether Mr. Dix did or did not belong to a trust, and whether Mr. Dix is or is not an oppressor of labor, is there any issue between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Dix as to the only tion that matters? Do not Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Dix stand the maintenance of the same capitalistic social order which breeds trusts on the one hand, and long hours and low pay on the Does Mr. Roosevelt want to abolish the trusts together with the conditions that inevitably produce the trusts—the capitalistic ownership of industry? Or does Mr. Dix want to abolish ively long hours of labor to primary condition for these, namely, wage-labor?

It is perfectly natural for Mr. Roosevelt to charge Mr. Dix with the crimes of the capitalist system, for Mr. Roosevelt wants deprive Mr. Dix of working class votes. And it is perfectly nat-Mr. Dix to deny Mr. Roosevelt's charges, for Mr. Dix just now wants these working class votes very badly. But is it natural, we ask, that intelligent working men should cast their votes either for Mr. Roosevelt's party or Mr. Dix's party?

As upholders of the capitalist system, it is just the thing for Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Dix to make their controversy one of a personal nature. But intelligent working reasonal nature.

sonal nature. But intelligent workingmen know that the conditions under which they suffer—high prices, low wages, and excessive labor are not due to the evil nature of any particular man or set of men.

These conditions are the results of the private ownership and control of industry, are, in fact, of its very essence. With intelligent workinga this is not a personal question, but a social question. And by voting for the Socialist party they will register a protest not only against Mr. Dix and Mr. Roosevelt, not only against the Democratic and Republican parties, but also against this entire capitalist system itation and oppression, trusts and monopolies, boundless exploitation and oppression, trusts and incompetes, tall. By ng for the Socialist party, they will be saying, in effect, to both Roosevelt and Mr. Dix: "A plague on both your houses! We, workers, the creators of the nation's wealth, are organizing and oting—and if necessary will fight, too—for the overthrow of the stire inhuman system of which both of you are such worthy reprentatives!"

We have been requested to call attention to the fact that Social-ndidates for public office have to sign a resignation blank be-the election. This resignation is placed in the hands of the cials, and if any candidate who is elected violate of the party officials, and if any candidate who is elected violates y of the party pledges his resignation is handed in and his withward from office demanded. We comply with the request. But confess that we do not attach very great importance to this produce. If any man should prove a traitor in office, he may, very sly, also have the hardihood to ignore this resignation, which is legally binding on him. After all, fidelity to Socialist principle and the safeguarded by means of formulas legal experts all the safeguarded by be safeguarded by means of formulas, legal or extra-legal, movement has had its traitors. But a healthy movement tes them and grows stronger thereby. The decisive thing is litty to principle and incorruptibility of the rank and file of latist party.

that the New Nationalism is simply a catchy phrase. We also disagree with those who think it means the coming of a "one-man rule" in this country.

On the other hand, we believe that it is indicative of the ripest tendency of capitalist development in this country. It is tremendously significant.

We are not concerned about the name. Nor do we care for the author of the name. It is the thing itself, the tendency which it represents, with which we are concerned.

And here it is. The New Nationalism simply means the beginning of a conscious, systematized movement, toward the extension of government is made in the nation. As the editor of The Call said meme time ago. The government is more and more becoming the dominant connection in the nation."

Indeed, the editor of The Call struck a first note when he said: "State is conscious, systematized movement, to ward the extension of government is more and more becoming the dominant connection in the nation."

A BROOKLYN STRIKE.

Two opposing currents are plainly to be seen in this field of politics today. One makes for growing dissension. The other moves toward closer harmony.

The Republican and Democratic parties are torn to pieces. Not even the fact that victory stares them in the face, if they should manifest the disposition to grasp their great opportunity, can bring the factions together.

For that matter there never was a united Democracy, unless it was urder Tilden or Cleveland, since the Civil was formed in the party today, thoroughly bankrupt, does not care to become a party nationally.

party today, thoroughly bankrupt, does not care to become a party nationally.

Tapmany Hall, for instance, can hardly bope to control the President of the United States. Tammany Hall is incapable of statesmanship, and what Mail is incapable of statesmanship, and what Mail Hanna was able to do with his figure head, McKinley, Murphy would hardly attempt to do with one of his benchmen.

Besides that, Tammany Hall is built upon the theory of taking care of its own "pickings" and not trenching upon preserves conceded by the money powers to other political buccameers.

Tammany Hall is a political benevolent.

Tammany Hall is built upon the theory of taking care of its own throughout the union. The few remains the contractors in their turn make their "hands" the "bosses" of their jobs, hy letting them do piece-work. They serves conceded by the money powers to other political buccameers.

They pay them the lowest prices possible, so that one out of a hundred men will get the high mark of $7 to $8 a week. Of course, there are a few exerctions, but inaction.

It is altogether likely that the Socialist party will, in 1912, reach its maturity. Particularly so if the party breaks into Congress and elects representatives to several more state legislatures.

That the Socialist party has had its growing pains it would be futile to deny its course may be marked by the wreeks of the enterprises launched by those who tried to divert it to their necessitions.

TAMPA LAW.

Editor of The Call:

Now that so many eyes are turning toward Tampa, Florida, as the seat of a labor war, it may not be amiss to some of the atrocities committed there in the name of the law against striking eigar makers ten years ago.

At that time, as in this instance, the strikers soon found themselves in a contest, not with their employers alone, but with the entire capitalist alone, but with the entire capitalist.

Another way in which the capitalists of Tampa aided the manufacturers in breaking the backs of their slaves was to deny them food. The men got so low in funds that they had to obtain so seldom is it that such a poem as food on credit. Their friends established economical kitchens and cooked of The Call, appears in the Socialist of The Call, appears in the Socialist fence, it for them. But the citizens' com-mittee were exasperated at the fact that any oustiders should help the strikers and decided to teach the meddlers a lesson. They sent delegates and policemen in the name of the law and order to put an end to the eco-nomical kitchens. After these were done away with the men were obliged to secure in rations on the street what raw food they could and cook it with-out fire as best they could, or eat it raw. This dealing out of rations the authorities also attempted to stop by the same militant methods. However, they found one man equal to the occasion. Though a foreigner, he knew the laws of this country, and when the policeman warned him not when the policeman warned him not to deal out any more fresh meat on the street "or they would destroy his wagon for him." he defied them to do it and assured the hungry strikers and their wives that he would deliver meat their wives that he would deliver meat day. The authorities thought it wise not to meddle any more with this "meddleri"

But perhaps the most flagrant outrage committed in the name of the law was the abduction of the strike leaders—an act which at the time incensed the reading public all over the United States against the authorities at Tampa. Late one night the police ruided by the puppets of the manufacturers, raided the homes of the leaders and kidmaped each and every member of the strikers' advisory board. Under the cover of darkness these leaders were leaded on a vessel, toted to for-hain't no learned prinserples; plain ol' Stick-in-the-Mu blunt, plain man like you an' you ignorant of cud; like this wise chap from town; But I'll make things you sell go up, things you buy come do I ain't no statesman who can talk I My hans too stiff to hol' a pen. made to hol' a spade:

Them ten-foot eddicated words can't wallop roun';
But I'll make things you sell go up,
things you buy come down."

The fair ground echoed wild with el and loud huzzas thereat; For who can ask a better scheme statesmanship than that?

And next week at the polls he best rivel high and dry—
But things we sell continue low, things we buy are high.
